

U. S. C. WINS IN FINAL MINUTE

Overtime Necessary to Settle First Game of Series

LOS ANGELES, March 6, (AP)—A surprising University of Southern California basketball team which apparently has shaken off a midseason lethargy and returned to the form that took it to championship heights in the early part of the season today confidently awaited the referees whistle that would send it against a University of Washington five in the second game of a three game series to decide the coast championship.

Last night in a wild and woolly affair that had the spectators off their chairs throughout the contest, the Trojans managed to eke out a narrow victory after a five minute overtime period.

At half time the sons of Troy seemed well ahead, 28 to 18. However, the northerners sped up and made it 47—all at the end of the regulation game time. So an extra period was played. The Huskies immediately sent the score to 50-47 with a field goal and a free throw but the Trojans were not to be denied. Field goals by Captain Jack Bruner and Jess Mortensen made it 51-50 and then another field marker by Bruner raised the total for the southerners to 53.

Mortensen and Bruner shone for the Trojans while little Al James, and Captain Snyder took honors on the Huskie team. Snyder scored 18 points.

Should Washington win tonight a third game will be played tomorrow at the Olympic auditorium here. Tonight's contest was to be played on the southern California pavilion.

FINNS LEADING IN LONG RACE

and one half mile lead over the last man.

BLOOMINGTON, Calif., Mar. 6, (AP)—One hundred and eighty-six runners and walkers started out from here today on the third lap of the Los Angeles to New York marathon, a tortuous uphill desert hike of 44 miles to Victorville.

Four marathoners who finished the second lap yesterday failed to respond to the starter's whistle today. They were laid up with sore feet, with exhaustion making things worse.

The small army of starters swarmed out on the highway and headed east as though they were out for a picnic, some running and some walking. A caravan of automobiles following the entrants and a motley crowd of townspeople, lining both sides of the roadway track, gave the scene a picturesque appearance much like a circus day rather than a marathon.

The cold damp weather, proved no drawback to the enthusiastic townspeople who ran and walked along with the runners for a considerable distance. It seemed that the entire populace of this little orange growing community was out to see the runners off for New York.

A sturdy Finnish runner, Willie Kolchman, hailing from New York City, was confident before the start today that he could keep up the flying pace of the fast two days to maintain his lead in the grind.

ADMITS "KILLING"

OAKLAND, Mar. 6, (AP)—A "confession" of Frank Moran last night that he was the man who killed Jimmy Blanton in a row over $200,000 in loot in San Francisco, for the theft of which "Big Bill" O'Connor is serving time in San Quentin prison, was not being taken seriously today by either San Francisco nor Oakland police.

It didn't take long when Jimmy McLarnin, Irish lightweight, got to work on Sid Terris in their scheduled 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden, New York. A minute and 47 seconds after the fight started a right to Terris' jaw called forth Referee Jack O'Sullivan's sudden count, as pictured here.

Dempsey Admirers

There are thousands and thousands of Dempsey admirers who are glad, in view of the reported weakness of his left eye, that the old man-mauler will never fight again.

Perhaps the report of the eye trouble has been slightly exaggerated, but it must be remembered that Dempsey himself admits the trouble and also says that he may never fight again.

Dempsey, if he fought again, would be the choice of many because of a sentimental attachment for him to win, regardless of whom he fought. But even though he could whip the majority of current heavyweights his decision to quit is welcome news.

Other Ring Cases

Many cases similar to the Dempsey case are on record in the history of the ring. The punching does it, and Dempsey has taken many punches that while not hurting at the time has finally exacted a toll. Especially was the eye cut many times in his two fights with Gene Tunney. Tunney's right hand seemed to be meeting it always.

The most notable cases of eye trouble in ring history are those of Pete Herman, Irish Patay Cline, Pete Sarmiento and Sam Langford. Herman, one of the greatest bantams that ever lived, went totally blind. Cline's eyes went back on him. Pete Sarmiento is now back in the Philippines, with the sight of one eye impaired. Sam Langford went punch blind.

Constant blows on the eyes are bound to exact some physical hardship. It is surprising that so few cases are recorded of the eye trouble caused by blows in the ring.

RAISE IN TAX IS PROTESTED

dall, attorney, summed up the matter in one solid statement: bristling with facts and inevitable conclusions.

The board of equalization took the matter under advisement and will hand down a decision in the near future.

Although timber holders have long thought they were entitled to a tax decrease, the situation which brought the question to a climax today was the 50 per cent per thousand raise in assessed valuation of timber lying contiguous to the Bend-Chehalis extension of the Great Northern railroad.

At the tax discussion progressed, great problems and their possible solution worked into the meeting such as reforestation of timber, the pine beetle problem, what will be the condition of the pine timber standing years to come and so forth.

The timbermen based their arguments for a flat decrease of 25 per cent on the following reasons:

1.—Lumber prosperity and Klamath prosperity are virtually synonymous. Unless the lumbermen operate, the pay roll is gone and principal support of the Klamath country is absent. Therefore it is to the interest of the body politic to lighten the burden on the lumbermen so that he can make a fair profit and, at the same time, bring good times to the country in which he operates.

