Medford People Visit—

Petitions are being circulated in Jackson county which ask the county to improve the fair grounds near Medford so that the grounds can be used by the people at all times of the year, according to F. Fair, who was here from Medford yesterday. On Sunday 2000 people visited the fair grounds, where the airport is located, to inspect the new air liners which have been put on the coast run by the West Coast Air Transport company. The field was said to be a sea of mud but it is believed that this condition will be changed. Interest was intense in the inauguration of the air service for passengers but the Medford field was found to be too small to accommodate the large three-motored planes and work has been started to enlarge the field to care for the mammoth machines. Miss Jane Snedcor, of the Medford Garden club, was with Mr. Fair and they met with local people interested in this work. Grants Pass Courier, Grants Pass, Oregon.

These Socks Like Uncle's Collars

The mud-splashing motorist has been thwarted. Modern maids wear the same kind of material in her hose your Uncle Wilbur used to wear in his collars—which is to say rubber. Mildred Bosson of Philadelphia is wearing a pair of the rubberized stockings while her sister, Rose, is shown testing them by pouring water.
