HANDING IN ESSAYS

With school drawing to a close, the Senior and Junior English classes of the Klamath County High School are handing in their scrapbooks and essays.

According to Miss Nichols, the articles are very good, some of the best scrapbooks were those of Rita Mathers, Zephia Rogers, Frank Hall, Julian Lodge, Margaret Aker and Velma Cox.

The Junior class wrote essays and some of the best were: "Evolution of a Playhouse" by Louise Hampton, "Travel" by Mary Frayler, "In the Presence of Beauty" by Janice Newby, "Old Man Webster" by Eldon Stom, and "The Cat Tail Dance" by Marjory Fossum.

The scrapbooks and essays were a part of the semesters' work and some of the final grades will depend on them.

"Hell's Four Hundred," starring Margaret Livingston, during the making of that picture. One sequence called for a railroad trestle over a river, from which Wallace McDonald and Rodney Hildebrand were to hang by the hands. California was searched for the proper sort of a railroad bridge without result. It was necessary to take the troupe to Seattle, Washington, one thousand miles away, to take the scenes.

"Hell's Four Hundred," which opened last night at the Liberty theatre, is the story of a little salaried entertainer caught in the whirlpool of Broadway. It is adapted from Vaughan Kester's dramatic novel, "The Just and Unjust." In the cast are Margaret Livingston, Harrison Ford, Henry Kolker, Marceline Day and Amber Norman.

ROGERS 25-year guarantee make—without one penny's extra cost!

But not more than six spoons to a person!

Easy to get a service of teaspoons

It's easy—start collecting your labels today. Even if your family is very small, it would be worth while to get a supply of Alpine now in order to secure your teaspoons before the offer expires. Alpine keeps indefinitely, so there's no danger of loss.

The nutritious milk— "there's cream in every drop"

Alpine is far richer, far more nutritious than ordinary milk. For it actually takes a whole quart of rigidly tested full-cream milk to make a pint of Alpine. Nothing added—nothing taken away but water.

Use this richer milk for cakes, biscuits, sauces, puddings, desserts—see how much tastier it makes them. Try it in coffee or cocoa—delicious! And for a real treat, be sure to use it in the recipe shown below.

So economical, too. Alpine costs less than ordinary milk—is so rich, it goes further—saves butter in cooking.

Hermetically sealed in clean containers—air-tight—and sterilized, Alpine is always fresh, always pure. Get it today.
