Forty-three years of research with respect to lubrication and an intimate study of motor cars since the first one was constructed have made "Union Oil of California" able to offer the best in

Aristo Motor Oil

Non-Carbonizing Western

Aristo Motor Oil is all lubrication, containing neither paraffin nor asphalt. The hard, flinty abrasive "carbon" that many motorists find on valves, cylinder heads and spark plugs after a few thousand miles of use never comes from this fine Western oil.

The small amount of residue that Aristo leaves is a fine, soft, fluffy substance, most of which blows out with the exhaust.

Motors in good condition which are lubricated with Aristo, therefore, run several years without the troubles, lay-ups and expense so often due to "carbon."

A further preventative of "carbon" is the use of non-detonating Union Gasoline with Aristo Motor Oil. This combination is probably the most effective that is known.

Senator Stanfield Renders Great Service To Oregon

In an address, read before the Portland Advertising Club, Wednesday, April 21, 1926, by A. D. Leedy, United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield said: "When I entered the U. S. Senate, March 4, 1921, I realized that financial relief must be extended to agriculture through the banks and loan companies that make agricultural loans, to carry them over the period of depression, then prevailing, until the farmer's notes could be reduced or paid.

Helps Promote $50,000- 000 Bank Pool

"Early in 1921, I introduced a bill to amend the War Finance Corporation Act, to permit this war-time institution to extend relief to these agricultural banks and loan companies. Large banking interests of the East protested against this amendment because they did not want the Government to enter the banking business. "They proposed a $50,000,000 pool instead, and I spent much time helping to form this pool, but, while helpful, it proved inadequate and only afforded slight relief.

Stanfield Comes to Rescue With Amendment
"After the partial failure of the pool, I insisted upon and secured passage of my amendment to the War Finance Corporation Act, and under this authorization the War Finance Corporation made advances for agricultural relief, amounting to $203,000,000, of which the banks, trust and loan companies of Oregon that serve agriculture received $6,694,000, nearly all of which has been repaid. I am proud to state.

Drafted into Relief Service by Treasury Department
"As soon as the War Finance Corporation was prepared to function under this law, and at the request of the Treasury Department, I went West, where I spent months assisting and advising with the bankers, thereby enabling them to procure the needed help quickly and before it was too late to save them. Fortunately, very few failed in Oregon in comparison to other states.

Forced to Keep Silent to Protect the Banks
"Much was said about my absence from the Senate during this time, but I was forced to keep silent and go about my work without referring to my absence or mission, because if the people had known why I was in the West and what I was doing, suspicion would have been directed to every bank I entered, and to every banker with whom I talked. Until the banks could turn their frozen paper into liquid assets, my silence was imperative to avoid embarrassment to them and the defeat of the relief needed and sought.

Attendance Record Since Crisis Uninterrupted
"The storm has now passed. All of our banks are in a sound condition, and I am at liberty to tell why I was away from my seat in the Senate during this time. Since this period, however, my attendance in the Senate compares very favorably with that of any other senator, and, during the last Congress was very near the highest mark. Answering the roll call is, however, in itself no proof of real service."

(Stanfield-for-Senator Campaign, E. D. Cusick, Mgr.)
