

SURFACING OF ROAD IS URGED

Over this partially unimproved road, it is pointed out that the highway would be one of the most scenic in central and south central Oregon.

Following is the letter: State Highway Commission and Forest Supervisor of the Greater National Forest, Benton:

We are writing to request you to provide for the allocation of funds for improvement work during the coming year on the highway known as the West-Side Road, which traverses a portion of the West side of the Upper Klamath Lake in the Crater National Forest.

This route has been recently designated by the Forest Service as a Forest Road. It constitutes a most important link in the only thoroughfare in Western Klamath County, the traffic on which is yearly growing increasingly heavy.

A surfaced county highway from Klamath Falls has now been completed a large portion of the way to the southern boundary of the National Forest and arrangements are being completed this fall by the County Court for the early construction of a highway to the north of the Forest boundary under the Market Road Classification which would, with the Forest Road improvement, come near to completing a year round highway through an immense district that is at present isolated during several months of the year, as well as accommodate many thousands of Crater Lake visitors during the tourist season. It would also relieve to a considerable degree the heavy traffic that is already a problem for the macadamized road on the east side of the lake.

Construction of the above mentioned road, together with the large amount of work already done in Jackson County on the Lake of the Woods Road will go a long way toward providing another much needed connecting link between Medford, Ashland and Klamath Falls.

We hope that you will see your way clear to cooperate with us in this matter.

Very sincerely yours,
KLAMATH COUNTY
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
FRED FLEET, Director.

VACATION WORK BEING PLANNED

Attention concerning advancement, salaries and working conditions. Attendance at the talks will generally be limited to members of the freshmen and sophomore classes. Pupils hearing the talks will be required to make short written reports on them.

The group conferences which will be arranged for members of the junior and senior classes who have a common interest in a particular vocation will be more informal than the talks and pupils will have the opportunity to ask questions about particular points that interest them.

Several business and professional men have offered to give their time for personal interviews and these will be arranged for a limited number of older pupils.

In order to secure information on which assignments to the various activities will be based, the vocational guidance committee has prepared record cards with blanks to be filled in by the pupils. These will indicate the kinds of school activity that the pupils have engaged in and what occupations they prefer.

Members of the Kiwanis committee and of the high school faculty are enthusiastic over the plans for the vocational guidance work and believe that much of real value will be accomplished during the year.

O'NEILL SEEKS PEACE, QUIET

"I came to China seeking peace and quiet and hoping that here at least, people would mind their business and allow me to mind mine. But I have found more snoots and gossips per square inch than there is in any New England town of 1,000 inhabitants. This does not apply to American newspaper correspondents who have been most decent, carrying out their duties in a most gentlemanly manner.

"My bronchitis cough is gone, my nerves are returning to normal and I expect to be in the pink of condition in the shortest time."

KING DISPLAYS IMPROVEMENT

The crowd on hand to watch the posting of this morning's bulletin was larger than usual because of the sensational nature of yesterday's developments and widespread concern as to how His Majesty had stood the shock of the operation.

The crowd surged forward eagerly to read the report when it was placed on the palace railings. Among the spectators was an old army pensioner who had been waiting in the cold for hours and had watched the changing of the guard. He smiled with satisfaction as did many others when it was seen that the bulletin was of a somewhat reassuring character.

Kiddies Will Get Stockings Full of Candy

So that every youngster of Santa Claus age in the city will receive a stocking filled with candy, nuts and pop corn balls, a Christmas fund dance given by the men of fire and police departments will be staged at the Winter Garden on Friday night.

Already more than 500 tickets have been sold to the dance. Jack Bowring's orchestra will provide the music.

"It will be necessary to raise at least $1000 to provide the needy children of the city with a stocking filled with goodies", Keith Ambrose, chief of police stated today.

"Any money left over will be used throughout the year for needy families, which we are constantly hearing of," he concluded.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will provide the tree which is expected here within the coming few days. The massive tree will be placed outside the City Hall.

Santa Claus will deliver the presents from the tree on Christmas eve.

Already more than one ton of candy, 1500 pounds of nuts and 4000 pop corn balls have been purchased.

RICH ILLINOIS MAN MURDERED

chased Mrs. Hundley up a back stairway. Killing her instantly with three pistol shots, he turned off the lights, went out the front door, locked it, and escaped.

Neighbors, awakened by the shots, entered by a back door and found Mrs. Hundley dead and Hundley unconscious. He died shortly afterward. Mrs. Hundley, his second wife was 67 years old.

Revenge for a killing of nearly 40 years ago suggested itself to police as a motive for Hundley's slaying. He once killed a music teacher, they recalled, for holding a tryst with his first wife, who obtained a divorce soon after the killing, now lives in Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Hundley was shot, police believed, because the slayer feared she might recognize him. Her pocket book was found near the front door as if dropped by the slayer in his haste to escape. Hundley's watch, which he held when shot, was not taken, and his pocket book was untouched.

It was the slayer's failure to take any loot from the wealthy couple that strengthened police belief in their theory of revenge.

found the half gallon of whiskey which Riddle had hidden just a few minutes before the fatal fight between he and Baker. It was a dispute over the moonshine that led to the fight.

Baker and his wife, Marie Baker, were guilty of a crime according to their own confession, according to a verdict by a coroner's jury late yesterday following an inquest.

The jury held that Riddle had been killed and that death "being caused by blows struck on the head by a blunt instrument or instruments, and that Burton Baker and Marie Baker are guilty of a crime thereby according to a confession made by them to the agents of the U. S. A."

The verdict was signed by the six jurors: Marion Hanks, Fred E. Fleet, J. E. Franey, E. S. Hall, Walter West and B. S. Grigsby.

"Recess!" announced the court. The young mother arose and went to an adjoining room. Tenderly she lifted the little pink bundle from its crib. She pressed her lips lightly to the tiny head. The red face, damp with tears, slowly relaxed. The crying changed to a gurgle.

elect. The cold drizzling rain yesterday had presented a gloomy day for the reception, but the clouds had cleared this morning and the entire city, gaily decorated, took on a carnival appearance.

Electrically lighted festoons were installed the entire length of the Avenida de Mayo, the principal thoroughfare, from the government palace to the capitol building. Intertwined were the United States and Argentine flags, signs of welcome to Mr. Hoover were displayed on buildings and in shop windows while the principal office building displayed numerous American and Argentine flags.

La Nacion published an elaborate Hoover special edition as did the other principal morning papers and the entire press, in editorials eulogized and welcomed the American party.

The official program for tomorrow was still tentative today, awaiting approval from Mr. Hoover himself. The chief event, however will be a banquet for men only in the "Salon Blanco" (White Room) of the government house, with President Irbegoyen as host. At the same time the wife of the civil governor of the province of Buenos Aires will give a dinner in honor of Mrs.

Hoover to which wives of members of the diplomatic corps have been invited.

Saturday night there will be a gala performance at the Teatro Colon. Acts of the grand opera Alda and a typical Spanish ensemble will be on the program. While Mr. Hoover is here he will also have an opportunity to inspect the harbor of Buenos Aires, the Central produce market and the Big Meat Refrigerator plants.
