WINNERS NEWS-HERALD 2 Orchestras CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN To Combine in RECEIVE PRIZES TODAY Dance Tonight

Winners of automobiles in the News and Herald circulation campaign, which closed 9 p. m., Saturday:

First prize, Buick Sedan won by Sophie Bruchon, South 6th St. Klamath Falls.

Second prize, Chrysler Sedan won by Mrs. R. D. Torrey, Arcade Apts., Klamath Falls.

Third prize, Essex Sedan won by Nellie Rose Jones, 204 High St., Klamath Falls.

Fourth prize, Chevrolet Sedan won by Mrs. J. E. Hosking, 227 Jefferson avenue, Klamath Falls.

See advertisement on another page for judges' statement.

After holding the unwavering interest of all Klamath Falls for ten weeks, and establishing new records in newspaper circulation, the last chapter of the News and Herald's Great Automobile Campaign will be written with the delivery of the prize automobiles to the winners today.

Not within the history of this paper has a newspaper campaign attracted the enthusiastic and widespread interest that was shown during the race that closed last Saturday night at 9 p. m. The last week was especially noticeable. Rivalry was intense but friendly and the News and Herald feels assured that the successful ones merited prizes for which they so earnestly strived.

The number of votes turned in by candidates and their friends were fairly staggering, and when the judges met to undertake the task of counting them, it would have been discouragingly laborious but for the keen interest even they felt in the campaign, and the knowledge they had of the popularity of the movement in every section where the News or Herald circulates.

Winners Named

The conduct of the count was methodical and business like. The selection of judges proved to be admirable and the Klamath News and Evening Herald extends to them its felicitations and thanks.

The aggregate votes of the three automobile winners alone reached enormous figures. The winners of the automobiles are entitled to success; they demonstrated conclusively that energy and persistency are potent factors in any game of life.

In distributing over $5,000 worth of valuable prizes among the contestants, The News and Herald gives value received for their efforts in its behalf, yet the intrinsic value of the award is not the only consideration to the contestants. In pursuance of their individual campaign of votes, they have learned much that will benefit them. They have formed new ideas along business lines and most of them have developed a keen sense of observation that will pay many a future dividend.

The competition was a splendid training and valuable experience to all who participated. It taught that courage is necessary to overcome the obstacles that beset the never-ending conflict of "life."

Some Must Lose

Of course it is inevitable in a campaign of this kind that all can not win. Candidates understood that when they entered, right or wrong, civilization seemed to have accepted and applied nature's rule of the survival of the fittest. To accomplish a given purpose some effort is necessary, and fortune seems to lavish her richest gifts upon those who are equipped with energy sufficient to carry the mandates of ambition.

Yet to the men and women who worked energetically during the campaign but failed to win, The News and Herald extends its genuine regrets. Were it possible, we would gladly remember every candidate with a gift. "The thanks of the News and Herald can in a measure compensate the regret of the losers, let it be theirs. Remarkable fortitude displayed throughout the race at least reflects the beliefs that those who did not win will be "good losers."

The News and Herald appreciated the kindly feeling and good will of every man and woman who entered whether they had 10,000 votes or 100 times 10,000. There is wholesome satisfaction in the thought that though we try for a goal and miss, our efforts were honestly put forth.

Won By Energy

To those whose energy has carried them through to success, The News and Herald extends hearty congratulations. We are proud of the men and women who have made this campaign such a remarkable success, and we hope the winners who are about to take possession of their prizes by the right of conquest, will in turn be proud of their reward.

We have dealt with ladies and gentlemen; our relations have been pleasant throughout. They in turn have dealt with an institution which to the best of its ability made the campaign one long to be remembered for its wholesomeness and fair character. It was a great race and it left in bold relief the possibilities of that greatest of all virtues—ambition.
