

NEWS IN BRIEF

Sense, Not Love

If Manek K. Anklesaria, psychologist and Hindu philosopher, has his way, men will select their wives for reasons of business, psychological reactions and common sense, instead of love. Now in San Francisco, Anklesaria is preparing to return to Bombay, there to found a newspaper and a college to be operated along American lines—efficiency. He is a graduate of the Wilson college at Bombay, and also holds degrees from the American Universities of Michigan, Detroit and Northwestern.

Schedule Announced—
In a bulletin issued this week, the arrangements for the inevitable half year reckonings, viewed with various feelings of apprehension and expectancy by the members of the student body, were announced, and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday forenoon of next week were set aside as the fateful days. The following is the schedule as issued from the office: Examinations commence Wednesday, February 1, at 9 p. m. One and one-half hours will be allowed for each examination and each will be held in regular class rooms. The examination will be given in the order in which the classes are now held, for example, the first period classes will have their examinations first—second period classes next and so on in regular order. pipe Smokers:

"Twenty degrees cooler"
— come on in

YOU know how small kindlings make a quick, hot blaze, while big logs burn slowly and evenly? Same way with tobacco—the finer the cut, the faster and hotter it burns. So Granger is "Rough Cut" in big shaggy flakes that burn more slowly, last longer, smoke cooler. There's only one right way to cut tobacco for pipes—and this is it. Just match it against them all—REGARDLESS!
