A POEM
 I know a Elk who never winks,
 Nor flirts not with his eyes;
 Or sees a single thing that's wrong,
 On ocean, earth or skies—

TOO LATE TO SPECIFY
WANTED—To meet young lady about 25 years of age with $1,000,000, or an older one with a cough. Address Jack Call, Tennant, Calif.
WANTED—The address of a woman who will drive a man to drink. —Dan Goddill, Lakeview, Ore.
WANTED—To know the address of a dependable bootlegger.—Jack Knowles.
WANTED—Something to think about. I dare not think about myself. My mind is so active that it consumes everything like fire. Hence, let me think of you.—Ernie Bubb.
WANTED—To buy something. I don't care what it is. I'll buy it. Haven't bought anything in years, and am anxious to spend my money. —Artie Warl.

LOST—If the person who took (by mistake) a hat belonging to Harry Ackley will apply at the Elk's club, Klamath Falls, he can have the peg to hang it upon, as it is of no further use to the owner.
WANT ADS.
LOST—In the neighborhood of the steam laundry, Monday last, one sock, seven button-holes, the color out of three shirts, half a shirt bosom, three slips out of a woolen undershirt. Finder return to Paul Lambert. No questions asked.
LOST—A blonde cow, milks only on one side; has small feet and frayed tail. Reward. Return to Otis Dean at the Club.
GET MARRIED — Thousands tired of living alone; all ages. Call or write Dick Flynn, Bonanza, Ore.
LOST—Seven pounds avoirdupois. Finder may keep. Bill Duncan.

—PURPLE FLASHES—
 This is on Walter Waggoner Before their marriage she gave him a book entitled "A Perfect Gentleman."
 "Well?"
 "This Christmas she intends giving him "Wild Animals I Have Known."
 She—When you asked me for that dance, I took you for Bill Baum, when you held me so tight I thought you were Luke Walker, and when you kissed me I could have sworn it was Lloyd Low, but when you stepped on my foot I knew very well you were Bert Hall.
—PURPLE FLASHES—
 Lately Lloyd DeLap's youngster has been using some rather strong language, so his father said:
 "Do stop using such awful cuss words. I can't imagine where you picked them up."
 "Well, Pa," said the little Junior, "Shakespeare uses them."
 "Then stop playing with him," said Lloyd. "He's not a fit companion for you."
—PURPLE FLASHES—
 Judge Renner—"Look here, there's not a particle of turtle in this soup."
 Jack Herschberger "Well, what of it? We have cabinet pudding, but you would not expect to find Mellon in it, would you?"
—PURPLE FLASHES—
 A. J. Voyo—"Aren you sure your wife knows I'm going home to dinner with you?"
 Merie West—"Knows! Well, rather! Why, my dear boy, I argued with her about it for half an hour this morning."

She Don't Go Near the Water

Editor's note:—Charlie Stone offered us ten bucks if we would run this one on him, but the Gazoot is incorruptable—we ought to have had twenty-five bucks anyhow.
 This photograph was found in Jim Driscoll's pocket upon his return from Portland. Jim says it is his cousin(?), who may "come down" for "Purple Flashes."
