Callahan Will Meet Webster; Card on 16th

Two clever artists of the gentle art of sock and he socked, will meet in the main event of a boxing card to be held August 16 at the American Legion Memorial hall.

They are Tim Callahan, sorrel topped welterweight of Klamath Falls, and the picturesque and hard hitting colored boy, Pop Webster, late of Tacoma.

Announcement of the main event was made this morning by Glen Le Baron, Klamath Falls matchmaker. Other features of the card will be announced later.

Callahan has appeared in Klamath rings on a number of occasions. His principal claim to fame is victories over Kid Starkey, the first decision being a hair line, but the second decisive.

Tim has improved with each go, an instead of the cautious left jabber of one year ago, he is a free hitting milling fighter.

Webster is an old timer, and has fought the best in the northwest, including Leo Lamski.

The boys are working out each night at the Memorial hall, Fourth and Klamath avenue, at 6 o'clock.

Kottbus Boosters Use U. S. AIRMEN'S PICTURES

BERLIN, Aug. 8. (AP)—Kottbus, which attained world fame over night through the forced landing of Clarence D. Chamberlain and Charles A. Levine, is determined to stay on the map. It has adopted American boosting methods for this purpose.

Every letter that leaves any department of the city government must now be sent in envelopes on the face side of which are the portraits of Chamberlain and Levine, with quotations on what they think of the city. The date of the landing of "Miss Columbia" is also given.

On the flap is depicted an airplane flying from New York to Berlin via Kottbus. New York is characterized by sky scrapers, Berlin by the Brandenburg Gate.

Refuse To Contribute. Hereafter the orderly marketing director was maintained at the stock yards to keep stockmen apprised of prices, supply and demand and to direct shipments so no glut would develop. The expenses were met by a voluntary assessment against the sales. A number of stockmen refused to contribute to the maintenance of the director with the result that the others declared they would not pay all the cost and permit those who did not contribute to share in the benefits.

Prices slumped a cent a pound with the result that cattlemen have lost thousands of dollars. It is said the cost of maintaining the director will not exceed $700 a month and probably will be much lower.
