

LIQUOR QUESTION LEADING PRIMARY ELECTION ISSUE

Ohio Solons Regard it as the Main Object of Interest to the Voters

COLUMBUS, O., July 21.—(AP)—Prohibition promises to be the dominant issue in the August 19 Ohio primary campaign for the nomination of both republican and democratic candidates for the United States senator and for the republican governor.

In the gubernatorial contests this issue is expected to be more pronounced as these two contests are expected to develop the most general interest. While it also will be a factor in the republican senatorial battle, the fact that Senator Willis has seven opponents lessens his concern about being renominated.

Contest Between Sexes
The contest between former Senator Alice Pomerene and Miss Florence E. Allen, supreme court judge, probably will be fought mainly on the wet and dry issue, the liberal forces supporting Mr. Pomerene and the dry advocates backing Miss Allen. A third candidate is Charles E. Wharton. Mr. Pomerene also is drawing the fire of organized labor, particularly the railroad organizations which opposed him for re-election four years ago.

The fight between Mr. Pomerene and Miss Allen also stands out as the first real contest between a woman and a man candidate for a major office in Ohio. Four years ago a woman seeking election as United States senator as an independent received only a few thousand votes.

Willis' Opposition
The seven candidates opposing Senator Willis represent virtually every form of opposition. Five are avowed liberals. They are former Senator Charles Dick of Akron; former congressman and former secretary of state Charles Q. Hildibrant, of Wilmington; Attorney A. J. Florini of Dayton; former State Senator Thomas W. Latham of Moreauville; and John D. Alcorn of Cincinnati. Of these Mr. Hildibrant is considered likely to be most generally favored by the liberals.

Two of Senator Willis' opponents are farmers and drys like himself. They are George L. Watson of Marango, and Lloyd E. Price of Van Wert.

While there are twelve republican candidates for governor, political leaders pick Secretary of State Thad H. Brown of Columbus; Myers Y. Cooper of Cincinnati; State Treasurer Harry S. Day of Fremont, and Joseph B. Sieber of Akron, as the chief contenders. Mr. Cooper and Mr. Day are both recognized drys. Mr. Brown is expected to receive liberal support generally. Mr. Sieber, supported by the Ku Klux Klan two years ago, placed second in a large field.

Donahy Asks Third Term
Governor Vic Donahy, who is seeking a third term nomination, has three democratic opponents. One is Alfred P. Sandles of Ottawa, former state secretary of agriculture, who is being supported by former Governor James M. Cox. The other candidates are James C. B. Beatty of East Liverpool, pottery broker, running on an anti-Volstead law platform, and J. H. Kuffman, former secretary of the state tax commission.

At the PINE TREE

John Barrymore in "The Sea Beast" comes to the Pine Tree theater tomorrow for a run of two days. The picture, adapted from Herman Melville's "Moby Dick" is acclaimed as the most important photoplay of the year. It deals with the New England whalers of 1849 who, in their clipper ships, carried the American flag over the seven seas. It is said to have done for this heroic chapter in American history what "The Covered Wagon" did for the western pioneers and "The Iron Horse" did for the building of the railroads.

Barrymore, who has not been seen in pictures since, as "Beau Brummel" he won the gold medal for the greatest acting of the 1924 season, has contributed another masterpiece of acting to the screen in the role of Ahab Ceeley, the fighting sailor whose towering pride and mighty strength carried him through blistering passion and murderous adventure.

The sub-debs are five pretty young girls with a classy and expensive wardrobe in which they present ensemble dancing equal to Winter Garden Ziegfeld productions. Every foot, hand and head is in unison.

Billy Barlow is an equilibrist of more than ordinary ability and does several hair raising tricks with apparent ease.

Buddy Delcach, who styles his entertainment as "Polka Patter and Pans," will amuse all who witness him dancing.

Oliver and Van, a comedy act, will undoubtedly prove their advance notices as real laugh makers.

McGarry and Dixon have a penchant for dancing and they show grace and nimbleness in the art of terpsichore in which they display their ability to the best advantage. The act will amuse.

Men More Religious Than Women, Claim

LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—Canon Marquis of Normandy, the only marquis in holy order, says women are not as religious as men.

"Women have grown worse in the last fifty years, while the attitude of men toward religion has improved," declared the canon, who is still preaching, although he is 80 years old. "I think many modern women have too material and artificial an outlook on life—perhaps it is the reaction from the greater freedom."

The venerable canon says the great need of the established church in England is more vigorous men in its pulpits and he urges the laity to assist the church in paying better salaries. He says parsons can not support families on $1,000 a year.

Actor Dropped From Cast Of Religious Play

Faversham Changed Words, Complaint of Leaders

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—(AP)—William Faversham, the actor, who has been portraying the role of the Christ in this season's presentation of Hollywood's annual religious play, was dropped from the cast following last night's performance. The play management charged that Faversham broke his contract by refusing to attend rehearsals, in addition the actor is alleged to have made several unauthorized changes in his lines, substituting "the" for "you" in one passage, and using "who" instead of "which," in a prayer. Faversham announced he had instructed his attorneys to bring suit against the play management for completion of his contract.

First Cafeteria in London Is Success

LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—London's first cafeteria has been a success. It has a seating capacity of 500. While Londoners at first shied at the idea, within two weeks of the opening the cafeteria had all the noon business it could handle, and most of the arm chairs were filled at tea time.

The cafeteria is in the shopping district and has proved exceedingly popular with women who are eager for a quick lunch.

TAKE either the new Chandler or the new Cleveland and apply whatever you think is the best test of a really fine motor car.

Don't stop at one test. Go the limit. Take your time. Be thorough. The more testing and the more comparing you do, the more completely will these great Sixes demonstrate their incontestable prowess in all phases of performance.

After all, performance is the primary function of a motor car—and performance, therefore, offers the best and surest means of properly judging a car.

And speaking of performance, Chandler and Cleveland possess, together, more national records for speed, endurance and hill-climbing than any other two cars of similar prices!

They are both beautiful in design and finish—delightfully roomy and comfortable for long trips—and thoroughly dependable.

Both have high-pressure motor lubrication—and the great "One Shot" System of centralized chassis lubrication. Mechanically speaking, both ride on oil—keeping up to maximum efficiency from year's end to year's end, with upkeep minimized by engineering's victory over wear!

See these cars. Test them to your heart's content. Each stands for the best you can get for the money.
