

LOMSKI FLOORS $50,000 HOME TOM LOUGHRAN NOT ACCEPTED BUT LOSES OUT BY GOLF CHAMP

"Aberdeen Assassin" Is Close to Title in First Round of Fight

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Tommy Loughran continued to hold sway over the light heavy-weight domain today by virtue of a decision after a fierce struggle in which Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., twice had the pride of Philadelphia on the floor.

Two battering fists, packed with dynamite, knocked Loughran down twice for the count of nine in the first round of a 15-round title engagement in Madison Square Garden last night while a packed patronage of 15,000 enthusiasts roared at the prospective crowning of a new champion.

But the courageous heart and ring mastery served the Philadelphia well, tiding him over the bad start and eventually enabling him to wear Lomski down in ten of the remaining rounds to take the decision and retain the title.

SECOND DEATH IN U. P. WRECK OCCURS TODAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 7. (A. P.)—The death toll of the Union Pacific passenger train wreck in Onocoma gorge last Sunday was increased to two when Charles F. Theobald, engineer of one of the engines of the train, died today at a hospital.

Theobald suffered from head and internal injuries. His condition had not been described as critical but it became worse last night and he succumbed early today.

The wreck occurred when the train hit an ice and snow avalanche which descended upon the track in a severe New Year's storm.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 7. (AP)—James P. Newton was arrested by department of justice agents and was charged today with stealing an adjusted service claim from Gilbert B. Peterson of Seattle and attempting to borrow money on it from the Portland veterans' bureau.

Each night from now until January 21 when nothing else is scheduled for the American Legion hall, or when the team is not away from the city for a game, the entire squad will be at work on the Legion floor.

Five games are on the list to be played before the Freshman game including: January 9, Madras high school; January 12, Ashland National Guard; January 16, Merrill high school; January 18, Ashland Normal and January 19, Bonanza.

And Today Only Hornsby's Services as Player is in Great Demand

One million dollars! That much at least would have been needed a few years ago to have bought Hornsby, Walter Johnson, Eddie Collins, George Sisler, Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker from their respective owners.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Stretch your memory back four or five years and dream of the money that would have been required to buy Tris Speaker, Walter Johnson, Eddie Collins, Rogers Hornsby or George Sisler!

Cobb was a priceless piece of Detroit property. Speaker was a civic asset of Cleveland. Johnson was the sentimental heart of Washington. Collins was the hope of the Chicago White Sox.

Now where are they? Cobb and Speaker are non grata on the market. Johnson is in the minor leagues. Sisler is in Washington for the price of an ordinary rookie.

Only Hornsby and Collins are setting pretty, but Collins seems to be in the nicest spot because at the end of his playing days he seems set for life.

Hornsby is still a great ball player commanding a fine salary. He is being groomed for the management of the New York Giants when John McGraw decides and, according to reports, that will not be long now.

There may be reasons, however, not associated with baseball, that may interfere with Hornsby's ambitions.

At the end of the 1927 season, when the Philadelphia Athletics again had disappointed the aged Connie Mack, it was taken for granted that a number of changes would be made in the Philadelphia club.

Cobb, Wheat and Collins probably will go, it was surmised. "Not Collins," was the significant remark made by Mack.

The Cleveland club, seeking a manager, was interested in Collins but Eddie let it be known that he was not interested. He started with the Athletics, has his home and close friends around Philadelphia and is satisfied with a good salary and congenial surroundings.

Also, it was learned, Collins has been told that the Athletics will be his ball club when Mack decides to retire and that may not be long now.

Cobb and Speaker had the unpleasant experience of finding themselves out of a job about this time last winter. But fortune turned and tossed to them better propositions than they had before.

Investigator Sees Murderer As Mere "Rat"

ASHLAND, Ore., Jan. 7.—Comparing the slayer of John Ansel, popular Klamath Falls resident, to a sinking, cowardly rat, R. L. Barry, Medford, who for three days and nights assisted Klamath county officials in grilling A. J. Bellamy, a suspect in the case, gave a graphic, gripping story of the murder and subsequent developments in the case.

With vividness he told of the crime as it has been reconstructed by officers who are seeking the killer.

He told of the faithfulness of Johnny Ansel, who prided himself on his promptness and his regularity in opening the store promptly at 6:30 o'clock each morning, and how this very promptness has been one of the reasons which officers have been able, by the process of elimination, to break down the story told by the one man who seems to be "the rat."

Harry pictorial Johnny Ansel, the popular Gun Store employe as he rested on the counter reading the morning paper. He graphically described the stealthy approach of the murderer, the deliberate aim which he must have taken, when the bullet passed through the head of the victim, struck an ice box and found lying on the floor near the body of "The Rat's" prey.

It was a soft-nosed bullet, fired from a box Winchester, a most unusual type of weapon, which killed Johnny Ansel.

MANY FIGHTS ARE LOST ON ACCOUNT OF POOR HEAD WORK, SAYS OLD-TIMER.

A SITUATION SUCH AS THIS CALLS FOR STRATEGY WHEN I ARISE I SHALL LEAD WITH MY RIGHT INSTEAD OF MY LEFT, THEREBY OUTSMARTING HIM.

WHAT WAS THE MATTER WITH YOU? HEAD WORK IS O.K., BUT I WANT TO SEE THE OLD PUNCH!

WHEN A MAN IS DOWN HE SHOULD BE GIVEN TEN MINUTES INSTEAD OF TEN SECONDS—THIS WOULD GIVE HIM A CHANCE TO USE HIS HEAD AND DOPE OUT A PLAN OF BATTLE.

GENTLEMEN—I SUGGEST A LEFT JAB TO THE PROBOSCIS

HOW ABOUT A QUICK JUMP OUT OF THE RING AND CALL IT A DAY?

FOR IMPORTANT FIGHTS A BOXER MIGHT HAVE A BOARD OF STRATEGY THAT MEETS IN PRIVATE AND DECIDES ALL HIS MOVES.

HOWEVER, THERE'S SURE TO BE A FLAW IN THE HEAD WORK ONCE IN A WHILE.

YOU SAY THE KID FOUGHT A SMART FIGHT? YEH—HE WAS FLOORED IN THE FIRST ROUND AND REFUSED TO GET UP!
