Darr Punches Way to Victory Over "Spark Plug" Boyd; Jack Breedlove Knocks Out James

After weathering a dangerous first round, Orville Darr, Spokane heavyweight, pounded, slugged and wrestled his way to a decisive victory over "Spark Plug" Boyd, Aberdeen, in the ten round main event of last night's Legion card, held in the Memorial building.

It was nearly curtains for the big Washingtonian in the opening canto. A wild overhand swing caught Darr along the side of the chin, a sliding left hook slipped him on the ankle of the leg, and two hard fists clung deep into his midriff.

Darr shook out the cobwebs, regained his equilibrium and sufficiently recovered by the end of the round to jar Boyd to the heels with a short, straight right to the jaw.

Darr Comes Back
Thenceforth it was all Darr to the seventh round. With an assortment of left and right hooks, straight punches and overhead rights, the Spokane heavyweight was in the lead at all times. Boyd frequently would break through with a terrific right to the face, one of these toward the end of a round staggered Darr from crown to foot—but Boyd could not upset the huskier and heavier lad.

As the third round neared a close, Boyd fell back from a rush to the ropes. As he hit the ropes he bounded forward like a rubber ball only to be met by a fierce straight left that made his knees buckle, followed by an avalanche of rights and lefts to the head. The bell saved him.

Boyd Wins Support
"Spark Plug's" ring antics, his gameness and his toughness, brought him increasing supporters as the fight wore on. Taking heart in the eighth round the Aberdeen boy staged a comeback. Talking a "line streak" to his opponent, he held him even in the eighth and ninth rounds.

But in the final lining, the younger, stronger and heavier man again took the lead. Towards the end of the tenth he caught Boyd with lefts and rights to the head and sent him reeling and half falling to the ropes. Following up like a tiger Darr punched him groggy. Another minute of the final round and it might have been a knock-out.

Breedlove Wins
Jack Breedlove's technical kno-how over Bob James in the fourth round of their scheduled six round semi-wind-up, exemplified the triumph of "brain over brawn." Against a stronger, older and tougher opponent, the young Bend welterweight cut his man down with the precision and effectiveness of a faller in the woods. At the outset of each round James would charge out with dire destruction in his eye. A few short jabs to the face would make him pause, and then a swift right to the side of the head would make him stop. From then on until the end of the round he would be a punching bag.

With James on the verge of a knock-out in the fourth canto, Referee Ed Arthur mercifully stopped it.

Warm-hearted fans donated $65.50 to Ed Huffman, fighter, who was to have met "Steamboat" Jackson in the special event. Huffman is ill with pneumonia.

Harrington Wins on Foul
Wilbur Harrington, Chiliquin Indian, who substituted for Huffman, won from Jackson on a foul in the fourth round of their special event.

Late Start May Be Asset for Tire Town Boy

By AL DEMAREE
Former Pitcher New York Giants

The unsettled and scrambled state of the heavyweight situation is realized when one considers the enthusiasm that has greeted the victory of Max Schmeling, the "German Jack Dempsey," over Johnny Rizzo and the fine showing of K. O. Christner (in point of axe, anyway) against Jack Sharkey.

Schmeling is looked upon as a sound prospect among the heavyweights, and probably the best bet among all the new ones. The big German has never disappointed the cash customers yet in this country whenever he performed.

K. O. Christner is 33 years old, about the age Fitzsimmons was when he "kayode" Corbett at Carson City. He has been married eleven years and has a son 9 years old and a daughter of 6.

Jack Sharkey's recent indifferent victory over Christner, the Akron, Ohio, boy, did not greatly hurt the latter's chances of ultimately having a great deal to say as to the final disposition of Gene Tunney's discarded title. He has been fighting only a year or so. That's a lot in his favor. He has been fighting before he began, and hasn't been weakened by taking too much pounding. Heavyweights seem to be better when they start late.

THYE WINS ON FOUL; EDWARDS DISQUALIFIED

PORTLAND, Ore., March 7. (AP)—Ted Thye, Portland, won on a foul from Billy Edwards, Kansas City here last night in a rough wrestling match. With a fall apiece and the match depending upon the third fall, Edwards kicked Thye in the stomach while the latter was on the canvas. Referee Rutledge promptly awarded the match to Thye. Edwards took the first fall with his knuckle headlock in 23 minutes, 29 seconds. Thye made short work of the second fall with his wristlock, taking the fall in six minutes, 49 seconds. They had been wrestling eight minutes for the final fall when the foul came.

In a half hour preliminary, Pat McCarthy, Boston, and Chet Wiles, Portland, each took a fall for a draw.

