

George Carr Weds Grants Pass Girl

With the arrival of a wife from Grants Pass late yesterday afternoon comes the news of the marriage of George Carr, local young man, to Miss Virginia Green of the northern city.

Carr, one of the best known young men of Klamath Falls, where he has made his home since 1917, is the son of Mrs. Ella Carr of this city. Until recently he has been employed at Grants Pass with the state highway commission.

The bride is one of the popular young women of Grants Pass and on several occasions has visited in Klamath Falls where she has many friends.

The wedding was performed at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday night with just immediate relatives and friends as attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Carr are expected to arrive here this evening and will make their future home in this city.

If you don't get everything coming to you maybe you should be glad.

NEW EQUIPMENT IS ORDERED FOR LOCAL OIL WELL

Drilling to be Resumed at Siemen's test When new Ragline Arrives

Drilling at the well of the Klamath Oil company, known as the Siemen's well, is expected to be resumed within the next week or ten days. A. J. Lyle, stockholder in the company, returned during the week from a trip to San Francisco where he arranged for the purchase of a 2500 foot manilla rope, or "rag line" as it is known in the oil fields.

The rag line weighs 3900 pounds according to tests. The line is being shipped from an eastern warehouse and immediately it arrived here, drilling will resume at the well, which is now down 2000 feet.

Began six years ago, the well has seen a series of misadventures that have all but resulted in its abandonment. Its finances were wiped out when the First State and Savings bank failed and since that time the financial burden has rested almost wholly upon the shoulders of Ed Bloomingcamp, local capitalist.

About three years ago, an exceptional oil showing was found in the well and substantial offers for its purchase were turned down.

After the oil showing, a water strata was penetrated which slowed up operations. Then the tools were lost in the hole and an eleven months fishing job ensued, the venture being successfully consummated by Driller C. E. Randall.

Equipment at the well consists of a Star rig with standard derrick. The hole is now down 2000 feet, with 6 1/2 inch casing to the bottom of the hole. A six months under-reaming job has just been completed.

The rag line was secured at the request of Driller C. E. Randall, who did not want to take chances with a steel cable, fearing that it might cut the casing.

Drilling will be resumed when the rag line arrives and the hole will be balled dry. If it is found that the water has been shut off a test of the formation will be made.

MEDFORD QUINT WORKS HARD TO WIN FROM K. F.

Fast Aggregation from Valley Piles up Score of 39 to 13 in Game

Outplayed but not outfought. Klamath county high school went down to defeat last night before the superior team play of Medford high school, 39 to 13.

It was a great game, from the spectator's standpoint, and from the box office point of view too, for the gymnasium was nearly filled with Klamath rooters and a few Medford hooters who made up for their lack of numbers by their noise. It was a game, in which a new team, dubbed to lose by a lopsided score fought like trojans to keep the score down. And they did. Medford had to fight for every basket she made.

It was a far better exhibition of basket ball on Klamath's part, than was displayed in the Ashland game several weeks ago. The team worked smoother, it had more spirit and refused to give in, even when on the short end of the score from the first quarter to the end.

Klamath's 13 points were distributed among the center and the two forwards. Barnes made five points, Hall, four points and Stewart, four points.

It seemed as though every time Herriott of Medford tossed a ball toward the basket it flew there as though magnetized. Herriott, alone, made eight points more than was scored by the entire Klamath team. He tallied 21 points, and was by far the outstanding player in the game.

Barnes and Hall again played stellar games for their school. The contest was enlivened at one point when Barnes, believing that a Medford player had tripped him, clenched his fists and started after the player. Referee Young prevented a possible fight by grabbing Barnes by the arm.

Klamath made its best showing in the first quarter, when in a flurry of fast plays, two baskets were netted. The score at the end of the quarter was 6 to 4.

The lineup:
Barnes (5) c Laing (4)
Hall (4) f Melvin (10)
Stewart (4) f Herriott (21)
Yarnes (0) g Williams (0)
Cofer (0) g White (3)
Total 13 Total 39

Yancy substituted for Cofer in last quarter. Dunn substituted for Melvin in 4th quarter. Archer for Herriott in 4th quarter. Anderson for White in 4th quarter. Referee Young.

STORM SHATTERS COAST BUILDINGS

The damage done by the storm surges, however, was nothing as compared to the benefit that the disturbance brought. It rained 1.18 inches at both San Francisco and San Jose last night, while streams of water poured down the parched Mount Wilson arroyos in southern California. Los Angeles was given .46 inches last night while the fall at San Diego was 1.5 inches. There was 62 inches of snow at the government measuring station at Summit in the Sierras last night. It was still falling there today with a rising barometer.

Last night's rains brought the fall above normal in virtually every section of northern and central California with the exception of the lower Sacramento valley. The sharp increase in precipitation does not appear to have created any major flood hazard although providing for an adequate supply of irrigation and hydro-electric water for the coming dry months.

An estimate of the storm damage showed a series of sea walls shattered at Santa Cruz, the Lurline pier and Sutro Baths on the San Francisco ocean shore battered somewhat and considerable destruction along some of the southern California beaches.
