$30,000,000 COULDN'T BUY HAPPINESS FOR—

THE RICHEST GIRL IN THE WORLD

And Now the Romance of Catherine Barker, Famous Heiress, Is Wrecked on Rocks of Divorce

By NEA Service—MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Dec. 10.—The woman who used to be called "the richest little girl in the world" has discovered once more that $30,000,000 is no insurance against happiness. Catherine Barker Spaulding, whom the newspapers for 15 years ago called "America's Bertha Krupp," has filed suit for divorce in Chicago against Howard H. Spaulding, Jr., well-to-do Chicago clubman and lumberman, to whom she was married in 1915. She accuses him of drunkenness, saying that he has been habitually a heavy drinker for two years.

Although she was born into conditions seemingly as fortunate as a girl could ask, this heiress has had a life clouded several times by trouble. Is Left An Orphan: It was in 1896 that Catherine Barker was born, only child of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Barker. Barker was the head of the big Haskell & Barker Car company plant here, and was extremely wealthy. As a child, Catherine had everything that wealth could bring. She made a number of trips to Europe before she had reached her teens, had private tutors to give her her lessons, spent her summers when not traveling with her parents—at their summer mansion at Harbor Point, Mich., on picturesque Little Traverse Bay. One would have said that life was bound to be very good to her. But it was not. When she was 14, attending a private school at Detroit, she was called home to the death bed of her mother. Six months after her mother died her father also died. She was an orphan—worth a great fortune, to be sure, but a lonely little girl, nevertheless.

SUES HER HUSBAND

principally in Chicago, although they maintained the magnificent Barker mansion here.

Have No Children

Some time ago rumors were current among their friends here and in Chicago that there were differences and disagreements between the two, but these were believed to have been settled satisfactorily, and the filing of the divorce petition came as a surprise even to close acquaintances. They have no children.