CIRCUIT COURT CASE DROPPED

A case which has been pending for years, finally met its "waterloo" this morning when Judge W. M. Duncan dismissed the case of Earl Ritchie vs. H. E. Hauger on the ground of lack of prosecution. James B. Bacon appeared on behalf of Mr. Hauger.

Bill Reinhart Will Be Coach for Backfield

EUGENE, Ore., March 7. (AP)—Bill Reinhart, Oregon varsity basketball and baseball coach, has been appointed backfield coach of the Oregon football team by the executive council of the university. Reinhart has coached basketball and baseball at Oregon six years and has had charge of Fresh football team several seasons. He will replace Eugene Vidal, former West Point star and All-American halfback at the position under John J. McEwan, head coach.

McEwan has announced he will coach an All-American eleven scheduled to play an east-west football game in New York City December 14, this year. He was granted permission to coach the eleven by the executive council.

The East-West game will be under the supervision of the New York American Legion. McEwan will be at liberty to choose his players from the entire western section of the United States. The eastern coach probably will be Nante Roekke of Notre Dame.

HEAVEN'S BELLS

MOSCOW, March 7.—The biggest bell in Europe, the Tsar Kolokol, or "king" bell, has been converted into a chapel. The bell was cast in 1653, and weighed 198 tons. A fire in 1737 destroyed its supporting beams, and the bell crashed to the ground. Then some one thought of cutting a door in the metal, and presto, a church bell had become a chapel.

Specialists who have made a study of the road problem estimated that from four to four and one-half billion relocations (1 relocations equals $0.231) will be required during the next few years to put Germany's highways in proper condition.

GILMAN TELLS OF EXTENSION

mutually beneficial to these sections.

Judge Gilman did not know how soon the railroad case would be decided.

The interstate commerce commission will first send questionnaires to proponents and opponents of the proposed line," he said. "These questionnaires will reveal the arguments for and against the proposed extensions and, in fact, will show the trend that will be followed at the commission hearing.

"Our survey crews are now assembling and work is beginning to determine what route will be taken south toward Lookout."

Judge Gilman was asked whether or not his company preferred a common user arrangement over the Southern Pacific's Mode; Northern railroad as far south as Cornell.

"We asked to build an independent line, even as we did in the Bend-Klamath project," he answered. "Just how my company feels about the matter of common user, I do not know."

The Great Northern official declined to commit himself on the question of freight rates.

"Any questions in connection with that angle of the situation must be answered by the freight department," he said.

SURVEY WORK TO BEGIN SOON

Work will soon be under way on the survey of the proposed 80-mile extension of the Great Northern railroad from Klamath Falls to Lookout Cal., at which point, the proposed line would join the Western Pacific railroad.

Colonel E. C. Mears, assistant chief engineer in Klamath Falls attending to arrangements, and members of the two survey parties are beginning to straggle into Klamath Falls where they will be assembled and sent out on the job.

Colonel Mears who made an inspection of the line was forced to return to Klamath Falls by a roundabout route when his car rolled down in the mud in the vicinity of Lookout.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR CARRYING REVOLVERS

Charge of carrying concealed weapons was to have been preferred this afternoon against Luther Samuelson and Marzie Brown, arrested several days ago in Eugene as suspects in the Parks Grocery store robbery.

The two men were brought back to Klamath Falls and have been incarcerated since.

WOMAN SLAYS HER DAUGHTER

ST. LOUIS, March 7. (AP)—Crazed, presumably by worry over the suicide of her husband, Mrs. Lena Hawkins, 42, shot and killed one of her daughters and wounded another while they slept in their home here this morning. She then turned the revolver on herself, but all the bullets had been discharged.

"By Joe! it's good to smoke Luckies."

Felix Count Luckner

"Lucky Strikes? By Joe, yes. Let me tell you. I was cruising in my raider in the South Pacific. It had been damp, rainy weather and every bit of tobacco we had on the ship was mouldy and could not be smoked. We began to be desperate. The men were—what you call—grouchy. Along came an American ship. We captured her and after taking the captain, officers and crew aboard my raider and finding comfortable places for them to stay, I and my officers went over to the captured ship to see if there was anything aboard her that we wanted. We searched her. And what do you think? Under the cushions of a seat in the captain's cabin we found 500 packages of Lucky Strikes! I tore off the end of one and lit it and filled my lungs with it, and By Joe, I was a man again. We had enough for all the crew and we were all cheered up and we all became friends once more. By Joe, I was sorry to sink that American ship that had brought us those smokes, Lucky Strikes, they are wonderful, and my Countess, of course, wishes a fashionable, slender figure. She smokes Lucky Strikes when she is offered fattening sweets. And my life has always been an active one and I must be trim and fit. I love to feel what you Americans call 'peppy.' So no sweets for me. Give me a Lucky Strike instead. By Joe, it's good for us to smoke Luckies."

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.
