Wanton Destruction

Many who motor and hike into the country in the spring seem to have but one idea—to pull up the wild flowers by the roots, to tear off the branches of the blossoming trees and to defile with papers and refuse every beauty spot along the streams and the shady roadsides. And when autumn comes, the red and yellow branches—spared in the spring—are twisted off; and a certain low breed of hunter makes targets of sound trees.

Then Christmas approaches and a new pack of vandals chops down every available evergreen suitable for a Christmas tree and sacks the woods for laurel and holly.

Apparently there is no closed season on beauty, not one month out of the twelve when the fields and woods are safe from the spoiler. Year by year the unprotected countryside near the centers of population tends to become a dirty and desolate waste, littered with rubbish and denuded of its foliage.

Where is the highway not yet disfigured by the plague of hot-dog stands and advertising signs? They are ubiquitous, finding their way into the mountain fastness and to the most remote roadside. It seems that man, not content with stripping away the natural beauty of the landscape, devised the roadside refreshment lean-to and signboard to complete the process of disfiguration.

If there is anything in this country that cries for repression, it is the ruthlessness of the crowds that infest the great and small open spaces; if there is anything that demands ironclad regulation, it is the location of hot-dog stands and advertising signboards.

At The Pine Tree

A versatile bouquet of vaudeville magnets in a program consisting of fast and lively step-dancers, clever musicians, pleasing novelties, singers and laughable comedians all at the Pine Tree theatre tonight.

The three Millards head the bill in a sensational dance offering with musical interruptions, embellishing their vehicle with beautiful scenic effects, draperies, and fetching gowns that delight the female auditors and add much to this artistic dance skit. Bird and Young, "The Two Saps," present a funny oddity that is a combination of song, talk, and dancing and contains bits of vaudeville to suit the masses. LaGros and Anne offer "A Musical Divertissement," an artistic cycle of songs and music with a few lullabies.

Bill Mack, a singing and talking comedian, outside of his own specialty introduces each act on the bill with a comedy veld, as "Master of Ceremonies," something new and amusing in vaudeville. Foley and Cummings in "Ups and Downs" offer an athletic novelty done by two exceptionally clever acrobats. They handle each other with skill and ease that is surprising. Their torture chair trick is the last word in gymnastics and will prove a card.

LOS ANGELES—Signor De Pineda pities the poor movie stars. After one look at Hollywood he remarked: "I always thought acting was easy work. Now I think it is easier to fly airplanes." In which he agrees somewhat with Signor Ruth. After a little Hollywood work the Bambino thought baseball was almost a vacation.

Spring has at last decided to pay us her long looked for visit. It is unnecessary to say that we welcome her coming.

Even though it is hard to sit in a stuffy school room while the sun shines and the birds sing just outside the window, we must do it.

We must remember that spring will come sometime of every year, and though there are plenty of springs, there are not plenty of years in which to get our educations. T. H. B., '27.

It is noticed that there is a sudden lack of interest in baseball on the part of high schools and colleges.

Football has taken its place—probably because it is more exciting.

Amateur baseball is rapidly vanishing and unless more interest is shown it soon will be excluded from the group of interscholastic athletics.—B. R., '27.

Krazy Kracks

Mr. Vanderpool in Civica: "Now we have taken all these men and put them in a pile."

Jimmie Hall has attended school every day for the past two weeks.

Her father's voice: "Jane, it's 11 o'clock. Please tell that young man to shut the front door from the outside."

Etta Mathers: "You assure me that this is the very latest style?"
Clark: "The very latest."
Etta: "And it won't fade?"
Clark: "I'm positive of it. We've had it in our window for three months."

Lady: "And what are you in for my poor man?"
Mr. Fisher: "I was a high school teacher and I told my pupils there wasn't any Santa Claus."

Miss West: "What is the past of the verb 'to awaken'?"
Lee Pruitt: "To sleep."

Further Announcement Made: Dance Will Follow Fete.

Further plans for the May Fete which will be held May 6, have been announced by Miss Alice Kessler who is in charge of the drills and dances.

The fete is to be held on the lower terrace and a committee is in charge of leveling and cleaning it up. A large platform will hold Queen Lorraine Mordoff and her attendants.

