SHARKEY WINS DECISION FROM W. STRIBLING

Georgia Peach Makes Strong Bid But Lacks Stamina to Put It Over

By ALAN J. GOULD
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 25. (AP)—The impetuous flying of south, it seems, isn't enough. Young Stribling, idol of the south and a veteran of pugilism despite his 23 years, had his fling last night but at the end of the strenuous melodrama of Miami Beach, the official decision went to Jack Sharkey, the donk, chunky and hard hitting sailor from down east.

In a ten round match that was alternately fast and dull, hard fought and close, it punctuated with few real moments of thrilling excitement, Sharkey overcame a big lead on points piled up by Stribling in the first six rounds and won with a strong finish throughout the last four rounds.

The battling Bostonian had his hand lifted aloft as the victor by referee Lou Magnolia of New York, but his margin of victory was thin and far from convincing, either to a majority of experts or to most of the crowd of 10,000 that was packed in the picturesque setting of Flamingo park.

Sharkey Gets Six Rounds Magnolia, sole arbiter of the battle, did not hesitate to lift Sharkey's hand, nor did his score sheet, showing six rounds for the Boston boxer, three for Stribling, and one even, leave room for any doubt in his mind. Ringside critics, although widely at variance in their opinions, were not far from unanimous in agreement with the verdict. The majority in a poll taken by the Associated Press, credited Sharkey with one more than a single round's margin. But only about one out of every twelve in the critical group assembled around the ring believed Stribling was entitled to victory or at least a draw.

Socks Sharkey On Jaw Stribling, outweighed and outboxed, but not out gamed, fought the more spectacular fight. He furnished the one big moment of drama in the fourth round when he caught Sharkey flush on the left temple with an overhand right that staggered the Boston sailor and made his knees sag momentarily. Then, as at other times however, the gallant Georgian was unable to follow up his advantage.

Sharkey in better fighting condition, was woefully slow, ineffective and wild at times but he fought the more business like fight. He won by the colorless but nevertheless effective method of pounding Stribling's body until he was sore, bruised and blotchy red. That punishing mode of attack slowly but certainly took the steam from Stribling's own offensive, slowed up his plunger and wore down his resistance in a bout that was filled with plenty of pushing and pulling and huzzing.

$400,000 Gate Of the crowd of some 40,000, about 35,000 contributed to an astonishing "gate" estimated at $400,000 for the venture that Tex Rickard planned as a big gamble and which his successors, led by Jack Dempsey and "Big Bill" Carey, saw through to success only after many misgivings. Probably thousands in the crowd came to see how it could be done, skeptical perhaps to the last, when the gates finally were closed and a sell-out announced.

It was, altogether, a great show in which the big fight itself seemed in the end only a major item, the climax but not the whole thing. For the famous figures of sports, of business, politics, and society, this spectacle was something to see.

Lacked Stamina Stribling made the big gamble and lost, but the crowd applauded him or it. Naturally enough, the personal sympathies of most of those in the arena, coming from the south, were with the Georgian. But he had neither the stamina nor the punching power to sustain an offensive that up until the last few rounds gave him the chance to win.

Stribling threw everything he had into the first half of the fight. When his big bid for a knockout in the fourth failed, he seemed to lose spirit. After the sixth, he was a tired youth, always dangerous, but steadily being beaten into submission by a wearing, tearing body attack. His father, manager, "Pa" Stribling, asserted his son's chances were dimmed after the fourth round by a recurrence of neuritis in his left arm, first brought on by a rib injury a week before the fight. The Stribling left, he said, was almost useless in the last half of the battle.

KRUSE DEFEATS G. KOTSONAROS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 28. (A. P.)—George Kostonaros, Hollywood heavyweight wrestler, suffered his first defeat in Portland last night, when he was unable to come back for the third and deciding fall in his match with Bob Kruse, Oswego, Ore., after taking the first fall with his pet sawing headlock in 13 minutes, 27 seconds.

When they returned for the second round, Kruse demonstrated effectively an offset for the Greek's deadly headlock saw. It was a butt in the stomach with his head. After much rough wrestling, Kruse finally got a punishing wristlock on his opponent which he was unable to break. Kruse took the fall in 36 minutes, 39 seconds.

