Speed Of Zeppelin Reduced By Trouble With Stabilizer

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM SAYS RADIO

Damage to Huge Dirigible Being Repaired as Blimp Sails Across Sea

TIME CUT DOWN TO 40 MILES AN HOUR

No Serious Trouble With Stabilizer Anticipated by Experts; Crew and Passengers of Huge Blimp in High Spirits as Blimp Sails on Across Ocean.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. (AP)—The New York American in a copyrighted radio dispatch from its correspondent on the Graf Zeppelin today will say: That "there is no cause for alarm and the damage is being repaired." A further message said the aircraft's stabilizer was "settled" and that her speed was now 40 miles an hour.

NAVAL AIR STATION, Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 13. (AP)—Informed of the message from the Graf Zeppelin, in which it was stated that the dirigible was having trouble with her port horizontal stabilizer, officers of the air station said that the ship could make a landing on the ocean, if necessary, and that if the weather were not too rough, part of her would probably remain afloat for 24 hours or more.

Lieutenant Commander Wicks, said that the port horizontal of the German ship which was reported damaged, was undoubtedly the elevator rudder.

He expressed the opinion that if weather conditions were not too unfavorable, the ship could (Continued on Page Three)

YOUNG MAN OF KLAMATH DIES IN MT. SHASTA

Word of the passing of Oliver Paynter, popular young man of Klamath Falls at Mt. Shasta, California, late yesterday afternoon was received here by friends.

Paynter had been in poor health for some time and was taken to Mt. Shasta about two weeks ago, in hopes the change of altitude would improve his condition.

He was the son of J. L. Paynter of this city. For several years he took an active part in the Order of De Molay. He attended the Klamath high school.

The final rites will be held at Mt. Shasta tomorrow afternoon.

"Poor Pa" is such a spotless housekeeper that when we leave her home I feel like she's going over things with an oil rag and 'er rubbin' out all trace of us."

ENGINE BUMPS HAND CAR; 3 MEN INJURED

Anegio Aldered, Mexican section hand, sustained a broken left leg and his two companions incurred minor bruises yesterday morning, when the northbound Cascade Limited—one hour and twenty minutes late—struck their handcar near the Shaw-Bratman Lumber company.

The three men were attempting to remove the handcar from the main line of the Southern Pacific when the fast limited suddenly swung into view from around a bend. The car was struck and demolished by the big locomotive.

Although the three section hands were not on the car, the impact hurled them down the bank. Aldered was the only one of the three who was seriously hurt. He was rushed to the Southern Pacific hospital yesterday.

ELKS FINALE HELD TONIGHT

Following the largest second night attendance in the history of the celebration, the finale of the Elks' Western Nights annual "bar-room bust" will start at 8 o'clock and will close when the supply of groceries in the country store is exhausted.

Last night was probably the most colorful night of the celebration so far held, amid the laughter of the crowd, the shouts of the proprietors of the games, and the music of the dance many "bucks" changed hands.

Elks in attendance last night, dressed in the costumes of cowboys, miners, and other Western pioneers brought back the tang of a night in a Western dance hall, probably as nothing else could.

Tonight is expected to be the biggest night of the celebration, with many in attendance who usually go out only on week-end nights. The country store still has a full stock of groceries, and the games and dances seem to be increasing in popularity each night.

DEER BARBECUE HELD SUNDAY

The annual deer barbecue of the Klamath Sportsmen's association, one of the three feasts held each year by the association, will be held tomorrow afternoon at Crooked Creek hatchery at 2 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend. Sportsmen with membership cards are not required to pay admission. Others are merely required to pay the requisite $1.25 to join the association.

Barbecued deer and coffee will be the menu. If other food is desired, sportsmen are advised to bring it themselves.

Work Will Start Soon On New Bend Toll Line

With the right of way obtained and clearing under way, work will soon start on the construction of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company's main toll line, connecting Klamath Falls with Bend.

C. C. McFarland, construction foreman of the P. T. & T., has arrived in Klamath, and, after attending to less important jobs, will turn his sole attention to this main project.

Cost of the undertaking will run into several hundred thousand dollars—definite announcement has not been revealed by local P. T. & T. officials.

