

POOR OLD LEW NO MATCH FOR WILD-CAT ACE

Hudkins Piles Up Big Lead Over Ring Vet; Nearly Gets K. O.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. (AP)—Ace Hudkins has advanced in his quest for the welterweight crown today with a 10-round victory over the veteran Lew Tendler of Philadelphia, ring marvel of a past decade.

Meeting in the Madison Square Garden arena last night, Hudkins gave Tendler a second thrashing but failed to score a knockout. However, the Nebraskan had Tendler on the verge of receding for the full count on several occasions.

Hudkins rocked Tendler with a right to the jaw in the seventh round for a count of eight but the Philadelphia arose and managed to hold on. Ace ripped a savage left to the head in the ninth that nearly pitched Tendler through the ropes. Lefty was staggered and was sinking slowly under his opponent's hard punches when the gong came to his rescue.

When the ninth terminated, Tendler groggily made for a neutral corner under the belief that it was his own. The tenth round Tendler wearily defended himself against the merciless hail of blows from his youthful rival.

Although the old timer was noticeably outclassed some 12,000 fans boomed the judges' verdict and Hudkins while the venerable Tendler, who has been boxing for more than a dozen years, received the applause.

Less than a year ago Tendler lost a decision to Hudkins in Los Angeles, the Nebraskan's victory last night moved him into an elimination tussle against Sammy Baker to determine who will challenge Joe Dundee for the welterweight championship in March.

The Baker-Hudkins bout is down for February 17 at the garden. Hudkins weighed 149 1/2 and Tendler 151 pounds.

WAS DETROIT ROOKED IN TRADE WITH ST. LOUIS BASEBALL TEAM?

Billy Evans Diagnoses Swap Made Between Two Clubs and thinks Tigers Adder Strength Badly Needed

By BILLY EVANS

When major league clubs make trades, the big thought is to strengthen weak spots by giving away surplus material at positions where a club seems well fortified.

On the surface, a club may appear to be getting considerably the worst of a transaction, yet the manager of the club may be perfectly satisfied with his deal, feeling that he has accomplished the thing he set out to do—plug up certain holes in his lineup.

Unquestionably, the big deal since the close of the season was the one that involved the Detroit and St. Louis clubs of the American League. This deal called for the transfer of Outfielder Helme Manush and First Baseman Lu Blue to the Browns, for Outfielder Harry Rice, Pitcher Van Gilder and Shortstop Galloway.

The baseball experts seem to be unanimous in the opinion that St. Louis got all the better of the deal, that Manager Moriarty of Detroit took one right on the chin and is still staggering.

There is no doubt as to the class of Manush and Blue. The first named is one of the best hitters in the game, a good outfielder, while Blue is generally ranked next to Lou Gehrig among the first sackers. I have yet to talk with a scribe who believed Detroit got anything like a proper return.

However, I am positive that if you discussed the matter over with Manager George Moriarty of the Tigers, it wouldn't take him long to convince you that the deal was a good one for Detroit.

been pointed out frequently that the United States not only has a mighty slim chance to win the cup back from France this year but that it is not a dead end, that the American team will be able to win its way through the eliminations into the challenge round.

As long as Rene Lacoste, Henri Cochet, Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra retain their fine form, France is going to keep the Davis cup. And that, in the normal course of events, should be a long, long time.

It has been said that the world tour being made by Brugnon and Borotra would throw them off their game and be of assistance to the United States in fighting for the cup.

It must have been forgotten or overlooked that these Frenchmen have been traveling around that way for about five years and instead of throwing them off their game it seems to have made them.

As a host nation during the days when Australia and Japan were doing most of the fighting for the cup, the United States couldn't take sides but it was a secretly admitted fact that the high minds of the tennis association preferred to have the Australians in the challenge round.

The Australians were a better drawing card than the Japanese.

May Meet Americans. Australia, however, now returns as a rival and if form holds, as it usually does in tennis, the Americans and the Australians may meet in the final round of the American zone winner to decide which team shall meet the winner of the eliminations in the European zone.

There may be a disposition on the part of the public to underestimate the strength of Australia because Patterson and Hawkes have had so many chances in the past against the Americans and were found short.

Patterson and Hawkes, however, are still very good players. They certainly cannot have gone back farther than Tilden and Johnston.

It may be that Tilden has slipped more than Patterson because the decline of Tilden seems to have been a physical one and Patterson, a big, strong, rugged fellow, ought to be just as strong now and have as much endurance as he had the last time he played in this country.

If Bill Johnston does not come back and Tilden persists in his intention to leave the association flat and go to Europe while the eliminations are being played in this country, the United States will be in a very poor condition to meet the Australian threat.

French Doped to Win. Even with Johnston in there the chances would be dubious, for Johnston would have to depend upon minor league assistance and the Australians certainly are not bush leaguers on the court no matter how far they have come back.

In spite of the optimism felt by the tennis association, it has

Connie Mack Thinks Grove Will Win 20 or More Games This Year.

"LEFTY" GROVE

Perhaps Connie Mack is right, but there are some who are skeptical about his belief that "Lefty" Grove, his stellar southpaw, will win 20 or 30 games this season. That's what Connie Mack thinks. If Grove does win that many, the A's are sure to be up in the pennant fight from the start.

Another defeat in Detroit's defense last season was the lack of a relief pitcher. The blessing of George Daus, which kept him out of the same all season, played havoc with Detroit's chances. I believe I am conservative in saying Daus would have saved at least a dozen games for the Tigers that went into the lost column.

In getting Van Gilder, Moriarty is gambling with a pitcher who has plenty of stuff and a giant physique. I am sure his thought is, Van Gilder will take the place formerly filled by Daus, that of game-saver.

Last season Shortstop Jackie Tavener, while chopping some ice with a small ice pick, severed a tendon in the second finger. What was regarded as a minor accident at first has turned out to be a serious one. Tavener has practically lost the use of the finger in gripping a ball.

Since the injury is on his right hand, it has greatly interfered with his throwing. Getting Shortstop Galloway, formerly of the Athletics, after he had passed to the minors, is merely a protection against the possibility that Tavener may not be able to play.

While Moriarty cut loose from a great player in Lu Blue, he had two men for the firstbase position and it so happened he liked Johnny Neun better than Blue.

Thus a resume of the deal shows that Moriarty added a great thrower to the important position of centerfield, is gambling with Van Gilder to fill the role of pinch pitcher and has Galloway in reserve in case Tavener cannot go at shortstop.

However, who really got the worst of the deal will not be known until a year hence, then we shall see what we shall see.