ALLEN, WASHINGTON, DRAW TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Feb. 27. (AP)—Dell Allen, 147, LaGrande and Buddy Washington, 115, Postello, fought 10 rounds to a draw in the main event of the American Legion boxing card here tonight.

Al Laughs Over Quack Cures for Pitching Arms

By AL DEMAREE
Former Pitcher New York Giants There's as much humbug about trick cures to cure sore arms as there was about Tom Sawyer's and Huck Finn's enchanted systems for getting rid of warts. And most of these auto-cures don't work.

"Lefty" Tyler and a lot of other pitchers had their teeth pulled out, figuring it would help their teeth were gone they discovered that their arms were no better off after all.

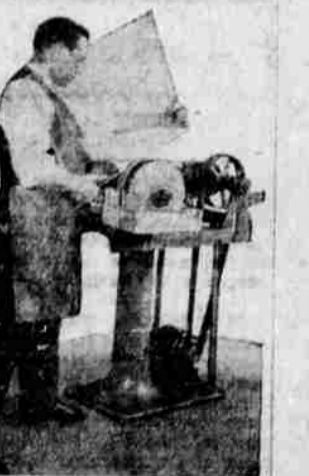

Ed Holley of the Montreal club sprang the one about the bee cure. He claimed they cured up a fellow's bum arm once by getting some bees and letting them sting him on the elbow. The joint swelled up, and then after the swelling was gone, the arm was supposed to be restored to its former effectiveness.

DOG WILL AID IN SEARCH FOR I. GILBREATH

SEATTLE, Feb. 28. (AP)—In an effort to prove the abilities of a dog where human effort has failed, A. T. Sanderlin, dog trainer, will leave Seattle with Dawn, a German shepherd dog of Roseburg, Ore., where the dog will attempt to take up the scent of Ike Gilbreath, Riddle logger who disappeared a month ago. The dog recently found the body of a man who had been missing for a week.

INTEREST LIGHT ON WOOL MARTS

BOSTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—There is little more interest in 64s and finer fleeces wools and manufacturers are bidding slightly under 45 cents in the grease for Ohio and similar grade wools of this quality. The asking prices of 45c however, appears to be generally firm. More favorable reports from the Australian markets this week stimulated a little better tone for FL.

10,000 GALLONS ALCOHOL DUMPED IN WHISK

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 28. (AP)—The wreck of a freight train near Terry today proved no tragedy to residents of that vicinity. Soon after the train had plunged over a bank, men carrying nails, cups, pans, and even washbasins began swarming to the scene. Ten thousand gallons of alcohol had been dumped into the ditch by the accident. The joy was short-lived however, as the alcohol caught fire.

SLAYER WOULD TAKE OWN LIFE

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (AP)—Tony Stella's great desire is to die—but not in the electric chair. Stella made his third attempt at suicide within a week at the detective bureau last night, slashing his wrist with a piece of tin. When arrested a week ago, he begged officers to let him run, so they could shoot him down. After his arrest, he went on a hunger strike.

BOMB DAMAGES CAFE

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (AP)—The second bomb within three days exploded in the restaurant of Mrs. Margaret Sheppard last night. Woodwork was torn out and windows broken, but no one was injured. A more powerful bomb exploded at the same restaurant early Monday morning. Competitors are blamed.

"I light a Lucky and stay slender—"

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES
"IT'S TOASTED"

Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.

"Luckies have helped me win the laurel crown of my musical career—singing in opera. Stage presence demands a slim, youthful figure. Rich foods cannot tempt me. I light a Lucky and stay slender. The toasted flavor of a Lucky soothes the craving for goodies. Then, too, a Lucky never irritates my throat. Even, after smoking many, my voice is still clear."

HOPE HAMPTON

The modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skilfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

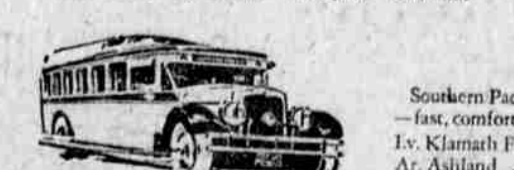

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.
