

NAME ROSS AS THIRD MAN IN KLAMATH RING

Matchmaker Announces Selection of Referee For July 20 Card

Bobby Ross, formerly a clever and effective fighter, will referee the opening fight card this summer July 20, at Legion Hall. It was announced late yesterday by Glen Le Baron, Klamath Falls matchmaker. Ross was selected by Le Baron after careful consideration of all different angles of the situation.

"There never was or never will be a referee who can please everyone in a fight arena," Le Baron commented today. "But the fans deserve the first consideration and it has been assumed that Ross will render his decisions fair and just as they appear to him.

The matchmaker discussed frankly his ideas on refereeing. "I feel that Ross being an old boxer himself, should know punching and the boy who is winning. On the question of aggressiveness it is entirely in the referee's opinion on who is out ahead, as aggressiveness is a big factor in winning decisions, although good game, charging boys are often outsmarted and made to miss leads and are nailed with well timed counter punches. Then is when a referee's real value is needed regardless of the most rabid fans' opinion."

Le Baron and Ross appear to have the same opinion regarding foul punches. Neither of the two men are in favor of having boxers in a Klamath ring who have reputations as foulers.

Ross has been instructed to give a decision when the foul appears deliberate and intentional, but when the illegal blow is obviously unintentional, the offending boxer will be warned the first time the offense is committed.

Ross said today that in the matter of clinches he will not part boys while one or both are punching and as long as either boy has one arm free, but will immediately break them when deadlocked in a clinch.

The challenger is George W. Hooley, of Newark, N. J., who says he held the professional long distance footracing championship from 1905 to 1915. The letter was addressed to Al Jennings, mayor of Crescent City, Calif., and was sent in care of the Redwood Empire Associations offices here. Mad Bull was first in the local marathon run last month.

Billy Evans --Says--

Bush Making Good
Owen Bush was a star as a big league ball player. It looks very much as if he is to repeat his success as a manager.

As pilot of the Pittsburgh club, he is showing the way to the rest of the National League managers and is favored to win. He has a good team and is handling it well.

Bush gained his fame in the big show as a member of the Detroit Tigers of the American League. Well do I recall his debut as a member of that club.

Detroit had won the pennant in 1907 and seemed to have enough stuff to repeat. However, late in the year, due to injuries, the club had a makeshift infield. Help was badly needed at shortstop.

A youngster by the name of Bush was going big for Indianapolis. The scouts pronounced him a marvelous fielder but many had their doubts as to his ability to hit big league pitching.

Bush, by the way, was the property of the Detroit club at the time. He had been secured in the draft from South Bend of the Central League and sent to Indianapolis for seasoning.

Broke In Auspiciously
Indianapolis was in the thick of the pennant fight in the American Association and Bush, a home town boy, was a big favorite. Detroit would have liked to have recalled him early in the season but held back until the close of the minor league race.

I happened to be the umpire in charge of the first game Bush played in the American League. I doubt if any recruit ever made a more sensational start in the majors, particularly as to fielding.

On three occasions he went to his left into second base territory and made one-handed stops of balls which the late Herman Schaefer, playing second, couldn't quite reach. In each instance he got his man at first.

Schaefer, who had a keen sense of humor, would argue with Bush after each ball as to his coming into second base territory, using much pantomime. The crowd realized it was all in fun and Schaefer's antics helped Bush to a great getaway.

Bush played 20 games for Detroit that fall and his sensational work aided greatly in the winning of the pennant by the Tigers.

Loved To Win Always
As is usually the case, Bush upset the dope and made the expert opinion of the scouts look bad by hitting the ball 50 points better than his minor league record.

Bush joined the club too late that fall to be eligible in the world series. No doubt the Tigers would have made a better showing against the Chicago Cubs had he been in the lineup.

As a player, Bush was of the pleasingly aggressive type. He fought every inch of the way, but was always the gentleman, never the rowdy.

There never was a harder loser in baseball than Bush. He thoroughly liked to win. I have my serious doubts as to whether he enjoyed his evening meal when the Tigers lost a game.

Unquestionably Bush has impaired his fighting spirit to the Pirates, for they have staged many a late inning rally to win a ball game that seemed lost.

Wee Globe Trotter Takes Long Jaunt

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8, (UP).—Elizabeth Jane Dwyer, aged four months, made the long sea journey from Honolulu to San Francisco unescorted by relatives or friends, which is regarded as quite a trip for the young lady to make before cutting her teeth.

Elizabeth Jane's mother died shortly after she was born in the Philippines and her father, Sergeant Charles L. Dwyer of the air service started on the sea voyage from Manila with his baby daughter.

At Honolulu, however, he went ashore and missed the steamer when it sailed.

Elizabeth Jane was cared for by tourists, and ship's officers and waited here at Letterman hospital until her father caught the next boat.

GRASS FIRE
Usual summer epidemic of grass fires—induced by hot weather drying up weeds and rank grass—is now under way and last night came one of the first calls of the season to check a blaze of this description. The grass fire was located on an empty lot opposite the Baldwin hotel on Main street.

Expert Holds Lakes Should be Closed to Fishing to July 1

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8.—Mountain lakes of Oregon should be closed to angling until July 1 each year, in the opinion of F. C. Stellmacher of Albany, educational director for the Oregon state game commission.

In his report for June Mr. Stellmacher tells of catching trout in several Cascade mountain lakes for investigative purposes, and finding them heavy with eggs and about ready to spawn. By July 1 each year all, or most all, of the fish would have spawned, and thus reproduction would be assured before fish were caught.

The heavy weather of the late spring and early summer did not hurt young Chinese pheasants as much as had been feared, Mr. Stellmacher wrote. In parts of the Willamette valley the birds will be more numerous than ever before, he predicted.

Fans "Hopped Up" Over Sunday Game

With the much advertised new battery of Cholera and Read as the big threat, Medford's rejuvenated and revived baseball nine will invade fair grounds field Sunday afternoon and attempt to take the measure of the Klamath Pelicans, champions of the first half of the two-part season.

The game will start at 2:30 p. m. and if present weather prevails, a large crowd is expected.

Loan Association Shows Remarkable Growth for Year

Remarkable growth of the Klamath Valley Savings and Loan association was disclosed at the annual meeting of the association held this week, it was announced today. Assets of the association more than doubled and the deposits are richer as a result of the semi-annual seven per cent dividend being declared.

The association is now starting in on its third year of existence and indications point to a continuance of growth, it was assured.

Officers of the organization hold that the association is filling a long felt need, giving the local people an opportunity to invest their savings where it can be used for home building where a fair return can be paid to them on their savings.

Lumber Production Still Restricted

NEW YORK, July 8, (AP)—The tendency toward restriction of activity in the lumber industry has been emphasized by an extension of the customary Fourth of July suspension. This year some mills began to shut down a week or two before the fourth and plan to extend the semi-annual repair and overhaul period for two or three weeks afterwards. On this account, there are both apparent and actual decreases in production, shipments and orders compared with last week, says the national lumber manufacturers' association. Soft wood reports show orders and shipments are running 10 percent less than a year ago and the effects of the holiday are particularly noticeable in the hard wood industry.

WHAT WILL HE DO?
RAPID CITY, S. D., July 8, (AP)—Since Mr. Coolidge has ridden a horse given him by cowboys the question arises whether he will smoke a pipe presented by Indians. It is of cherry wood, decorated with beads, porcupine quills and buckskin. J. T. Standing Elk, spokesman for the donors, told the president to smoke it.
