FORMER LOCAL YOUTH KILLED

Injuries Fatal to George Cain in San Francisco Last Evening

George Cain, former well known Klamath Falls youth, passed away in San Francisco last evening following an accident which he encountered several days ago, according to word received here from Mrs. Maud Hood, his sister, of the telephone office.

Cain, with another young man, was driving a truck on a construction job when a heavy cable fell across the road tearing the top from the truck, and striking Cain on the chest. The accident caused complete paralysis from his hips down and slight hopes were ever held for his recovery. The other young man was struck across the face, breaking his jaw bone.

Lived Here.

Cain, prior to moving to San Francisco, lived here with his mother, Mrs. Belle Martin and his two sisters, Mrs. Maud Hood and Mrs. Ben Stevenson nee Jackie Emons, who now resides in San Francisco.

Mrs. Martin with her daughter, Mrs. Hood and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cain left for San Francisco on Saturday. The funeral will be held in San Francisco.

Developing of Weyerhaven is Now Underway

Work of developing the Weyerhaven tracts, adjoining the Weyerhaeuser mill site on the Klamath river a short distance south of the city, was started this week, according to announcement today by Walter West and Harry Pelts, joint owners of a part of the Weyerhaven property.

The fact that officials of the Weyerhaeuser company are now here and the General Manager Long is scheduled to arrive here the latter part of the week, is rekindling interest in the gigantic Weyerhaeuser mill plans for Klamath.

The first 80 acres of the Weyerhaven tract are now being surveyed and marked off into tracts of 2½ and 5 acres each. These tracts front along the Miller Island market road and are but a short distance from the site of the projected Weyerhaeuser mill plants.

Down to the Eart hin 'Chutes—Six of Them

A rare air action view, this picture of six parachuters of the British Air Forces descending earthward a moment after they had spread their white wings in simultaneous jumps from three Vickers-Vimy bombers. They staged the spectacle as par of the recent R. A. F. maneuvers at Hendon.
