Other certificates will be issued as the balance of the one hundred members pay the amounts due on their memberships.
The local club will be one of the very few to be completed and ready to play without having to issue bonds to build the course and the clubhouse.
The directors are confident that they will be able to finish the work necessary to play on the links and erect the needed buildings without a dollar of indebtedness, this being largely due to the generosity of E. R. Reames, in donating to the club the 165 acres of land on which to construct the course.
It is expected that play will be allowed early in July, depending on the condition of the grass, which has been seeded for some weeks.

Decency, Convenience, Comfort and Habit Demand That You Should Wear Clothes—

appearing sans them except at some bathing resorts, may lead to your arrest. What kind of clothes are you wearing? Are they fashioned by tailors, master-craftsmen, artists studying your topography and artfully combining beauty of line and fabric to enhance or disguise your contours as the case may require, thus creating a harmonious ensemble? Do you have that satisfied feeling when putting on your clothes of being tastefully, irreproachably dressed or have you to offer apologies for not being able to wear good tailor-made clothes? Custom made clothes manufactured by me right here in Klamath vastly superior tho they are, do not cost any more than the better grades of readymade clothes. We have the full complement of every conceivable imported and domestic material in the latest colorings such as the new Bengal and Malay shades in browns, Mojave tans, heath tones and gable colorings, that will be so popular this coming season.

This picture, based on Peter B. Kyn's latest novel, not only blazes a new trail in outdoor photoplays, being possessed of a plot that develops along novel and original lines, but it is as modern and up-to-date as the newest Paris gown, dealing as it does with the West of today and employing such startling innovations as airplanes and machine guns.

A story of action, romance, mystery and intrigue is "The Enchanted Hill," which gets its title from the fact that the ranch house, around which the action centers, has been built on a very high hill commanding a magnificent view of the country for miles around.

The central character is Lee Purdy, a bold, brave and romantic ex-army aviator who comes to New Mexico, buys a cattle ranch and makes two discoveries. The first is that Gall Ormsby, owner of the adjoining ranch, is just about the most beautiful girl he has ever laid eyes on, and second, that for some mysterious reason a gang of raiders are very anxious to get rid of him and get control of his land.

Lee's fight to hold his property and his efforts to win the lovely Gall provide no end of excitement and not a little fun. It is spirited entertainment all the way through, helped along by the skillful playing of a stellar cast that includes Jack Holt, Florence Vidor, Noah Beery and Mary Brian.

At The Liberty

The latest and greatest of those amazing police dog pictures comes to the Liberty theatre tomorrow. It is "Wild Justice," a dramatic thriller of the lonely snow-clad North country. It stars Peter the Great, the largest police dog on the screen and generally reputed to be unexcelled in intelligence.

This new romance of the snows unfolds an exciting drama woven around a mysterious murder. Peter the Great has unrivaled opportunity to display his remarkable athletic ability and his almost uncanny understanding of human emotions.

It is worthy of note that in "Wild Justice" the dog star was directed by Chester M. Franklin, who has made some of the most successful dog pictures thus far presented. The supporting cast is equally worthy of note, being headed by such players as George Sherwood, Frances Teague and Frank Hagney.

It is certain that "Wild Justice" will present a splendid entertainment for all dog lovers—and their name is legion—between the ages of six and thirty-six.
