BIGGEST GAMES OF SEASON UP NEXT SATURDAY

New York U. Meets Undefeated Carnegie Tech Stars

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—Interest of the football world will not center upon any certain gridiron of any particular section of the country next Saturday.

In all sections games will be played which should rival the most thrilling encounters the season has produced thus far.

In the east, Army and Nebraska meet in an inter-sectional game at West Point; Yale and Harvard engage in their annual classic at New Haven; New York University meets Carnegie Tech., conquerors of Notre Dame at Pittsburgh, and Navy opposes Princeton at Philadelphia.

In the middle west, Wisconsin will attempt to clinch the big ten title by defeating Minnesota at Madison; Northwestern and Dartmouth furnish an inter-sectional attraction at Chicago; Michigan and Iowa clash at Ann Arbor, and Indiana goes to Purdue for the annual headliner in the Hoosier state.

The far west offers the perennial Stanford-California game at Berkeley and the southern California-Idaho battle at Los Angeles.

Years of tradition will hover over the New Haven gridiron as Yale and Harvard continue the battle they began in the first days of the game.

The mythical eastern title will hinge upon the outcome of the Carnegie-New York U. game and the Pittsburgh team, undefeated and untied. Probably will lay claim to all available honors should they stop the violet eleven.

Navy, winding up one of the most disappointing seasons the middies have ever experienced, will attempt to square matters at the expense of Princeton. In the past either Army or Navy could change a mediocre season into a most successful one by the simple expedient of trimming the other. Deprived of even this chance, the Middies probably will stake their all on a victory over the Tigers.

Wisconsin, for the first time in 16 years, is on the verge of a western conference championship. It almost is certain of a joint claim on the title but a victory over Minnesota would give Thistlewaite's charges undisputed claim to the topmost rung. In addition Minnesota and Wisconsin's rivalry is as old as the schools.

The Northwestern-Dartmouth game may produce any kind of football.

The Purdue-Indiana game will decide nothing except the ancient dispute between the two schools, and that only temporarily. They seem evenly matched.

NEWSPAPERMAN IS SUSPECTED OF BOND THEFT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21. (UP)—Kenneth O'Hara, 37, reporter of the Times-Picayune, was arrested here tonight in connection with the theft of $165,000 worth of liberty bonds from the First National Bank, Los Angeles, in April, 1926. The arrest was made on a description of a missing bank clerk, known as James O'Neil. O'Hara denied the charges.

FOXY PHANN The man that loses his head over drink generally gets it back the next morning

Ray McQuillan—a Negro Flash

Ever seen this boy before? Well, he's Ray McQuillan, Oakland, California, negro welterweight, whose invasion of Oregon to date has been met only with outstanding success. McQuillan upset the rising Jackie Carr for the count in a Portland main event recently and a few days prior to that gave Benny Botson a neat trimming in Chiloquin. The Botson fight was declared a draw, but the fans and the press were unanimous in proclaiming McQuillan the winner by a wide margin. At all events, Ray meets Del Allen, hard hitting La Grande boy in the main event of a Chiloquin fight card this evening.

R. Rose Proves His Weight To Sport Editor

I'll admit I look heavier than I am, but my weight is between 125 and 130 and I'll prove it, if you will step over to a reliable scales."

It was Roy Rose talking. He had fought Battling Cross in a preliminary fight last Thursday night and scored a technical knockout. From ringside he looked closer to 140 pounds than 125 pounds which was his announced weight.

So the sporting editor accompanied Rose and presently discovered with his clothes on—they weighed from 8 to ten pounds—he weighed 126 pounds.

NEW MANAGER OF ST. LOUIS IS APPOINTED

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Billy Southworth, outfielder on the St. Louis Cardinals' world's champion team of 1926 and manager last year of Rochester, N. Y. a Cardinal farm, today was named manager of the Cardinals, succeeding William McKechnie. President Sam Breadon withheld details of the one year contract.

WILLIS BEATS JOE ANDERSON

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Cowboy Jack Willis, San Francisco welterweight, won a decision over Joe Anderson, Covington, Kentucky, here last night in a hard fought ten round bout that found them both tired at the finish.

Willis staggered Anderson in the second round and put him down for no count in the ninth. The cowboy took four rounds, Joe three and three were even.

"WILDCAT" GETS STETSON IN 3RD

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21. (UP)—The Frankie Stetson—"Wildcat" Carter junior light-weight bout here last night was stopped in the third round and Carter was awarded the match on a technical knockout.

