McCORMICK - DEERING POTATO PLANTER

WHY PLANT 'EM BY HAND

You can Do It Better With This Machine!

Government bulletin No. 1188 says: "It is significant that the yield of potatoes is less, and the cost of production greater on farms where planting is done by hand than on those planting with machines."

The McCormick-Deering potato planter handles cut seed and small whole seed with an accuracy as nearly one-hundred per cent as it is possible to obtain with a mechanical planter. It possesses new and distinctive McCormick-Deering features and employs the latest and most approved principles of potato planter construction.

Come to our store and see these planters.

Officers Learn Of 100-Gallon Whisky Cache

One hundred gallons of whiskey is hidden somewhere in the hills surrounding Pelican City. This is the belief of federal and state officers following the arrest last night of E. Hason on the charge of possession of liquor and Floyd Niles on the charge of giving an Indian a drink.

John Lee Ball, and another Indian officer, made the arrests. They stated they had bargained with the alleged bootleggers, that they had contracted to buy a large quantity of liquor, and that Niles and Hason had taken them out The Dalles-California highway toward Pelican City.

Want Money

Before reaching the supposed cache, Niles and Hason are reported to have stopped and demanded the money. The officers did not have enough and instead concluded to arrest the pair. The men will be charged by federal authorities. Hason is charged with possession of a pint of whiskey.

At The Pine Tree

Elinor Glyn, author of such tales as "His Hour," "Three Weeks" and "The Philosophy of Love," returns to the world of the cinema via Clara Bow's initial starring production, "It." In "It," Madame Glyn has photographed explained the theory which has endeared the globe and puzzled millions of people. "It," arriving on Sunday at the Pine Tree theatre, is the story of a little flapper who rises herself from the depths of poverty to the heights of affluence only because of that peculiar power, "It," which has been imbued in her since birth. People are attracted as soon as she enters a room, yet the one man Clara would like to win pays no attention until she gets him by a ruse, only to lose him when he suspects her of infidelity. Then—

Well, see "It." Antonio Moreno is featured opposite Miss Bow. Clarence Badger, director of "Paths to Paradise" and "The Campus Flirt," produced "It" with Madame Glyn's aid.

At The Liberty

Hard riding and swift action mark Tom Mix' latest, "The Canyon of Light," which has its first showing at the Liberty Theatre Sunday. For breath taking suspense, nerve tingling excitement and hair raising escapes, it is doubtful if even Tom has surpassed what he does in this gripping drama of the frontier. Not only are there some real shock producers in the mountainous country, where many of the sequences are taken, but battle scenes in France, where Tom plays the part of a dispatch rider, are also full of action and suspense. Dorothy Dwan plays the role of the sweet heroine with Tom, while William Walling, Ralph Sipperly, Carl Miller, Camella Geraghty and Barry Norton are seen in roles of importance.

Big Lakes Urepare For Opening Up Of Logging Operations

Harry Messner, woods superintendent of Big Lakes Box company, returned late Friday from Sprague River, where he has been making arrangements for the opening of a camp on Cherry Creek, which is part of the Trout creek unit of the Big Lakes Box company. The Cherry creek camp will open Wednesday morning and employ between 30 and 40 men.

The camp in the Swan Lake country, largest of the Big Lakes' camps, will open the middle of May and employ 75 to 80 men. Cutting will start immediately on the opening of the camp.

Weepah Strike No Myth, Resident Of Klamath Reports

Word received from W. P. McCauley, 1129 Crescent avenue, late yesterday by members of his family indicates that the Weepah gold strike is not such "dud" as many embryo miners who failed to locate gold would have the world believe.

McCauley has located 12 claims next to the now famous Horton claim, and intends to spend the summer there working. Placer mining is the predominant method of extracting the ore, according to McCauley's letter, and many old timers and soundings are still lingering around Weepah and Tonopah for another big break which they feel sure will come.
