

Traditional Rivals Will Meet On Fair Grounds Field Sunday; Medford is Determined to Win

Ever close rivals, Klamath Falls and Medford, will once more clash, this time on the baseball field on Fair grounds diamond next Sunday afternoon.

Contests of any description between Medford and Klamath Falls, resemble Oregon-O. A. C. clashes. The feeling of superiority runs high in both cities, and as a consequence, simple pure dope predictions usually amount to little.

Here's a concrete example: Klamath Falls barely squeezed out a winner against the Medford Pear pickers in their first league clash, 3 to 2. The K. F. Pelicans then turned around and defeated the BOAS team by the one sided score of 19 to 7.

Then, lo and behold, last Sunday the BOAS team turned around and gave Medford a sound drubbing.

Medford Is Growing.
Medford used to live or die by contests with its close neighbors, Ashland and Grants Pass. It still does to a certain extent. But the Rogue River valley town is growing beyond these two communities and is within a couple or three thousand of being as large as Klamath Falls.

Thus the two biggest towns of southern Oregon have of late developed into keen rivals; and for that reason, if none other, the baseball game next Sunday afternoon should back the grand stand from the top tie to the field.

"Red" Saunders has not announced who will start in the box for the Pelicans. Hal Chase's debacle and "Sunny" Mohler's great exhibition last Sunday, may lead the scorch-topped Pelican leader to start Mohler.

On the other hand, when Chase's "splitter" is working, he is invincible and besides is a heavy hitter. The question of chuckers will be a tough one for Sanders to decide.

Oiling Operations Slowed Up By Rain

Oiling operations on the Dalles-California highway north from Alameda were temporarily checked by an ill timed rain. C. C. Seeley, resident state highway engineer, in charge of the extensive maintenance project, said today.

"We would have brought our total oiled mileage up to 15 miles yesterday had it not been for the rain," Seeley said. "As it is, only 14 miles had been oiled up to last night."

Behind the Scenes with good clothes

Rarely if ever do men when selecting clothes think of what lies behind the making of style and good looks. A handsome piece of foreign fabric—the best that money can buy—is only half that we offer them. The other half lies in expert tailoring, done by men skilled in their special tasks, whose workmanship attains perfection even in smallest detail.
