"BILL"—

AN ELK'S TOOTH

IS HIS PRINCIPAL CHARM

BUT—

For "Mrs. Bill" we have a Variety of gifts that will charm any "DEAR."

GUS DUNN

Jeweler and Optician

—PURPLE FLASHES—
Len Royce "I moved to town." Kuykendall "Do you like it there?"
Len "Oh yes, I like it, except that the rats are eating me out of house and home." Kuykendall "Why don't you get some rat biscuit?"
Len "I'll get 'em nothing; they will eat what I eat."

—PURPLE FLASHES—
CAN'T SEE EVERYTHING
O. H. Lorenz "Did you see that girl with the purple veil and the striped stockings?"
Paul Dalton "Did she have on a purple veil?"

—PURPLE FLASHES—
SO ROUGH AND STRONG
Betty "Mother, where do they keep the cross-eyed bear in Sunday school?"
Mrs. Bill Dalton "What cross-eyed bear, dear?"
Betty "Oh, 'The Holy Cross I'd Bear' they sing about all the time."

—PURPLE FLASHES—
Jack Hershberger's pretty book-keeper at Club applied for a holiday.
"I must recuperate," she said.
"My color is fading."
"That so?" said Jack. "What makes you think so?"
"The men are beginning to count their change," she replied.

—PURPLE FLASHES—
DING! DONG!
The silver chimes that tolled O'er the churchyard grim and old Sprung a flaw in the A-flat bell. Then up jumped the dead And unanimously said, "You ain't done right by our Knell."
—Fred Fleet

—PURPLE FLASHES—
TO THE AUDIENCE
(By Francis Olds)

Those desiring to present flowers to the performers will please hand them to the ushers, announcing in a loud voice who they are for, and what the provocation is.

Those attending the show will kindly refrain from placing explosives in the decorative bouquets thrown at the actors. They (the actors) are well protected, but not so with the audience.

—PURPLE FLASHES—
Girl—You passed me today and never recognized me.
Bob Kuykendall—What? Were you the girl with the open-work and sand colored stockings?

"The Old-Fashioned Revue"

Bud Conway—"They tell me your watch has a mystery connected with it."
Lloyd Porter—"Yes, there is a woman in the case."

—PURPLE FLASHES—
He: "You were no spring chicken when I married you."
She: "No, I was a little goose."

—PURPLE FLASHES—
What has become of the old-fashioned guest who insisted on helping with the dishes.

Rare Enough!
Montelino—"Why do you go on the balcony when I sing? Don't you like to hear me sing?"
Mrs. Monty—"It isn't that, I want the neighbors to see that I am not beating you!"

—PURPLE FLASHES—
And That's That.
F. R. Olds—"Walter, a rum omelette."
Harry Messner—"Some—with-out the eggs."

The mystery has been solved—Chief Ambrose after a lifelong subterranean search discovers evidence revealing the high spirits which exists between Oscar Larson and O. M. Hector.

—PURPLE FLASHES—
A teacher asked her pupils to bring to school objects that represented songs.

One boy brought an apple, another a banana and a third an old whip.

"What song does the apple represent?" asked the teacher.

"In the Shade of that Old Apple Tree."
"What does the banana represent?"

"Yes, We Have No Bananas."
"And what does the whip represent?"

"Thanks for the Buggy Ride."
—PURPLE FLASHES—

We heard the other day of a Hollywood star who was somewhat sensitive when she went to get herself a license for her fourth—or was it fifth—marriage.

The clerk who made out the matrimonial ticket seemed to her to be darned inquisitive.

"Have you been married before," he queried, "and if so, to whom?"

This was too much. The air became zero. In her most polemic manner she demanded: "What is this, a memory test?"

—PURPLE FLASHES—
Film Star: "Will you love me when I am old?"
Third Husband: "Why, my dear, we'll be divorced long before that!"
