WILDNESS COSTS PORTLAND GAME

Sacramento Wins From Beavers; S. F.'s Furious Hitting Beats Wright

(By the Associated Press)
Early wildness on the part of Bill Hughes cost Portland a 5-1 defeat at the hands of Sacramento, giving the Beavers the edge on the series. Vinyl was deprived of a shutout when McCurdy hit for the circuit in the seventh. Batteries: Vinyl and Koehler; Hughes and Yelle.

Even Doc Wright, the league's leading hurler, failed to stop the furious hitting of San Francisco, the Beavers whaling out their third straight win over Los Angeles, 11 to 9. Batteries: Wright, Yarrison and Hannah; May, Kunz and Heggs. Goosch's double, scoring Higgs in the last of the ninth, broke Hollywood's losing streak, giving her a 5 to 4 victory over the Missions. Batteries: Pilleite, Weinert and Whitney; Walters, Fullerton, McCabe and Agnew, Cook.

George Boehler, the Oakland "Wild man," lived up to his reputation by walking nine Seattle batters, and the Indians nosed out a 9-5 win over the league leaders. Batteries: Boehler and Reed; Knight and Boerani.

Fiscal Year Ends For Klamath P. O.

This morning started a new year for members of the local post office, for the fiscal post office year was brought to a close last night. Annual reports are being prepared by Postmaster McCall and Assistant Postmaster Griffith, which will be mailed to headquarters at a date in the very near future. While no figures were available today, it was learned that the end of the fiscal year, June, will show one of the largest receipts the local office has experienced.

"On my recent vacation I visited a number of offices and found Klamath Falls by far the most active, outside of the larger cities, of course," Postmaster McCall remarked.

D. A. R. Takes Active Part In Celebration

Members of Eulalia chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are asked to meet at the court house immediately following the Fourth of July parade on Monday morning to take part in the program. The D. A. R. members are taking an active part in the program for the Fourth and a number of the members are serving on various committees.

AGED TRIPLETS
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 1. (AP)—Abe, Ike and Jake Waggoner are 71 year old triplets, who have come out of the mountains for a visit. They do not smoke, chew or drink and never have had a doctor. They are prosperous farmers near Maynardville.

The G. O. P. has put the soft pedal on all third-term talk. Here's a suggestion: Why not call it the non-stop presidential record.

SUMMONS. EQUITY 2350.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Klamath.
AN LEE NOREN,
Plaintiff,
vs.
PAUL S. NOREN,
Defendant.

To Paul S. Noren, the above named defendant,
IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before Friday, the 8th day of July, 1927, and if you fail to do so, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in her complaint, to-wit: for a divorce from you upon the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and personal indignities, rendering her life miserable, burdensome and unhappy and for the absolute control and custody of the minor daughter, Pauline Evelyn Noren, and for such other and further relief, which to the Court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof once each week for a period of six consecutive and successive weeks, pursuant to order of the Honorable A. L. Leavitt, Judge of the above entitled Court, made and entered on the 27th day of May, 1927. Date of first publication May 27th, 1927, and date of last publication July 8th, 1927.

Irishman Here Is Anxious to Fight Indian

A slim, wiry, clear-eyed, soft spoken young man whose punch record belies his general appearance is in Klamath Falls anxious to appear before local fight fans in an early fight card.

He is Jack O'Malley, Kelllogg welterweight, an Irishman, who arrived in this city several days ago and since has been scurrying about the city trying to find out what it's all about in the fight game. He came to see the sporting editor of the Herald.

"No," he said modestly, "I'm not claiming that I'm a world beater, but my record shows that I am not so bad."

And O'Malley's record shows that he has appeared against some of the good boys of the northwest. O'Malley was curious about Wilbur Harrington.

"They tell me he's good; well, just how good does that mean?" O'Malley was told that in the sporting editor's opinion Harrington had slumbered drops in both hands when he hit, but that a clever boy who would not let the slugging red skin get set for a punch, would be in good line for winning.

"Well, I'd like to take him on," O'Malley said. "I think I could make a good showing."