H. CULVER ARRIVES IN BIG PLANE

Nationally Known Man Will Deliver Address at Legion Hall Tonight

ARRIVES IN STINSON DETROIT MONOPLANE

Will Deliver Message From Republican National Committee and From Herbert Hoover, G. O. P. Candidate; 8 O'Clock Time Set For Meeting Tonight.

A modern campaigner, a republican courier of the skies dropped into the Klamath country in his big Stinson-Detroit monoplane this afternoon, and immediately proceeded to complete plans for his campaign address on behalf of the republican national committee tonight at the Legion hall.

He is Harold H. Culver, founder of Culver City, Calif., and president of the National Realty association.

Mr. Culver flew today from Sacramento to Klamath Falls in a few hours, was met by representatives of the republican county central committee at the air field south of Klamath Falls, and, with his pilot, was whisked to the Willard hotel, where he discussed (Continued on Page Three)

FIRE DAMAGES KLAMATH STORE

Fire, started by a defective chimney, swept the bedding department of the Claude Davis furniture store this morning, causing considerable loss.

Pillows, blankets and bedroom furniture on the balcony of the store were burned by the fire, which started shortly before 9 o'clock this morning.

The fire department was out on call for more than half an hour before the fire was completely under control.

The walls and floor of the rear of the store were damaged by smoke and water.

NEW DEPOT OF G. N. IS OPEN

Doors of the beautiful new Great Northern station, recently completed at a cost of $121,000, were opened to the public this morning.

The station stands out as one of the finest and most complete in the northwest, as well as on the Great Northern Lines. Over the week-end the station will be open with Great Northern officials present to conduct guests through.

Nothing has been overlooked in the way of fine furnishings and conveniences. Ornamental tiles of cream with woodwork finished in black walnut stain makes the waiting room outstanding. Here and there flower pots placed about add a finishing touch to the room.

Captured Birger Gangster

Illinois terrorism by the famed Birger gang was echoed in New York with the arrest of Leslie Simpson tonight. Simpson had been hunted around the world as an alleged participant with other gangsters in the murder of Mary Price, Illinois highway patrolman, and his wife in January, 1927. He was arrested as he stepped off a boat just arrived in New York from Egypt. He is pictured here with Sheriff George Bell, who took him to Illinois (Continued on Page Three)

Strain of Football Game Is Fatal to Max Newsom, Friday

Max Newsom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gail S. Newsom of this city, passed away in Ashland on Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

While engaged in playing football Friday afternoon, Newsom suddenly collapsed. He was carried from the field and rushed to the hospital, where he died. Dr. and Mrs. Newsom and their son Gail were at his bedside when the end came.

For many years young Newsom had been in poor health, suffering from heart trouble.

He had made Klamath Falls his home for many years. He graduated from the Klamath high school with the 1925 class. At the time of his passing he was attending Ashland Normal. Despite his poor health, Newsom always attempted to take an active part in sports, and was one of the popular young men of this community.

Dr. and Mrs. Newsom and son Gail had motored to the valley city yesterday to visit him and see the Oregon Normal football team play.

The remains are being brought to Klamath Falls this afternoon from the valley city, and will repose at the Earl Whitlock funeral home, Pine avenue at (Continued on Page Three)

W. HARRINGTON IS UNABLE TO FIGHT ON 17TH

Wilbur Harrington, Chiloquin pugilist, will be unable to appear in the semi-main event of the Chiloquin fight card on October 17. It was announced today by "Bobby" Allen, his manager.

Harrington is severely ill, and will be in no physical condition to fight.

LUTHERANS TO START CHURCH

To organize a Lutheran church in Klamath Falls, Dr. C. C. H. Jensen, Minneapolis, superintendent of Home Missions for the American Lutheran Conference, has arrived in Klamath Falls and will, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, deliver his initial sermon at the chamber of commerce forum rooms.

"I hope to form the nucleus of a Lutheran church in Klamath Falls from the group tomorrow morning," said Dr. Jensen. "All persons of Lutheran faith and anybody else who is interested are invited to attend the meeting tomorrow morning."