The San Franciscoan was no match for the negro and Carter held the upper hand all the way. The bout was scheduled for six rounds.

STANFORD MAD CLEAR THROUGH

Cardinals Aggravated When Bomb Burns Huge Bonfire For Rally

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 21. (AP)—With the Stanford University student body aroused to a fighting pitch and the University of California students resting with utmost confidence in their team, the two rival camps today were waiting the clash of their football teams in the big game Saturday.

The Stanfordites were aroused yesterday when their huge bonfire, scheduled to be burned at a rally tonight, was set on fire by a time bomb and was utterly consumed. All yesterday afternoon and last night the entire Cardinal student body worked feverishly to build another pile so that the bonfire might be held.

The Berkeley lads last night had guards stationed on Charter Hill to prevent the Big C there from being painted the Cardinal red. The guard will be maintained constantly until game time.

Meanwhile, little happened at the rival football camps, with both squads starting their tapering off practice. Thursday the Bears will leave for the Castlewood country club to remain there in seclusion until game time and the Stanford gridder will leave for their place of relaxation a day later.

All of the California players were in first class condition, while among the Cardinal players, Sellman, tackle, and Heinicke, center, were recovering from attacks of the flu.

1929 Schedule For N. D. Team Is Announced

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Notre Dame will meet ten opponents on the gridiron in 1929 coach Knute Rockne announced today, three of whom will be Western Conference teams.

Eight of the ten games have been definitely contracted, although dates have not been arranged. Two other games, one of which is expected to be with Southern California, will be added.

The schedule games include:

Army at New York; Navy at Baltimore; Wisconsin at South Bend; Northwestern at Evanston; Indiana at Bloomington; Georgia Tech at Atlanta; Pittsburgh at South Bend; Drake at Chicago. Cardinals Tech will not be played in 1929. Rockne said, but a contract has been made for a game in 1930.

Ruth Thought He Recognized Gehrig Ahead

FORE! GOSH—I DIDN'T KNOW GEHRIG PLAYED GOLF, HUG?

By AL DEMAREE

Former Pitcher New York Giants

The prodigious sixth and bulk of Lou Gehrig's underpins has always interested Babe Ruth and appealed to his sense of humor, probably because the Bambino, in spite of his size, has a pair of comparatively slender, neatly turned legs.

Herein possibly lies the secret of the difference in the hitting of the "larruping twins." Gehrig is just as good a hitter as Ruth, but he does not hit them quite as far. The Babe can pivot better before his swing on his slender legs and ankles than Lou can on his bulky, ponderous ones. This gives Ruth a better "purchase" on the ball, as it is called by John McGraw.

Ruth, Miller Huggins, Gene Conley and myself were playing golf one day at the Jungle Country Club, Florida, when the Babe caught sight of a prodigiously fat woman with legs of maeostedonic proportions playing just ahead of us.

Ruth gave a fleeting glance at the lady's gigantic underpins and remarked to Miller Huggins: "Gosh, Hug! I didn't know Gehrig ever played golf."

YALE STUDENTS ARE CALLED MODERN PAGANS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21. (UP)—Yale students were branded as "Pagans" because of their refusal to attend chapel, in a letter in the Yale Daily News today by the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, Yale '25. Rev. Richmond said the Yale students did not measure up to "those high moral and religious standing which we still meet in English university life."

A. A. U. ELECTS BRUNDAGE HEAD

Will Meet in St. Louis in 1930; Friendship With Colleges, Policy

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (UP)—The fortieth annual convention of the Amateur Athletic Union closed at the Waldorf Astoria hotel today with the middleweight and west in possession of the three prize awards—the presidency, the 1929 convention, and the national senior and junior outdoor track and field championships.

St. Louis Chosen

Avery Brundage, a 42-year-old Chicago bridge contractor, was unanimously elected president to succeed Murray Halbert, New York, who has been president since 1924. Brundage is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and was a member of the Olympic team of 1912.

The next meeting was unanimously awarded to St. Louis. The track and field championships were awarded to the University of Denver at the opening day's session.

In making the three outstanding awards to the middleweight and west, the convention took a long stride towards closer relationship between the colleges and the A.A.U.

Friendly to Colleges

"We are extending a hand of friendship to the colleges," Brundage said, "most of the attack of the western colleges on the A.A.U. in the past has been based on the fact that it was an eastern organization."