The Irishman has interviewed Glen Le Baron, matchmaker, but it is doubtful if he will appear on the first card this month.

RECORD.

BERKELEY, Calif., July 1. (UP)—What is believed to be a record for long distance radio reception with only an indoor loop aerial and no ground, was established here by G. H. Knies when he logged three Australian stations in one night.

The stations were 2BL, Sydney; 5CL, Adelaide; and 3LO, Melbourne.

The receiving set used was a home-made, eight tube super heterodyne.

Request Business Men To Use Flags On Establishments

That every citizen of Klamath Falls will show the spirit of the Fourth of July is the hope of the committee in charge of the celebration.

A request through the press was made late yesterday afternoon by members of the committee asking that flags and appropriate decorations be used on all the business houses and homes in the city.

Salem Permits High.

SALEM, Ore., July 1. (AP)—Building permits for the first six months of the year broke all previous records for a half-year's period in Salem, according to the records in the city recorder's office, with a total of $1,607,177.

For the first six months of last year, 1926, the figure was $1,458,085, for the first six months of 1925, $1,162,325, and the first six months of 1924, $1,035,855.

If you run up hills you're a spend-thrift. If you don't your credit's no good. Oh, well, probably your credit's no good, anyhow.

Billy Evans --Says--

Yanks Are Stronger This Year

New York won the pennant in the American League in 1926. The club is at least 25 per cent stronger this year. Draw your own conclusion.

There are many reasons why the Yanks present an even more imposing front than last season. Here are a few of them:

Tony Lazzeri and Mark Koenig, the two rookie infielders of last season, are much improved. Koenig has lost his erratic ways. Lazzeri is the most valuable second baseman in the American League.

The reserve strength of the club is much better. Last season the Yanks had a capable outfield substitute in Ben Paschal, a right-handed batter. This year New York has a left-handed hitter equally as good in Cedric Durst, who also can play a pretty good game at first. Morehart is a fine utility infielder.

John Grabowski has bolstered up the catching and Wiley Moore, a 30-year-old rookie, has added the pitching. Perhaps no one younger, if you can call Moore such, has made a better first year impression than Moore.

In these days of cut-and-clang baseball, a good relief pitcher is an absolute necessity. Wiley Moore is filling that role for the Yankees most capably.

Value of Relief Pitcher

To the outsider, it is absolutely impossible to realize what an important part a master relief pitcher plays in the success of a championship ball club.

When Stanley Harris was winning pennants for Washington in 1924-25, big Fred Marberry was his ace in the hole.

A glutton for work, Marberry, at a moment's notice could step into almost any breach and hold the margin that his club might have.

With a pitcher of the Marberry type, used almost entirely in relief roles, it is possible for a manager to keep his regular pitching staff fairly intact.

With a pitcher of the Marberry type, used almost entirely in relief roles, it is possible for a manager to keep his regular pitching staff fairly intact.

Proper handling of a pitching staff can make a ball club. Nothing will throw a staff out of gear more quickly than the use of regular pitchers out of turn in rescue roles. Pitchers will tell you that a few innings under high pressure takes more out of the arm than many regular games.

Marberry enabled Harris to nurse his none too strong staff and get every ounce of work out of his veterans because they got their required rest of four days.

Detroit Misses Daus' Work

This year, the great value of a high-class relief pitcher has been proved in the varying fortunes that have come the way of the Detroit Tigers.

For several seasons, the veteran right hander, George Daus, has been Detroit's Marberry. Good speed, a great curve ball and control, made Daus the ideal pitcher to rush into the game for a few innings as pinch pitcher.

Last season he was in 34 games, practically all of them as relief pitcher. He isn't credited with working a complete game, yet his record shows 11 victories and seven defeats, all of them scored under high tension.

I also feel that I am conservative when I say that he saved perhaps 10 other games for which he received no official credit. It is easy to imagine what the loss of so valuable a pitcher would mean to a club.

This year, George Moriarty, making his debut as manager of the Tigers, has been without his best rescue weapon, George Daus, who has been ill all year.

I can recall at least a half dozen games that Detroit would have won this year had George Daus been on the bench waiting for the word to do the hero stuff.
