Is Klamath Falls Ready?

IS KLAMATH prepared for the population increase of from 3,000 to 5,000 that will come when the new Weyerhaeuser mill is in operation? Are there enough facilities to absorb this sudden growth without inconvenience or hardship on the newcomers?

Only a cursory survey of the city's housing facilities today impels one to answer "no."

This inevitable influx of new people brought by the new mill operation is a real problem which should be considered and solved by various public and quasi-public groups of Klamath.

First and foremost it should be determined, as near as possible, the exact number of new citizens who will move to Klamath coincident with the opening of the Weyerhaeuser operation. Second, a survey should be conducted in Klamath for housing facilities. Third, civic bodies should take it on themselves to prevent any exploitation by so called "boomers" who are anxious to boost rentals sky high and place exorbitant prices on properties.

Growth

IF ONE desires to describe the growth of Klamath Falls since 1923, building permits can tell the story briefly and clearly.

Within the city limits of Klamath Falls, the stupendous sum of $9,008,197 has been expended on building from the year 1923 to the end of the ninth month of 1928 inclusive.

Without discounting the steady development experienced by Medford and La Grande it is interesting to compare building in those two progressive cities with Klamath Falls during the same period.

Medford shows a total of $3,710,191; La Grande, $2,273,955; Klamath Falls, $9,008,197.

It's vanity that makes you self-conscious. A man is at ease in overalls because he knows people aren't noticing him.

You can tell a Moron by the joyous look on his face when he has succeeded in gilding the conversation with the one foreign.

In the old days there were pictures like those in the magazine ads, but not in ads. Newsboys sold them to naughty men on trains.

Of course helium is nice and safe around fire, but what we need is a gas that is safe to step on.

In a little while now Mr. Coolidge will understand how a used blade and a used car feel.

There's one nice thing about a straw vote. You can give your prejudice free rein without disturbing business.

Announcement of the establishment of a "Flop House" at 605 Klamath avenue, in the basement of the Kerns building by E. C. Jernoe, was made today. De Molay Meeting Thursday

The regular meeting of the Order of De Molay is planned for Thursday evening.

FRANK J. WILDE IS FINED $250

Pleading guilty to the charge of possession and sale of intoxicating liquor, Frank J. Wilde paid a fine of $250 when brought before W. B. Barnes, justice of the peace.

The place owned by Wilde is located near the Shaw-Bertram camp. The arrest of Wilde was made by officers L. Ackerman, Louis Mueller and Harry Ingling.

Ackerman first appeared at the pool hall, near Chemault and after convincing the proprietor he was not a prohibition officer but interested in buying the place, he purchased the liquor, which was used as evidence. The car of Wilde was confiscated when officers found three gallons of liquor hidden in the back seat.

Reserve of Three Billion Proposed

In accordance with the proposals outlined at the time of the unemployment conference in 1922.

Organization for prosperity, he said, is the next lesson America may trace to the nations of the world.

The Governor said that America emulates tantalus, the mythological personage who lived in the presence of plenty but never could touch it.

"Such conditions," he said, "constitute a tragedy and a travesty upon the organizing genius of American business men."

"With the annual expenditure of seven billions upon construction, America is in a position to stabilize prosperity to a most remarkable extent," he added. "Public authority spends more than a billion and a half. With this we are here primarily concerned."

"Private business will soon follow such practical demonstration as the government may make since the great commercial interests of the country have the most vital stake. This may apply not only to construction, but to the renewal and extension of capital facilities of every sort. It is considered recommendation of the one who has received the overwhelming mandate of the American people to guide and guard their progress in the next four years that a construction reserve may prudently be accumulated in time of plenty against the lean year that is to come.

"This involves simply the provision of the necessary funds or credit to be released when indexes shall indicate the need of such designation of projects as may commend itself to the authority concerned."

Governor Brewster told the Governors that no infringement of legislative prerogatives was contemplated, because no project could be carried out except as the legislature might direct, although the rapidity of the construction program within defined limits could be accelerated or retarded to synchronize with national and local needs.

"Creation of such a construction reserve," he continued, "is one of the best forms of insurance against the panics of our past. It may not be a cure-all but it certainly will alleviate our ills. In some measure it is possible to do for employment what the federal reserve system has done for finance and with equal advantage to the country as a whole.

"Picture the approach of an economic crisis with unemployment threatening in every hand. The release of three billions in construction contracts by public and quasi-public authorities would remedy or ameliorate the situation in the twinkling of an eye. Federal indexes are already becoming available that remove the problem from the domain of speculation or opinion and place the need upon a basis of simple facts."

Third Reserve Is Opposed In City

ernment had set aside one huge area in Tule Lake as a reserve and established another sanctuary in the upper Klamath basin.

Orchestra Well Received—The Girls League Orchestra of the Klamath Union high school furnished music for the noon luncheon of the chamber of commerce today. They were well received and encored several times.

