TWO FAMILIES MOVE TO ROGUE

(Special to The Herald) (Velma Snowgoose, correspondent)

At The Liberty
"Outlaws of Red River," with Tom Mix in the stellar role had its first presentation at the Liberty Theatre yesterday and pleased the crowded house who turned out to see the star of western cowboys in a picture of more than usual interest.

This is a story of the Texas Rangers and of their most daring member, known as the Falcon and played by Mix. Action, suspense, thrills and furious riding, some of it up cliffs that seem impossible for a horse. Humor too, and a love story that is very intriguing help make this picture the fine entertainment that it is. Margerie Daw has the leading feminine role and a cast of merit fill all other roles of importance.

CASE RETURNED TO J. J. BROPHY
Chiloquin residents who are unfortunate enough to get themselves in the meshes of the law will have an opportunity to be tried in local justice court if the recent ruling of Police Judge Gagbagen, of Klamath Falls, can be taken as a criterion of his future action.

The case of Ben Lilly and Grace Hessa, arrested in this city a month ago by an officer and taken to the Falls for trial, was ordered returned to this city for trial before Justice Brophy. Chiloquin Review.

If a presidential boom could only sweep the country like a new jazz dance the problem of some politicians would be considerably simplified.

Visualizing Vermont's Huge Reconstruction Task

The scope of Vermont's staggering reconstruction task, following the New England floods, is visualized here. Vermont officials and relief agencies have called on the federal government for aid in repairing the state's tremendous damage. Torrents sweeping down the Vermont river valleys transformed them from scenes of beauty and prosperity, rich in farming, dairying and varied other industries, into long stretches of mud-bound devastation.

Mr. Lyle Womack, who came from Colon to tell Ruth Elder—his wife—to return to the Womack kitchen, must have been living in the Canal Zone for many years.