The attendants who are: Thelma Bradley, Esther Veatch, Ruth Compton, Avery Marchab, Harriet Hunter and Jean Rogers will wear dresses of pastel shades of organdie, and large picture hats. Dean Houston will be the queen's crown bearer. She will be crowned by Prime Minister Zed Barnes.

The grammar schools will give six drills and the high school four. The May pole dance will be by the senior girls.

At night, a dance in honor of the queen and the senior class will be held at the Legion hall. There has been some talk of the dance being formal, for seniors and invited guests only, but this has not been fully decided upon yet.

The high school orchestra, composed of fourteen members, played before the public several times during the week.

Wednesday noon the orchestra played two numbers at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at which Dean Dubach was the speaker. Wednesday evening they played at the Fremont school, Mr. Dubach again giving the address.

Friday afternoon the orchestra played at the matinee of the senior play "Duley."

Zed Barnes has been forced to quit all athletics for a month because of over training.

K. C. H. S. Hears Dubach Tell Of China Situation

Dr. U. G. Dubach, dean of men at O. A. C. addressed the high school assembly last Tuesday morning on the well known subject of China.

Dr. Dubach is a man well known in the colleges and schools on the west coast and has been in O. A. C. as dean of men for a number of years.

As his subject on China is such a world known subject at the present time, it was received by the student body with great applause.

He explained the present situation in China, or how the foreigners came in and treated the Chinese.

Girls Will Stage Play In Assembly

The girls' league of the high school will put on a play, "Men's Gossip," very soon after school in the assembly.

This play is a one-act play of six characters. There are to be five men and one lady. The cast will consist of girls only. A small admission will be charged to raise funds for the girls' league.

Those who have parts in the play are: Margaret Bowness, Naomi Roberts, Nadine O'Farly, Anna Setzer, Opal Harvey and Mary Elynn Bradford. Naomi Roberts, the lady, the rest are boys.

The girls' league plan on having an April frolic soon. It has not been fully planned yet.

Girls Letter Club Entrusted With Cup

The Student Council appointed the Girls' Letter club as custodian of the trophy case in the lower hall.

The club plans to start the task of cleaning today. They will clean the case, polish the trophies and arrange them for display to their best advantage.

This work will be handled by the girls for remainder of the semester and will be continued by the new members in later years.

Senior Play Is Great Success

"Duley," the senior play given in the afternoon and evening of Friday, April 8, proved a great success. A great deal of this success was due to Mr. Solomon's splendid coaching. Five hundred and eighty dollars was taken in, a profit of nearly three hundred dollars being cleared.

School Baseball Outlook Is Good

With the return of the sun and good weather the baseball candidates are again out releasing their pent-up enthusiasm on the diamond.

Mr. Doll has taken up the task of coaching the team and reports a favorable turn-out with many more expected when the weather warms up.

It is expected that Klamath's team this year will be composed of many new faces and the old veterans will have to hustle to retain their positions.

Most of the squad are from the freshman and sophomore classes which assures us of a first class team in future years.

The boys who have been turning out regularly are: Lee Pruitt, Howard Pruitt, Harry Kendall, "Swede" Olson, Reggie Thomas, Eddie Shumire, Dick and Guido Rohmstedt, Bus Kaler, Joe Wright, Dick Maguire, Vernon Parker, Dean Miller and Garrett Beckley.

Fifteen Aspire To Track Honors

Whenever the weather has permitted there has been a fine turn out for track.

There are fifteen fellows out and Coach French says that some speed is showing up. Those who are turning out are: Frank Hall, Kyle Barryman, Robert Johnson, Celestine Hopkins, William Smith, Vernon Kuykendall, Dean Miller, Meredith Hutchens, Max Brown, Ellis Myers, Herbert Dennis, Donald Parker, Don Soule, William Beasler and Eldon Baker.

"There are nearly seventeen or eighteen girls out every evening for practice, and we have about twenty-two turning out, and more promising to come," she continued.

Clarice Deal and Luella Dahlem sling a shifty curve, while Hazel Michelson and Winifred May can catch them any place behind the home plate.
