

CONSERVE OIL, H. WORK SAYS

Overproduction Amounts to Gambling, Sec'y. of Interior Holds

WASHINGTON, N. Y., Aug. 30. (A. P.)—The federal government should ask the next congress for legislation to conserve the nation's oil resources, Secretary of the Interior, Harold I. Work, today told the annual convention of the American Petroleum Association. He said that the nation's oil resources are being squandered and that the government should take action to conserve them. He said that the government should take action to conserve the nation's oil resources and that the government should take action to conserve the nation's oil resources.

AVIATORS AND PRINCESS OFF

When the Princess, who is financing the flight, entered the plane, she took off her cloak, revealing she was wearing a purple leather flying outfit of knee breeches and jacket, black silk stockings and brown leather shoes with black fur around the tops. She carried her own supply of food in a leather hatbox and wicker basket.
The plane was in the field while the Princess was preparing to leave, but she had decided to postpone her flight. She became so interested in the preparations that she forgot to pack her own food. She said she would go after it. With her own food in the field was a small table, a chair and a small stove. The Princess, who is financing the flight, entered the plane, she took off her cloak, revealing she was wearing a purple leather flying outfit of knee breeches and jacket, black silk stockings and brown leather shoes with black fur around the tops. She carried her own supply of food in a leather hatbox and wicker basket.

STATE HEALTH OFFICERS MEET

Discuss Benefits Derived from Training in Eastern States

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 31. (A. P.)—Whether or not a western county or city health officer needs any training in the east furnished a lively topic of discussion this morning at the second day of the meeting of the county and city public health officers of Oregon called by Dr. Frederick Stricker, state health officer. The discussion followed a statement given by Dr. Laraway of Roseburg, Douglas county health officer, entitled "Three months training for health officers," in which he told of his training experiences in Alabama. Some of the doctors present insisted that his Alabama experiences in learning to detect the hookworm was time wasted since hook worm is not found in Oregon.

Timber Land Revenue Built This Building

The new legislative building of the state of Washington, pictured here, is to be dedicated in September. It cost six and a quarter millions of dollars, with not one cent raised by bond issue or taxation, the revenue being derived from leases of state timberlands set aside by the enabling act under which the state entered the Union. The dome rises 287 feet in silhouette of the National Capitol. The timbers which gave the revenue for the building program comprise 132,000 acres.

WILLOS SANITY PROBE STARTS

Doomed Man May Yet Escape Noose at State Penitentiary

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 30. (A. P.)—Members of the commission appointed by Circuit Judge Percy R. Kelley to inquire into the sanity of James Willos, under death sentence for participation in the murder of two prison guards in the prison break of August 12, 1925, will meet at the state penitentiary at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon to conduct their examination of Willos. It was announced today. The commission, consisting of Dr. L. F. Griffith of Salem, Dr. S. P. Joseph of Portland, and Dr. J. E. Robinson of Albany, is expected to complete its examination and report back to the court not later than Thursday, which will allow time for a final disposition of the petition of Willos' attorneys for intervention of the court or the governor to commute the death sentence, on the ground that Willos has become insane since sentence was last passed on him, before the second reprieve granted the condemned man expires at midnight Friday.

FIND NO TRACE OF P. REDFERN

Help of South American Nations Sought by Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (A. P.)—State department efforts to cooperate in the search for Paul Redfern, missing pilot of the Brunswick-Brazil plane, were supplemented today by urgent instructions to American consuls at strategic points in British and Dutch Guiana and in Brazil to follow up every clue that might identify the plane reported to have been seen on the Venezuelan coast.
The legation in Venezuela had previously been instructed similarly, but the department sent an additional message to consuls who might hear something that would help to determine the aviator's fate.

War Vet Suicides in Lakeview Hotel

Walter Clifford, world war veteran, committed suicide in a Lakeview hotel yesterday by cutting his throat with a safety razor blade, according to long distance advices from the Lake county city.
Nothing is known of the man. He came to Lakeview in search of work and had displayed a morose temperament to those who queried regarding his business and intentions.
The former Kaiser advised the German fliers concerning their flight to America. We hope he's better on flights than he is on marches.

Genial Wizard

Rome Flight May Begin Late Today

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 31. (A. P.)—With the promise of a wind shifting around to the west, indications this afternoon were that the monoplane Old Glory would attempt a take-off late today on its non-stop flight to Rome, although no official announcement was forthcoming from pilots Lloyd Bertaud and James D. Hill.
Stanford University's "genial wizard" will be remembered. Dr. Edward Curtis Franklin, internationally known for his organic chemistry research work, was honored on his retirement this summer with a $15,000 fellowship created in his honor by eminent scientists from all over the country. His title was won because of his interest in translating chemistry into terms intelligible to juvenile enthusiasts.
