The Jolly Elks

"Hello, Bill, you son of a gun!"—
How many times has the "gude Elk" heard this warm-hearted salute?
How many times has the friendly slap on the shoulder reminded a brother Elk that he is not forgotten?
Tonight at Harry Poole's theatre the Elks are going to frolic for the public. They are going to show the "cross-eyed" world that the purple is vivid and bright, that with that purple color is mingled the sunshine of happiness.
And it all centers around a beautiful extravaganza entitled "Purple Flashes" in which the youth, beauty and talent of Klamath Falls mingles in a grand exposition of fun and humor.
This is the Elks' way of doing things—and Elks do things just about right. Tonight Harry Poole can sit in the audience and enjoy the show for he is replaced in responsibility by the Big Bill Elk, McNaughton, who handles the show, sees that scenery is adjusted, that no one walks out among the help, and in fact does all Harry does every night, and besides, directs the show.

Beating The Tithing Bill

We never thought the success or defeat of the tithing bill was of such general consequence as some of the newspapers insist that it is. The tithing bill dealt with money already collected by the state for different purposes and if it took it from one pocket and placed it in another we fail to see where the general scheme of life in Oregon is deeply affected.

But the bill was beaten by the state senate, and that is its end.

This leaves this session of the legislature running on overtime with one measure of importance passed—the state income tax law.

Without the tithing bill Governor Patterson's administration will wade through debts galore unless the chief executive has the gizzard to veto every bill passed that carries appropriation of money for buildings.

Defeat of the tithing bill may force the chief executive to do this very thing, and if so, then its defeat will be welcomed by the state at large.

Erasing the building program will leave the state in a rather strained but safe financial condition, and that is all that is necessary.

Defeat the state income tax after Patterson cuts out the new buildings, and we will all run along together like a band of brothers and will build new buildings when the state becomes more prosperous.

Once a man has military training it never leaves him. This was shown by Captain Applegate Tuesday night when he led the grand march at the Daughters of the American Revolution ball in Altamont pavilion.

Are you thinking about what you can personally do in a "clean-up" campaign this spring. By "clean-up" we mean cleaning the tin cans and rubbish from the streets, alleys and vacant lots in the city. Rather an important thing to do if we are to have a flock of tourists and other folk in this season, don't you think?

Even the mighty railroad system of Ess Pee gives way when nature decides to have a deluge. When the elements get busy, no work of man can stand against them more than twenty-four hours.

"Can We?"

"Can we make Klamath Falls a city of 50,000 in the next ten years," writes Ed. Browne to the Evening Herald, and he continues his communication as follows:

"Yes—but not as we are now headed. I am not new to the west and as I see it, here are some of our faults and also some remedies. We are all a little too selfish, not inclined to look at matters in the broadest way for the general good. There is too much inclination to help a 'transient' rather than think seriously of home workmen; especially when a slight difference in wages are at stake, frequently overlooking quality of work done.

"Home building is what finally builds a city rather than bargain wages and transients. Rents for the poor man are out of line here in many instances, and this should not be, for the men who work in the industries have a right to live comfortably on their wages.

"Lay aside the little spites and malices and all work to make a city here, also take recognition of the back country which is not yet scratched. Our potatoes are on the 'top of the world'. Our county is A-1 for dairying and cattling with close markets. People here eat thousands of tons of inferior imported vegetables each season when our farmers actually produce a far superior quality in cabbages, onions, peas and strawberries. If proper marketing is engaged in our country would supply the city with lots to spare.

"There were three quarters of a million dollars sent out of here last year for sash and doors, yet a good plant here could supply many cities this size with this article of trade. The short, clear pine stock would be much more profitable in sash and door than in boxes and that profit would remain here. Our wheat makes wonderful bread, and yet imported flour is in many homes. Why not have a potato chip plant here, a pea cannery and a lot more things?"

"Now comes a matter under everyone's eyes. Let's clean the old town up. Get rid of the tin cans, the weeds, the filth in the back yards. Work for street improvement and get rid of the cow paths and mud. Bury personal differences and all work to make Klamath a city. Try it. Try treating the other fellow as we would like to be treated if we were in his place. Boost for Klamath with a great big K. I am just one of you and willing to do my bit."

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.
Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts.
To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Uncensored Observations

The man who invented near beer was a poor judge of distance.
"Patrick you told me you needed the alcohol to clean the windows with and here I find you drinking it."
"Gahh, man, it's a drinking it and breathin' it on the glass of a do-in'!"
The chicken crossed the road because there was a cake-eater on the other side.
"I'm a very busy man sir. What is your proposition?"
"I want to make you rich."
"Well, leave your receipt with me and I'll look it over later. Just now I'm engaged in closing up a deal by which I expect to make $7 in real money."
HARMONY
Well, I've heard my share of music.
An' it's stirred my heart so deep
That I sometimes dream o' angels
Twanlin' harps while I'm asleep.
I can sit an' listen, quiet.
For a month or two at least.
To a male quartet—awhinn'!
With their tonsils pointin' east.
An' a band that gits to blarin'
On a platform or the street,
Is a plumb enticin' matter
To the bottoms o' my feet.
When a pretty girl's a-singin'
From a throat that's like a wren's—
Well, I kind o' git to sniffin'
An' I want to kiss my friend's
But from all the kinds o' music
That appeal to me at all,
I'll just choose a pack of bees
Chasin' rabbits in the fall.
Our idea of an optimist is a man who takes a frying pan on a fishing trip.
A local person wants to know, and courts an answer to this question!
"Why does the telephone of the door bell ring when you are in the bath tub in the house alone?"
A girl often increases a man's happiness by just one word. Occasionally it is "yes," but more frequently it is "no."
The Salvation Army is a friend when all others fail.
Said he, "I love your eyes of blue,
Oh, kindly be my queen."
That might have been a lovely speech.
Except, her eyes were green.
There are two kinds of skulls, one of which writes insulting anonymous letters.
I once took gasoline for a cough, a Klamath man tells Jim Driscoll. It stopped the cough, but it made me honk.
It is easy to mistake noise for intelligence.
John Barleycorn may be dead, but his funeral never seems to pass a given point.
No Gladys, Burbank did not develop a fruit called the Atlas Pomerene.
The chronic kicker eventually kicks himself out.
In the universities Hell Week is the period when fraternities abuse their prospective members. Outside the universities, of course we have our own Income Tax Year. The country needs more weeks, so why not take up Hell Week and make it national, like Apple Week, Watercress Week and the rest? During the week we could go about with a pitchfork over our shoulders and whenever somebody said "When you carry an umbrella it never rains," we could let him have it in the ribs. A flock of tines would be a fine weapon for the leaping pedestrians. The fellow who tells you all about how his radio works could be placed on a hot-plate in the marketplace.
Committing suicide is the last thing one should do.

Writer Says Folks Underweight Should Consider Question Seriously

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.
The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.
A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Adv.
