

Klamath Lumber Production During Past Year in Excess Of 400,000,000 Board Feet

Within the immediate vicinity of Klamath Falls, a total of 451,900,000 feet of lumber was produced during 1926, according to figures compiled showing the cut of individual mills. In the Lakeview district, a total of 24,300,000 feet was manufactured in the past year.

Accurate figures on practically every lumber company in the district was secured, with the exception of the two largest mills, the Pelican Bay Lumber company and the Ewauna Box company, whose total cuts were estimated at sixty and fifty million feet respectively.

The third largest mill, from the standpoint of production last year was the Algoma Lumber company, at Algoma, with the Forest Lumber company at Pine Ridge, fourth.

In the Lakeview district, only small mills, and in most cases the portable type, are in operation, in spite of the fact that Lake county is estimated to contain a total of fourteen billion feet of virgin pine timber.

The lumber towns of Dorris and Mt. Hebron, in California, are included in the total for the Klamath Falls district. The Kesterson Lumber company at Dorris produced 24,500,000 feet, while the Siskiyou Lumber company at Mt. Hebron, cut 10,300,000 feet.

Following are the individual cuts of the various mills:

WEED-KLAMATH ROAD BOOSTED

(Continued From Page One) built to the California line by Oregon, was also asserted by Murphy. Murphy told the board of a meeting called in Sacramento for July 29 at which the supervisors from the different counties affected by the proposed route were expected to be present, and expressed his gratification when the Siskiyou county board agreed to attend. J. F. Wise, representing the Dorris district, urged that a part of the $20,000 already set aside for the proposed road be used at once in extending the line from Dorris some four and one-half miles north to meet with the Oregon road now under way. The board asked him to wait until the August meeting, as it was necessary to keep the $20,000 fund intact to meet the demands of the state if the new joint county district be formed.

YREKA, Calif., July 11.—That a joint road district may be formed of the Sacramento valley and northern counties for the purpose of building the Weed-Klamath Falls highway, the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors voted at its session of July 5 and 6 to go as a body to Sacramento, July 29, to meet with supervisors of other counties who are to be there on that date. The members of the board individually expressed their appreciation of the work of Assemblyman J. J. Murphy of Weed, whose extensive efforts have already begun to show crystallization in the forming of a joint district to retain the Klamath trade by means of the highway to that point.

IRISH LEADER IS ASSASSINATED

(Continued From Page One) workers in the Free State cause. Shortly before the end, he raised himself from his pillow to say: "I am dying at peace with my enemies. I die for my country. I go to join Michael Collins." One of the friends at the bedside remarked: "Kevin, while there's life there's hope."

"No Hope" "Ah, there is no hope," he answered. "But I was always a bit of a die hard."

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 11. (A.P.)—Several arrests were reported to have been made today, growing out of the assassination of Kevin O'Higgins, vice president of the Free State council, but no indication has been made that the actual persons implicated in the crime have been found. An official account of Mr. O'Higgins' assassination says that five men were engaged in it, two of whom acted as scouts. All are believed to have been between the ages of 20 and 25.

HUGE MILL TO BE CONSTRUCTED

(Continued From Page One) way before the end of the present year. Work to be pushed "Construction work, once begun," the paper says, "will be pushed with all the dispatch consistent with economical construction."

"Assurances substantially to this effect were obtained Saturday by The Oregonian from George E. Long, of Tacoma, president and general manager of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company. Mr. Long has been associated with Weyerhaeuser interests for 26 years."

Information is also in the hands of the writer of the article, he says, confirming rumors that the building of some 15 to 20 miles of logging railway will be necessary to begin logging of the 200,000 acres of high quality pine timber constituting the Weyerhaeuser holdings in the Klamath basin.

Last Stand of Pine "The pine resources of the Klamath basin are said to constitute the largest remaining stand of pine in the United States," the article adds in this respect.

"Commencement of the development of activities by the Weyerhaeuser interests follows almost immediately upon the completion of arrangements by the Great Northern for the extension of its operations from Portland and Spokane into south central Oregon. The Weyerhaeuser move is in line with that company's promise to the Hill railways that as soon as a northern outlet was available from the Klamath basin, it would supply a heavy tonnage of manufactured lumber. The Weyerhaeusers are large stockholders in both of the northern railways."

Klamath to Be Center The Weyerhaeuser company will centralize its development at Klamath Falls rather than scatter its manufacturing units throughout the lumber area.

Included in its plans and in addition to a huge sawmill, will be a sash and door factory, a veneer factory and other incidental manufacturing units, it is said. Considering the large timber resources, Mr. Long predicted that Klamath Falls will be by far the largest western pine manufacturing point in America, and that it was likely that within a few years the annual cut

Up a steep grade—lined at times with snow drifts "auto top high"—hundreds of cars from southern Oregon climbed to the rim of the Gem of the Cascades yesterday. Crater lake, and enjoyed the geological and scenic marvel at its best.

"It's the best day we've had so far this season," smiled Dick Price, manager of the Crater Lake Lodge. "It looks like a great year. From information I've received in northern California and southern Oregon, I've found that incoming tourists ask two questions: first, where is Crater lake?; second how far is it to Vancouver, B. C.?"

In Klamath will be 700 to 800,000,000 feet.

The Weyerhaeuser holdings in the Klamath basin will furnish a 25 to 30-year supply. Additional purchases are contemplated so that the business of manufacturing at Klamath Falls is expected to continue for many years.

PEAR PICKERS WIN IN GREAT PITCHERS' DUEL

(Continued From Page 1) hitting, they were helpless before the speed and slants of the bespectacled Galicia. Walt Fuller picked a fast one for a home run in the opening canto, and Eddie Foss got a pair of safe hits, one of which went for naught when he tried to stretch a single into a double. Conlin, Medford center fielder, robbed the Pelicans of a chance to tie the score when he made a leaping one-hand stab of a hard drive to right center from the bat off Foss.

The defeat of the Pelicans starts them off at the bottom of the league in the second half of the split season, while the Pear Pickers, tail-enders during the first half, are now perched at the top of the ladder.

At the Liberty If the poker game in "The Seventh Hand" in which Harry Carey is starring and to be seen at the Liberty for the last time today, impresses you as being naturally done, you may be certain that the men participating did not get their practice in the studio. Most of the studios have strict rules forbidding gambling in any form among people working in pictures, and the Carey studio is no exception. This rule does not mean that film people are especially prone to gambling, but when they are sitting about waiting for their turn before the camera, it is sometimes a problem how to employ the time. Many of the men form the reading habit, and books and newspapers are in demand. The women knit or embroider. Cross-word puzzles have not lost their hold in the studios, and, of course, much conversation, and even quiet arguments about topics of the day, goes on. In Harry Carey's support in "The Seventh Hand" are Harriett Hammond, James Morrison, Trilly Clark, Walter James and John Dillon. Set Dunlap directed from a story by Arthur Preston Hankins.