In accepting the presidency, Brundage deplored commercialism in sport and advocated a steadfast war against "this growing evil."

In discussing professionalism in sports, he said the promoters were largely to blame for most of the violations of the amateur rules by athletes.

"We do not need any more rules," he said. "We have enough. What we have to do is to enforce those we have. It is the administration of these rules that I will primarily interest myself in."

Advocates Campaign

He urged the A.A.U. to develop three branches of athletics—industrial, playground and junior novice events—from which, he said, "our future champions will come."

He said one of the first things he planned to do as president was to recommend to the American Olympic committee that a campaign be put on soon to raise $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 for a trust fund for the 1932 Olympic games at Los Angeles. He pointed out that in four years' time the interest from the fund would be sufficient to take care of the Olympic expenses.

Officers Elected

Other officers elected follow: First vice president: Judge Frederick L. Hoffman, Cincinnati.

Second vice president: Herman Obertubbing, New York.

Third vice president: Harry Matoney, Stanford, Palo Alto, Calif.

Fourth vice president: Joseph T. England, Baltimore.

Secretary-treasurer and delegate-at-large: Dan Ferris, New York.

PAUL JONES TO GRAPPLE WITH LEWIS TONIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21. (AP)—Paul Jones, Houston, Texas, body-scorers exponent, will attempt to topple Ed "Strangler" Lewis from his heavyweight wrestling throne here tonight, tackling the champion in a best two out of three falls finish match.

Jones will be outweighed by more than a score of pounds. Experience and strength also favor the champion, but the Texan is expected to give Lewis a gruelling battle.

Ira Dera, 200 pound Salt Lake grappler, is matched with Bill Shaw of Cleveland, Ohio, in the semi-windup, a one fall, one-hour limit affair.

UNCOVER PLOT FOR WHOLESALE JAIL BREAK

BOSTON, Nov. 21. (UP)—Investigation of the attempted jail-break of Charles Trippi from Charleston state prison last Sunday, during which one guard was killed, has led to the discovery of a plan for a wholesale jail break, involving smuggling of guns into the jail.

Pigskin Expert

AUSTRALIAN TEACHES THE TROJANS HOW TO KICK AND TO PASS.

This young man came all the way from Australia at the request of Southern California grid officials to teach Trojan football candidates how to pass and punt. He is E. G. Greaves, famous soccer player of that country. Greaves is said to be able to hit a coin as far away as 30 yards with either a pass or a punt and is expected to improve both the kicking and the passing of the Howard Jones eleven this year.

WING WINS ON FOUL IN THIRD

Semi-Windup Also Ends When Low Blow Is Struck

LA GRANDE, Ore., Nov. 21. (AP)—Tuffy Wing, Portland, won from Curly Johnson, Boise, 115 pounds, in the third round of a scheduled ten round main event here last night on a foul. Until the referee stopped the fight, Wing was outboxing Johnson.

The semi-final also ended with a foul. Bud Woodfin, Baker, was given the nod in the fourth when Cliff Terry, Walla Walla, hit him low for a count of 10. Brick Anderson, La Grande, and Eddie Collins, Salt Lake City, fought a four round draw.

Eck Worden kayped Vernon Coleman in the first round with a body smash. The card opened the new Jefferson Avenue arena here, Phil H. Williams is promoter.

GAME WARDENS STAGE RAID

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21. (AP)—Raids by game wardens on markets and one hotel, followed reports that untaged wild game was being sold. The proprietor of one market was arrested. Several wild birds were found in other places, and untaged birds were found in the hotel which was visited by the officers. The plan had been to place on sale a few of the wild ducks and geese along with domestic fowls.

PACK THE PUNCH FOR NEBRASKA

Coach Bear doesn't have Glenn Presnell, his great back of 1927, to worry opponents this year, but he does have a mighty sweet back in Blue Howell, co-captain of the team. Howell stands out as one of the best, if not the best, back of his section this year.

Other stars of the Nebraska team are Holm, a guard, who shares the captainship with Howell; Glenn Munn, a brother of Monte and Wayne Munn, a tackle; Dan McMullen, a big guard, and Clair Sloan, another shifty back.

Insects Love Old Sinks

INSECTS like to nest in damp places in the home.

An old-fashioned kitchen sink is a paradise for them. Why put up with this menace to health?

A modern, sanitary sink will eliminate them for all time and guard you against disease germs, too.

Besides, it will bring Mother out of the kitchen quicker!

We will show you the newest designs.