Dr. Jensen said that before he left Klamath Falls he planned to form a church organization

AL HIT BY LEADER OF DEMOCRATS

Senator Simmons Plays Alfred Smith and John J. Raskob

HYPOCRISY IS HELD PRINCIPAL TROUBLE

North Carolina Senator Urges All Solid South Democrats to Strongly Oppose Standard Bearer of Bourbon Party on Ground of Insincerity.

NEW BERN, N. C., Oct. 13. (AP)—Senator Fumford M. Simmons, democrat of North Carolina, has hurled at his party the accusation that its presidential campaign is one in which hypocrisy is the predominant factor.

Addressing a meeting of "Anti-Smith democrats" here last night, he declared that the party is waging a "militant liquor campaign" in the north while below the Mason and Dixon line it is evading the prohibition question (Continued on Page Three)

WHEAT YIELDS ON TULE LAKE ARE VERY GOOD

Tule lake homesteaders have harvested yields of wheat between 40 and 60 bushels to the acre and one phenomenal crop—that of J. Liddell—yielded 91 bushels to the acre, according to word received by C. A. Henderson, county agent.

"Remarkable yields on homestead land have been the order this season," said Mr. Henderson. "It all goes to show that Tule lake is one of the most fertile tracts of agricultural land in the west."

TO OUR ADVERTISERS

The Evening Herald has been late for the last few days owing to the large ads which are difficult to set and require time. We are going to ask all advertisers to get their copy in a day earlier in order that we can render them the service we know they desire. Human ability to do things is limited and while we are anxious that the very best service be rendered, we do also want this newspaper out on time. With this intense desire we ask that all join with us and get their copy in early so that the Herald may be on the streets at the usual time each evening.

QUAIL SEASON OPENS MONDAY

Quail season opens Monday.

For 17 days—from October 15 to October 31, inclusive—the season will be open on these birds, the gamest that fly in the Klamath country.

The limit is eight birds in one day or eight birds in any seven consecutive days. In other words, if the nimrod shoots his day's limit of eight, he cannot legally kill another quail until the following week.

All seasons are open from the 15th to the 31st—the fishing season, duck and goose season, snipe and coot season, pheasant season (on Sundays and Wednesdays) and the quail season.

Features Of Klamath Pumice Material Told

Firm in the belief that he has discovered a new building material, with Klamath pumice stone as its basis, which will revolutionize building material business, J. E. Glover, Klamath Falls, is attempting to arrange for the manufacture of his product in Klamath Falls.

Mr. Glover says he has secured a patent, and is now displaying the different properties of the material. One of the features of the material—which can be formed into any shape for building, even window frames and doors, tiling,

PETE O'CONNOR LOSES LEG IN GUN ACCIDENT

An "unloaded" gun discharged as it fell to the ground from a car in Malin yesterday afternoon and, as a result, Peter O'Connor, foreman of the Leonard Woodruff ranch of Fort Klamath lost his right leg below the knee.

O'Connor, Woodruff and Jack McAniff—O'Connor's brother-in-law—had just arrived in Malin.

As they stepped out of the machine, somebody accidentally pulled out the automobile robe. The gun, entangled in the robe, fell out of the machine onto the ground, exploding as it struck.

The 30-30 caliber bullet struck O'Connor's leg just above the foot. He was rushed to the Klamath Valley hospital where immediate amputation was declared necessary to save the man's life.

H. HUCK KILLED UNDER WHEELS

H. Huck, brakeman at the Forest logging camp, met instant death late Friday afternoon, when he was crushed beneath the wheels of several cars, loaded with logs.

Employed as a brakeman on the logging railroad, Huck was riding the cars, which had been pushed up the track by an engine, and left on the grade. Brakes were thought to have been set on the cars and the engine was uncoupled.

Suddenly the cars started down the grade, gathering momentum. Huck was still riding the cars, and after attempting to place the brakes, took a chance and jumped. He jumped too late, and was thrown directly beneath the wheels of the cars, which passed over his body.

The remains are at the Earl Whitlock funeral home, Pine avenue at Sixth, pending word from relatives in Washington.
