fore the republican. It was estimated that it would be completed by this afternoon.

Heading the list of district offices, the unofficial count revealed that A. L. Leavitt, incumbent, easily won the republican nomination for circuit judge with a heavy plurality over his two opponents, J. H. Napier and John Irwin. The standings: Leavitt, 1110; Napier, 573 and Irwin 545.

The democratic race between C. F. Stone and William Duncan for this office was closely contested, with the count giving Duncan 520 votes and Stone 518.

L. L. Low won the republican nomination for sheriff. It was apparent, with 1484 votes against 969 of his opponent, Hans Nylan. On the democratic ticket, Pat Winfrey won over Burt Hawkins, incumbent, and William Brock. Count: Winfrey 463; Hawkins 312, and Brock 123.

In the race for county commissioner on the democratic ticket Burrell Short won over E. M. Hammond, with 550 votes against 358 of his opponent, Silas Oberchain took the republican nomination for this office, in a in a no contest race.

Earl Whitlock, incumbent, was an easy winner in the county coroner contest on the republican ticket. There were no democratic candidates for the nomination. Count: Whitlock 1376; L. A. Towey 865, Dr. A. A. Soule 446.

C. R. DeLap, county clerk, was unopposed for the nomination, winning the republican nomination. The same was true of E. B. Henry, county engineer.

Miss Clara Calkins won the republican nomination for county treasurer with 1551 votes against the 925 votes of her opponent Mrs. C. E. Dennis.

Wilson S. Wiley swept the field in Klamath county for nomination for representative in congress from the second district, polling 1336 votes on the republican ticket. Wiley was leading Walter Pierce, democrat, three to one, among democratic voters.

For supreme court justice, John L. Rand received in this county 1583 votes; George Rossman, 1251 votes, and L. H. McMahan 631. Ed S. Piper polled 516 votes on the democratic ticket for secretary of state. Republican candidates for this nomination follow: T. B. Handley 539; Hal Hoss 545, and H. H. Corey 1002.

In his long career as undertaker Mr. Whitlock said he never had encountered a similar case. To think that any man in this day and age should battle with death in the most primitive surroundings with no chance to call a human being to his aid, but forced to wait until the gruesome death had fastened itself upon him, is more than Earl Whitlock could stand without a demonstration of deep emotion.

DEATH TOLL IN MATHER MOUNTS

tions were being made to bring them to the surface. Two of the bodies in the group of seven were unidentified.

MATHER, Pa., May 21. (AP)—The bodies of three score miners, victims of an explosion in Mather mine Saturday had been recovered up to this afternoon by rescuers who were passing the scene of the blast in an effort to learn the fate of 138 men entombed in the far recesses of the workings. Shortly after noon rescuers carried 13 additional bodies from the mine, making the known death toll sixty.

After finding nine bodies this morning near Butt 15, the rescuers pushed on, building air locks to carry the fresh air with them. At Butt 24, they came upon 11 bodies, some of them mangled and burned, indicating that the greatest force of the blast was felt in this region.

Henry Flier, loader, who left the mine a few minutes before the explosion spread death through the tunnels, said that practically all the bodies brought out so far were those of the day shift men.

WOMAN IN LA GRANDE SLAIN

ed the place about a month ago and became suspicious after his second visit. Sunday, in company with Red Gray of La Grande, he returned to the house and opened the front door. Going up-stairs they found the bedroom door nailed. Becoming alarmed, they called Deputy Sheriff Hugo Klinghammer, who opened the door and found her body on the bed.

The note, which was circled with chalk marks, was unsigned. It read:

"Everything in this house belongs to Mrs. Smith. I do not own one dollar's worth. The kitchen range is from Lilly's. I am legally of age, so none of her effects can be held for my debts, such as rent of this G—d—old shack and money I have borrowed from various ones. She once said if she ever died in La Grande she would want Snodgrass Zimmerman to have charge of the funeral. Mr. Snodgrass can be appointed administrator. But to repeat, there is not one lousy dollar against her car, estate or anything else she owns. Please do your best. Lot."

The "Lot" he referred to is Mr. Snodgrass.

No motive is known for the crime, although officers today were recalling that Smith had been seen with Robert Clark, who was found murdered west of La Grande during the winter, a short time before the supposed time of the crime. Smith discussed the murder of Clark at considerable length with a newspaper man after the body was found but no suspicions were held, either by officers or others.

Smith was a small man about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches in height and probably weighed about 125 to 135 pounds. He was loud voiced, talked slowly, had a tendency to be hard-boiled, and occasionally wore a sombrero. He claimed to be a detective and said that he had taken lessons in finger print work. He was friendly, talkative and by trade a lumber mill worker. There are reports about town he was an adopted son of Mrs. Smith.

Smith had a prominent Adams apple and nose. He talked of going to Idaho to get a position with the state road department.

Patrons of School District No. 1 Should See That Central School Property Is Sold and Open Up Ninth Street

We, the undersigned residents and taxpayers of the City of Klamath Falls, Ore., hereby wish to express our preference in the matter of the disposal of the Central school property at Ninth and Main streets.

Being familiar with the plan of the Board of Directors of School District No. 1 to dispose of this school site as a whole, reserving the East and West alley and a 60 foot strip of land for Ninth street through said property, we wish to assure the School Board of our co-operation in the disposal of this property under this plan.

We believe such a plan would be advantageous to the interests of the public. We also believe this plan would permit of the construction of the more substantial type of business buildings, resulting in increased taxable property in this vicinity of the city.

To dispose of a strip of land 60 feet in width fronting Main street, without provision for the opening of Ninth street, as proposed in the Evening Herald on May 18, would, in our opinion, seriously depreciate the value of the remaining portion of this site, as well as other property in the vicinity. Apparently only a cheap class of buildings could be erected on such a narrow strip of land on Main street and is not desirable from the standpoint of the future growth of Klamath Falls.

We believe the plan proposed in the Evening Herald of May 18 is highly impracticable and we hereby pledge our co-operation and support to the School Board in selling the school site as advertised, provided, of course, a reasonable bid for the property is submitted.

We wish to express our confidence in the School Board for carrying out pre-election promises in connection with the recent School Board election.
