

RIEGELS GIVES OUT NO ALIBIS

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2. (A. P.)—Loss of his sense of direction was the factor responsible for the run of Captain-elect Roy Riegels toward his own goal posts in the Tournament of Roses classic here yesterday between the University of California and Georgia Tech, the Golden Bear center explained today.

Riegels denied that he had been hurt and as a result was unconscious of what he was doing. "I was running toward the sidelines and when I picked up the ball, I started to turn to my left toward Tech's goal. Somebody shoved me and I bounced right off into a touch tackle. In pivoting to get away from him I completely lost my bearings."

"I wasn't out of my head at all and I hadn't been hurt. I think I showed that when I came back in the second half and played through."

Riegels displayed a splendid brand of football in the second half and blocked a Tech punt on one occasion.

Coach "Nibs" Price of the California team had nothing but praise for his center.

"Certainly I was amazed when I saw Riegels running in the wrong direction," he said, "but I'm not blaming the boy nor do I want his future hurt by the play. It might have happened to any of us. Riegels is the smartest boy on the squad."

"I yanked him immediately after the fatal run because I thought he was hurt. He came to the bench and was terribly dejected, saying he believed this would ruin his life."

"I told him 'nonsense.' I look for him to be the outstanding player of the Pacific coast next season. He played marvelously during the second half."

BOARD STAGES "HOT" MEETING

A "red hot" meeting of chamber of commerce directors marked the Wednesday luncheon when practically a full attendance greeted President H. N. Moe for the first gathering of the new year.

The committee appointed to pass on the proposition of supporting a movement to turn the old high school property over to the state for armory purposes reported back unfavorably. Immediately Director Cliff Dunn offered the building material, including the heating plant in the old Central school building to the city or state provided it would be removed from the ground and constructed into an armory. Other phases of armory matter were discussed and finally the whole affair was laid on the table for future consideration.

Walter West reported on the Southern Oregon and Northern California Development association meeting recently held at Medford, giving names of officers and the program outlined. It consists of an effort to connect the Weyerhaeuser logging road with the Owens-Oregon logging road on the mountain west of Klamath Falls thus giving direct rail connection to Medford. According to Mr. West when the two companies will have completed their present extensions there will be but twelve miles of railroad to build to make the connection.

Henry Perkins, as head of the advertising committee, reported favorably on a plan to join with Multnomah county in an effort to get the legislature at its session this winter to pass a law permitting counties to levy a heavier advertising fund. This brought heavy discussion. Governor Patterson has lately appointed a special advertising committee for Oregon and the board finally decided not to take action on the Perkins report until more had been heard from the special committee.

Another legislative matter showed up urging a law permitting railroads to grant transportation to chamber of commerce secretaries in the state. The board was hopelessly split on this issue and the argument went round and round but finally passed.

The American Legion's request for the chamber of commerce support for their big Fourth of July celebration was granted unanimously.

Bert C. Thomas reported back on his request to Federal District Attorney George Senner to have adequate quarters included in the federal building for his court. The report indicated that Mr. Senner could do little to help the cause and immediately Secretary Reynolds was instructed to take up the whole federal building matter with the Oregon delegation in congress.
