Pendleton Makes
New Heat Record

PENDLETON, July 25, (AP)— A new heat record was established in Pendleton Saturday for the summer when the official mercury hit 106. Yesterday, although cloudy, was sultry and the mercury registered 98.

New Cotton Fabric.
Rayon, virtually a new textile fiber, is manufactured from wood pulp and cotton linters by so treating them that they can be dissolved, and the resulting liquid formed into filaments.
Rayon has many uses. Its special characteristic is its luster.

"We've crossed the continent—now we'll tackle the Pacific," cried Mrs. Mildred Doran, pretty, blond, school teacher, as she alighted from the plane in which she and Pedlar, her pilot, will use in the San Francisco-Hawaii $35,000 prize race next month. The pair made the flight from Michigan to Long Beach by easy hops. Above, Pedlar, who wears a straw hat while he flies, is being greeted by aviator friends.
At the right is the cheerful Miss Doran.

BRITISH CARRIES NEVER TOO OLD
LONDON, (AP)—Taxi-drivers of New York are infants compared to their colleagues of London.

Cabbies 50 and 60 years old are the rule rather than the exception here. The other day there was a collision between a taxicab in which the Earl and Countess of Wharncliffe were riding, and an omnibus. Testimony showed that the cab-driver was 72 years old, and had been driving in London for 50 years.
When the motorcar came in he was one of the first to adopt the new mode of transportation.

In purchasing a dairy cow attention should be given to age, soundness, size, disposition, length of teats, ease of milking, milk and butterfat records and the condition under which these records were made, also the age at which they were made.

A total of 874 cities and towns have ordinances which require tuberculin testing of cattle furnishing milk for their use. In addition, 375 others provide an option between the tuberculin test and pasteurization.

FEATHER-PULLING VICE RUINS CHICKEN FLOCKS

Students of poultry production have learned that "feather pulling" among chickens may be caused by close confinement and idleness, lack of sufficient mineral or animal matter in the feed or the presence of itch mites at the base of the feather.

A particularly vicious hen may begin the practice, which often is imitated by others of the flock and continued as a habit.
Plenty of room for exercise will aid in breaking up the practice. Scratching for feed in deep litter helps keep chickens busy.
It is advisable to provide a variety of feeds with meat scrap and plenty of green feed and ground oyster shell.

OLD KANSAS SETTLERS STICK TO THE FARMS

EL DORADO, Kan., July 25.
(AP)—Neither the young nor the old are lured to the city from the farms in the German settlement north of here. Many farms consist of two or three houses, each sheltering a generation of the same family.

The husband and wife who established the family in America, and probably homesteaded the Kansas farm, keep their rural home although they no longer do the work. Few of these aged couples have a desire to spend the days of their retirement in even a small country town. Their sons marry, and one of them not always the eldest, stays on "the old home place." The son provides a separate roof for his bride, and other sons and daughters buy or rent farms nearby.

Not infrequently a farm yard contains three houses among its towering trees, and children of the fourth generation dwell in the newest home. While German is read and spoken in the eldest house, the "American language" alone is used in the second and third.

Household Helps

There are more than a hundred different kinds of useful cotton materials on the market for making clothing or for household purposes. Most of these can be laundered easily and are fairly inexpensive.

Flours from soft wheat have a velvety texture somewhat like cornstarch. Those from hard wheat usually are more gritty.
A handful of flour, tightly squeezed, remains in a mass what, preferred for quick wheat flours are best for making yeast breads.

Dusting with commercial sodium fluoride often is successful in destroying cockroaches. It may be used pure, or mixed with some inert substance such as powdered gypsum, or flour. It should be dusted thoroughly upon shelves, table floors, and the roaches' hiding places and runways.

At least an inch of the stork ends should be left on feet when they are coated. It prevents escape of the color, sometimes called "bleeding." Stork are left on for the same purpose. Cooked heels can be peeled easily by dipping them for a moment into cold water. The skin slips off readily. Heels can be served hot, sliced, diced, and with salt and pepper.

To be comfortable, safe, durable and attractive, shoes for everyday wear must conform to the natural shape of the feet, and protect them. They must provide a firm foundation for the body. Shoes of correct shape are broad, round at the toe, and straight along the inner edge.
Soles are at least moderately thick, heels nearly as broad throughout as the heel-seat of the shoe, and not high. The heel of an Army nurse's shoe is 1 1/8 inches high.

In the making, Boston brown bread should be steamed for about 3 1/2 hours in well-buttered molds and then baked to dry out the top.
