A Great Easter Service—

Exceptionally large congregations marked the Easter day services at several of the Klamath Falls churches yesterday.

At the First Methodist church, after bringing all available chairs and benches into requisition, there were insufficient sittings to accommodate the great audience that assembled for the morning service. The pastor, Rev. Frank L. Wemett, received forty-two persons into church fellowship on confession of faith, and by letter said to be the largest class ever received by the local church in a single day. This unusual increase was in part the result of evangelistic services conducted by the pastor and organization during recent weeks, and culminating with the exercise of yesterday.

At night the building was again filled to capacity by an audience which listened with rapt attention to a most creditable rendering of Foster's beautiful Easter cantata: "The Prince of Life," by a chorus of thirty voices under the direction of Mr. R. E. Patterson. By unanimous vote of the congregation the choir was requested to repeat the concert next Sunday night. An evidence of appreciation was the very substantial offering that was given to apply on the Organ Fund.