2.—High taxes tend to force the lumberman to cut his timber. He can not conserve, but must move it quickly if he is to prevent a margin of profit being gobbled up by excessive taxes.

3.—Taxation of timber should scale up and down with market conditions. Its valuation from year to year is dependent on what it will bring in the market and when that is low, the taxes rightfully should drop down to the same comparative level. During the past three years the lumber market has been sinking gradually but steadily and this year it appears as if it will be lower than at any time during the two previous years.

4.—The lumber operator is faced with a serious problem. Logically he should stop operating for the time being or at the most, operate on a part-week basis. But such a situation would be a blow to his district. He does not want to work a hardship on business conditions. He is willing to do his part by keeping the mills open and the men employed—even if it must be at a lower wage if the county will cooperate with him by lowering taxes when the market is down.

5.—Last but not least, it is estimated that during the past seven years, ten per cent of the standing pine timber in some sections of the Klamath basin has been destroyed by ravages of the pine beetle. This timber is assessed as good timber whereas, as a matter of fact, it is a loss. In addition to suffering the terrible loss, the timberman has to pay taxes on something he hasn't got—an obvious injustice.

One reason sufficed for the request that mixed woods be withdrawn from the rolls but that one reason was stressed from every possible angle.

Under certain circumstances, mixed woods could be manufactured at a slight profit before the Southern Pacific's main line was completed. It was held, that because of the roundabout route fir had to be taken to reach Klamath consumption, but now, with the new line completed, mills just over the crest of the Cascades can ship fir into the Klamath country far cheaper than Klamath operators can manufacture it for their own use. Operators are not cutting it at all, for this reason. It is a dead loss to them.

General indignation was expressed by timbermen at the raise of timber along the G. N. extension. It was held that the increase was placed long before the timber holders could possibly benefit by the railroad construction. An analogy was struck of a man who lived on a side street and announced his plans for the construction next year of a big business block on the main business street. Under the assessor's plan he would be assessed for the investment he had announced but had not yet completed.

A. J. Vay, vice president of the Big Basin Lumber company, held that a same-brush tax would be as fair as a mixed woods tax. H. W. Bridgeford, general manager of the Pelican Bay Lumber company, said that 11,000 fir railroad ties were purchased outside of the county at 50 cents a thousand cheaper than the mill could turn them out.

C. Chapman, Weyerhaeuser representative, brought out that Klamath was defeating its own end by excessive taxation.

"Our idea is to eventually work out a perpetual cutting plan; a system whereby the timber will never be cut out," he told the board.

"That would be a wonderful thing for this country. It would insure a timber crop and payroll for years to come. But at the rate you are raising taxes we are forced to cut to protect our investment. The present idea in timber circles is reforestation, and it is certainly to your interest to second that idea as much as possible."

Mr. Chapman read convincing figures on pine beetle losses sustained by Klamath basin timber holders.

"It is so great that we do not want it to be known in its entirety just how much we have suffered from insect ravages," he said.

R. W. McCartney, Klamath manager of the Weyerhaeuser development in Klamath, warned the board to not follow in the footsteps of middlewestern states. "I have just come from Minnesota," he said "due to an unfair tax, timber holders were forced to cut their holdings. They could not conserve. So the have meant ruin. So the timber land is now bare and there are eight or nine counties that are bankrupt—large counties too. Reforestation, and perpetual cutting is the salvation of Klamath and Oregon. I trust that any attempt in this direction will not be stifled by high taxes."

Alex Hays, representative of the Long Bell Lumber company, chimed in with other lumbermen in advocating the 25 per cent tax reduction.

"Carrying charges on 14.00 stumpage are 25 cents a year," he stressed. "With that situation and with the fact that the lumber industry is the basis of prosperity here, it seems to me we are entitled to some consideration."

Mr. Sheppard, connected with the Forest Lumber company, said market conditions throughout the nation were bad and that the pine industry was having "hard sledding." He pointed out the danger in overtaxing "natural resources."

An impressive argument was voiced by Robert Moore, connected with the Shevlin Hixon Lumber company, whose timber was affected by the tax rate increase along the G. N. extension.

Mr. Moore said that the gross return from pine timber was from 15 to 18 per cent less than two years ago.

"We are faced with the problem of keeping our men employed," he said. "It has meant a wage reduction; in fact, some of our employees feeling that something had to be done, came to us and advocated wage reduction rather than stopping entirely. Substitutes—such as cardboard boxes—are making inroads into our industry. With these things in mind I was amazed to find that the taxes had been raised."

Mr. Bridgeford rose to state that according to a national report less than ten per cent of the nation's industries had made a profit last year.

Other speakers included R. H. Hovey, prominent timber holder, who dwelt on the tremendous roads made by pine beetles and who said that a mill in Klamath

My Favorite Quick Dessert

By Eud Bennett Nible
Film Star and Famous Hostess

Of all the quick desserts I've ever served, Loganberry Jellywell is my favorite.

I've never found a guest who did not like it. Many often comment on its delicious flavor.

It's better looking, too—clearer than other desserts of this type. It looks better when I serve it. This is an important point to me because I believe that all dishes, desserts especially, should be good looking, as well as delicious and healthful.
