May Come True; Experiments Being Made

EDINBURGH, Scotland, May 12.

(AP).—Sheep that grow merino wool, turn out twins and make perfect roast and mutton chops, have been promised by the animal breeding research department of Edinburgh University.

Dr. F. A. E. Crew, director of the bureau, who became known for his experiments in changing the sex of fowls, says the ideal sheep is already more than a possibility. Some of the newly invented sheep are already grazing in his experimental pens.

This Rare Salad Dressing May Be New To You

As an example of the unusual recipes in Ida Bailey Allen's new book (see coupon below) this recipe for a rare salad dressing is given. You are invited to try it—and convince yourself that, regardless of price, the world affords no finer salad oil than Mazola.

Once you try Mazola for any salad dressing, you will never go back to using expensive, imported oils.

Cooked Cream Dressing

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup Mazola $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cayenne
3 tablespoons Karo, Red $\frac{1}{4}$ tablespoons Argo or or Blue Label Kingsford's Cornstarch
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon dry mustard 2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon salt $\frac{1}{2}$ cups top milk
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup very mild vinegar

Combine the Mazola, Karo, the dry ingredients and the eggs in a double boiler top. Gradually stir in the milk which should be scalded, and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick like white sauce; then gradually add the vinegar, heated, and beat with an egg beater until the mixture thickens again. Klamath Basin Advertised By S. P. Folders

Valuable advertising is being given on Klamath Basin territory in Southern Pacific's newly revised folder "Shasta Route Wayside Notes."

The folder gives generous space to the new Cascade Line through Klamath Falls and has the following to say regarding Klamath Falls itself:

"Alt. 4,120. Pop. 12,500. To S. F. 434 miles. Gateway from new Cascade Line to Crater Lake National Park. Autos leave here daily for the Park during the summer months. The seat of Klamath County; situated on the Link River near the southern end of Klamath Lake, with frontage on Lake Ewanga. A modern city with substantial business blocks, public buildings, and excellent hotels. Its residence districts on rising ground surrounding the business center present an attractive appearance and command fine views. Well known trout streams in surrounding territory include Spring, Odessa and Crystal creeks and Wood, Williamson, Sprague and Klamath rivers.

"The Modoc Lava Beds with their mysterious Ice Cave and Mammoth Cave, containing miles of passages, are 50 miles south of Klamath Falls and may be reached by auto. The Glass Mountain and Medicine Lake country is fifteen miles farther. Klamath Falls has an extensive Government irrigation system and is the distributing point for large farming and lumbering districts. Klamath potatoes, the growing of which has become quite an industry throughout Klamath County, are among the world's finest."

The folder will be read by many thousands of tourists both on Southern Pacific trains and on the part of those who are planning railroad journeys.

At The Pine Tree

"Old Man Gloom," nemesis of all that makes life worth while, is due for one of the most terrific jolts of his career today when Wallace Beery's current comedy, "Casey at the Bat," comes to the Pine Tree Theatre.

Fresh from triumphs in "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now" and "Old Ironsides," Beery is said to heap new laurels upon himself in this rollicking, laugh-aminute picture of the diamond. Good as the last three Beery vehicles were, well, just wait—that's all!

AT THE LIBERTY

"Hell's Four Hundred," starring Margaret Livingston, which opens today at the Liberty theatre, has a very elaborate gambling scene in it. The set is an exact duplication of the celebrated Canfield gambling house which was the center of Broadway's sporting activity in the days when New York was "wide open."

Several highly dramatic scenes of this story, which is adapted from Vaughan Kester's novel, "The Just and Unjust," take place in the gambling room. In the cast supporting Miss Livingston are Harrison Ford, Wallace McDonald, Henry Kolker, Marceline Day, Rodney Hildebrand and Amber Norman.

Little Dog Gives Life For Master

MODESTO, Calif., May 12. (AP)—Spot, a little black and white terrier dog, saved his master, J. A. Hastings, Knights Ferry rancher, from being bitten by a big rattlesnake by interposing his body in the path of the striking rattler, and in so doing gave his life.

Spot died today from the venom, despite veterinary care. The snake, three feet long, with nine rattlers, was killed by Hastings.
