The High Cost Of Excess Weight

Excess weight in motor trucks is expensive. It increases the purchase price and it costs as much to carry as an equal weight of pay load. Its cost is even greater, because it must be carried all the time.

Graham Brothers trucks have a larger proportion of payload to chassis weight than is usually available in their respective capacities. Careful buyers are giving this due recognition, as their marked preference for Graham Brothers trucks indicates.

Built by the largest exclusive truck makers in the world—powered by Dodge Brothers dependable engine—these trucks are capable of an exceptional amount of profitable work over a long period of life.

At the PINE TREE

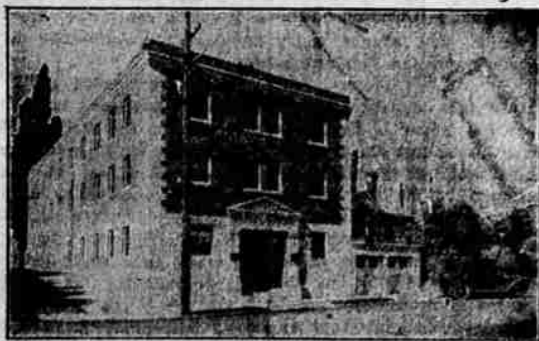

Florida jammed before the season opens. A glass of water, fifteen cents. Baggage, five to seven days late. Scores sleeping in hotel lobbies. Hundreds living in tents. Freight embargo. Merchants unable to procure stock. Stenographers making seven hundred per cent in real estate deals and riding in Rolls Royces. Thousands of Iowans selling farms and slivvering to Florida. Millionaires, clerks, Broadway stars, speculators, housewives, and chorus girls pouring in. The Eldorado of today. The New Klondike!

Against this seething, roaring, infinitely colorful background, Thomas Meighan has made a great comedy-drama. "The New Klondike" was written for him by the well-known humorist, Ring Lardner. Lila Lee appears opposite the star in this picture which plays at the Pine Tree theater today.

BACK FROM LODGE

Mrs. Weston Kilbourne, manager of the hotel White Pelican, returned from the White Pelican lodge this afternoon where she spent the week-end.

Why Is the Printer In Disrepute ?

In the first place—he is not. The joke is on the suspicious chap who says he would never under any circumstances place an order with a printer without getting a price in advance.

Often he's the busy business man who thinks in terms of service and performance rather than in terms of exact dollars and cents—until it comes to placing an order for printing. Then it's different. He'll waste fifty dollars worth of time placing an order for $17.50 worth of printing.

Why? We confess we don't know why. This man buys an automobile, an office full of furniture or a half dozen typewriters and pays little or no attention to the subject of price, but he'll fire the clerk who calls up the printer and orders five thousand second sheets without getting a price first.

This suspicious policy on the part of some business men has not had the effect of creating lower prices for printing. It has had the effect of weeding out the fellows who don't know their costs and has driven them to seek jobs with the more business-like printing houses who demand an honest profit, nothing more.

The man who is afraid to trust printers as a class will make more money for himself in the long run if he selects a reputable printing house and employs them to do his work, granting them the right to make an honest profit and deliver high class work.

We have a lot of customers like that, and they stay with us because it pays.
