IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

Charley Long Badly Beaten By Sam Baker

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 23. (A. P.)—Sergeant Sammy Baker never was in danger at any time last night while his ten-round match with Charley Long, Omaha negro boxer, was in progress. On the other hand, never was a more gammer exhibition witnessed here than that given by Long. Baker played a constant tattoo with rights and lefts on the colored boy's face from the second round until the end of the battle and only once, in the last stanza, did the colored boy fail to come right back for more and then only because his feet temporarily failed him when he was in distress from Baker's punishing blows.

The Ted Rogoway-Buzz Burrell feud ended in a draw after six rounds of fast work.

Mike Brotherton, Walla Walla, stayed six rounds with Bob-Marjels although the latter seemingly had him in a bad way several times. Marjels suffered a broken thumb in the fourth round.

Jack Burbank bested Johnnie Topaz in four rounds of head-to-head infighting, and Billy Church took a four round decision over Indian Britt, Salem, in the curtain raiser.
