WILLOS, KELLEY GRANTED STAY OF SEVEN DAYS
Reprieve Granted by Governor Patterson Late Yesterday
 SALEM, Ore., April 12, (AP)—Ellsworth Kelley and James Willos were not executed at the state penitentiary today as scheduled.
 A telegram sent Governor Patterson at Marshfield yesterday by Bradley Ewers, Portland attorney, and a later telephone conversation between the governor and Chief Justice John L. Hand of the state supreme court resulted in a reprieve of one week. This

Carnation Milk Company With Public Market Will Conduct Food Demonstration Saturday
 The Carnation Milk company will be here tomorrow, along with the Public Market, to the people of Klamath Falls at one of the largest food demonstrations ever held in the city. There will be 52 manufacturers and jobbers represented at the store, with their various products offered free all day Saturday to visitors.
 The Carnation company has been holding these food demonstrations all over the Northwest this year and Klamath Falls is being favored with tomorrow's big party due to the fact that it

AL SMITH TAKES REST IN SOUTH
Crowds Throng Various Stations Along Governor's Route
 ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 12, (AP)—Governor Smith of New York arrived here today for a vacation, his first to be spent in the south.
 He detained at Biltmore station in the suburbs where he was greeted by several thousand persons and after a brief welcoming ceremony went to Biltmore forest country club which will be his headquarters here.
 The governor's train travelled through western North Carolina. Crowds of men, women and children anxious to get a glimpse of him were at every station. Those at a number of points found that the democratic presidential candidate is a late riser and failed to see him.

CLAIM HOOVER WAS WRONGED

 sion that the farmers of New York state and of the country at large are deserving of a frank statement from you.
 Replying, Secretary Jardine said that he had "consistently refused to be drawn into a controversy on the unfounded charges, because he fully understood the motives of the small group that has been responsible for making them."
 "Under normal circumstances," he wrote, "I would not dignify these attacks, but I have come to the conclusion that the farmers of this country are entitled to know the facts because these charges seriously reflect upon the work of this department and the twenty thousand splendid people who are enlisted on its rolls."
Had Hoover Cooperation.
 "During the three years in which I have been secretary of agriculture, I have enjoyed the wholehearted and sympathetic support of Secretary Hoover in all matters pertaining to the administration of the department of agriculture and his actions always have been in the interest of the department's work and of the American farmer. In fact the records show that in many instances in which the work of the two departments was involved he was actually partial to the department of agriculture."
 Calling attention that much has been made of a statement that Hoover desired to absorb the foreign service work of the agriculture department, Jardine said the commerce secretary had signed a joint letter with him to the agricultural committees of congress endorsing companion bills "clearly defining" the foreign service activities of the two departments. He challenged anybody to "find a single fault" with this bill as it stands today.
 "During my administration," he added, "the department of agriculture and commerce have been closely cooperating and there has not been the slightest evidence of friction or misunderstanding. The full significance of such a happy state of affairs can only be appreciated when it is understood that in some lines of work there is great similarity, and it is difficult to prevent some duplication of effort."

FAMOUS HIKER IN CITY TODAY

 my two hobbies," said O'Connors. "Whenever I can give them a lift I do so, and that's my purpose in staying over one week. I hope to speak before the vets at their next meeting."
 On his last trip O'Connors has covered 1500 miles. He started from Binghamton, N. Y., and trudged across Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. He maintains a steady pace of four miles an hour and never tries to set a record-breaking pace. Thirty-five miles—nine hours—is as far as he has gone in one day.
 O'Connors is an ardent supporter of Al Smith for president. "He's a real man; one that has climbed from the masses," he said. "I knew him years ago in New York when he used to drive a team. At that time he wore a little brown derby perched on one side of his head."