Oil Query Breaks Out Once Again

had two others for company.

The District of Columbia court of appeals asked the supreme court for interpretations on five points involved in the appeal of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, now under sentence for contempt of the senate, and Senator Borah of Idaho, has begun returning $8,000 which he received as part of a prospective fund of $160,000 which he intended to return to Sinclair.

Sinclair gave the $160,000 to the republican party in 1920 and when the circumstances of the gift came to light, Senator Borah demanded its return. He announced that he would receive voluntary contributions to "purge" the Sinclair contribution.

That was some months ago. He began parceling out $8,000 to 340 persons yesterday. Asked about the interest on the money, Borah smiled and replied: "I can say I am not charging anything for my services."

Stewart, tall, thick-set and gray haired, showed his joy at his acquittal yesterday by giving each of the three women jurors a hearty hug. He has twice been brought to trial after facing a senate committee and has twice gone free, being acquitted in May on a contempt charge.

The oil magnate's defense was chiefly the contention that there was not a quorum of the senate present when he testified, and the official record of the public lands committee was also attacked.

The ruling of Justice Jennings Bailey, who presided, on the absence or presence of a quorum was criticized by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, after the verdict.

"Such decision," the senator said, "have made our jurisprudence the laughing stock of the civilized world."

Senator Walsh, who has figured quite prominently in the oil investigations to date, in making the announcement that he thought still more probing was needed said:

"I want to know why Mr. Work stood by this renewal. I am led to believe that he knew of the invalidity of the lease before he gave up his office as secretary."

SUGAR MAKES EATING A JOY

Why eat unflavored, unappetizing foods?

A change is coming over the well-informed eating ideas of this country. For a time, food faddists tried to make us believe that we had to eat all kinds of things we didn't like in order to be healthy.

Good sense is beginning to assert itself and we now know that the foods that are good for us may also be the most enjoyable. In fact, if we don't like the healthful foods, we probably won't eat them.

Prominent medical and other scientific authorities are now reminding us that appetizing flavors may be developed and improved by sugar. One well-known scientist, for example, states that "fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Fruit acids are softened by sugar."

The only safe rule for a healthful diet is to eat as large a variety of foods as possible, including healthful cereals, fruits and vegetables made appetizing to the taste by the judicious use of sugar. Sugar is not only nutriment in its least costly form. It is Nature's perfect flavor. Sugar develops the appetizing quality of nearly all fruits. Desserts of fresh or cooked fruits are growing more and more popular. Modern candy containing fruits, nuts and pure sugar is delicious and satisfying at the end of a meal.

No one should overeat or under-exercise, but everyone, in order to be healthy, should eat plenty of healthful foods and enjoy them. The Sugar Institute.

R. W. Price Speaks At Local Chamber

total to be doubled by the Southern Pacific.

For instance, should this section raise $1000, the Portland chamber of commerce would match this money. Then the Southern Pacific would add another $2000 to this, making $4000 for advertising this community," Mr. Price explained.

According to the plan being worked out, each community would write up its own advertising and publicity.

In the opinion of Mr. Price the time to catch people on advertising through Southern California is from February until June. He believes that it is during this time that Southern California is filled with people from throughout the East.

"I believe, for the time at least, before we are able to do national advertising, which will be some years yet, we should center our thoughts on Southern California. It is hard to realize that Los Angeles and San Francisco and bay districts have a greater population than the entire state of Oregon; nevertheless it is true. These people are just two days away from us by train, and just an enjoyable trip of three days by motor."

"Portland realizes more than ever that in order for the leading metropolis to grow and prosper, the entire state must be helped, and for this reason the Portland chamber of commerce is behind this campaign for state-wide advertising," Mr. Price said.

The Girls' League orchestra of the Klamath Union high school, under the direction of Miss Katherine Ulrich, rendered several selections during the luncheon hour which were heartily received.

Ted H. Gillenwaters, attorney; Otto Ellis, manager of Postal Telegraph and Joseph Justin of Justin-Montgomery, were new members who attended today for the first time. Henry Perkins presided as chairman.

"Through with the Ring" but still 100% fit
GENE TUNNEY may have put off the gloves for good. But he's too wise a man to give up the priceless habits of physical training that stood him in such good stead in his profession.
Just before his last fight, Tunney said:
"I started taking Nujol internally seven years ago. The first month Nujol brought remarkable changes in my physical condition. My elimination became active and normal. My appetite increased and a desire for intensive training was treated. Since that time I have taken Nujol about five nights a week. I have regulated myself to the amount necessary to keep my elimination normal. I have found during my seven years' experience with Nujol that it is not habit-forming, or in any way unpleasant or harmful."
Nujol is not a medicine. It contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. It is simply a pure substance—perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 26 Broadway, New York. It not only prevents excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them) but aids in their removal in sealed packages only. Buy a bottle of Nujol today.
