"TIGER" CLINE BEATS WALTER CLEGHORN IN GREAT RING BATTLE

San Franciscan Slugs His Way to Victory; Daley Kayoes Randell, Sielaff Knocks Out Tanner, Monroe Outpoints Magallanese and Jackson Takes Martin

Outweighed eight pounds, and seven years older than his tough opponent, "Tiger" Johnny Cline, victor of two ring battles, slugged, hooked and slugged his way to a decisive victory over Walter Cleghorn, Seattle Eskimo Indian, in what was perhaps the greatest main event ever staged in Klamath Falls, last night at the American Legion Memorial hall before a packed house.

Instead of weakening as the bout progressed, "Tiger" Cline grew stronger. In the closing salvo he was fresh, while Cleghorn, bleeding and slightly groggy, hung on desperately.

Took Body Punishment.
Cline assimilated some terrific body punishment from the game, clever Eskimo, but it apparently didn't faze him. He simply dashed Cleghorn with an assortment of sizzling left and right hooks, straight jabs and pulsating shifts. One hand had just as much dynamite as the other. One minute he would be leading and jabbing with his right, the next he would have his left out in front.

There was not a slow second in the fight. It was a battle from first to last with both boys grimly determined to win—as a matter of fact, Cline was in control before the fight over reports that some Portland fans were betting Cleghorn would knock him out; he confided in the sporting editor that he would put ever last bit of energy he possessed into the fight in an effort to either win by a decisive decision or knock out his man.

At the outset of the battle Cleghorn started out for the body. He landed some terrific blows in the midriff and mixed in a number of lefts and rights to the head. His famous "leaping left" looked good, but did not show up as well against Cline as had been expected.

Cline Opens Up.
As the bout progressed, Cline, secure in the belief he could take the Eskimo's punches, would occasionally throw all caution to the winds and rush his man across the ring to the ropes and then pummel him with a swift barrage of jarring rights and lefts.

In the sixth round one of Cline's vicious hooks caught Cleghorn alongside of the jaw and jarred him. Cline followed up his advantage and "chugged" in blow after blow to the body and the face.

The Eskimo came back like a whirlwind in the seventh and had Cline hanging on—it was Cleghorn's round by a mile. Cline took the ninth by a shade and the tenth by a wide margin.

The bout was not one-sided; in fact it was a fight between two perfectly matched fighters. Another clash and the outcome might be different. If the boxing commission would match them again, every fan at the fight last night, and all his brothers, fathers and cousins, would pack in to see Cleghorn and Cline stage another ten-round main event. Cleghorn weighed 146 pounds, Cline 155.

Handell Kayoes.
Mike Daley, Pellean City middleweight, knocked out Billy Handell in the first round of their scheduled six-round semiwindup. Handell substituted for Johnny McCoy who had to fight a semi-windup in Portland. However, apparently it made little difference, as McCoy was also knocked out in the first round of his Portland fight.

Referee Ed Arthur received the plaudits of the crowd when he waved Handell from the ring as he got to his feet. Just a split second too late. Daley floored the Seattle man with a stiff punch to the jaw; Handell came to about the count of seven and was in the act of arising when the ten count tolled off. But his knees were still on the floor and Arthur insisted he was out.

Joe Sielaff made short work of Ted Tanner in the four round special event. A short left hook to the jaw dropped the Klamath boy on his face for the proverbial karo.

Monroe Wins.
Outside of the main event, the best fight of the evening was the second preliminary between Frankie Monroe and Pete Magallanese, Filipino, bantamweights. Monroe outpointed the game islander in a bout which was a fight from first to last.

Monroe outweighed Magallanese and his weight told as the fight progressed.

"Steam Boat" Jackson outpointed luck Martin in the first, four round preliminary.

The biggest fight crowd that has attended bouts in years jammed into the Legion Memorial hall.

English Trees Just as Easy For Wild Bill

WILD BILL MEHLHORN

By AL-DEMAREE
Former Pitcher New York Giants

Walter Hagen started quite a merry melee when he left "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn off the Ryder Cup golf team of American professionals.

Whether "Wild Bill's" proclivity to climb trees and yell advice and encouragement at the slightest excuse had anything to do with his omission, Hagen has not said. But the fact remains that he now has "Sir Walter up a tree."

All Bill has done since he found his name missing from the Ryder Cup list was to win the El Paso open with a record slashing 271, a 277 record card for the Texas open, and finished up with a win in the South Central Open.

This Ryder Cup list is a funny thing at that. I was talking to Willie Klien at LaForsse, Fla., the other day, and he said he was on the team one day and off the next. Now he doesn't know whether he's on or off. So maybe "Wild Bill" will have a chance to climb some trees in merry old England after all.

Shivering causes contraction of the muscles and like exercise it can increase the appetite.

CLEVELAND TO BE FAR BETTER BASEBALL NINE

Indians Much Improved By Additions of Strong Players

By BRIAN BELL
NEW ORLEANS, March 21. (AP)—Baseball wise Indians who compare the Cleveland Indians of 1929 with the 1928 edition declare the club has been improved more than any other outfit in the American League. However, this diagnosis, if correct, will not necessarily insure the Red Skins a high place in baseball for they had more room for improvement than most of the other clubs.

There seems no reasonable doubt that manager Roger Peckinpaugh's remade team will offer a far bolder front than he was able to present last season. His infield has been strengthened by the addition of the little but rugged Jackie Tavener and transfer of Joey Sewell to third base, and a much needed punch in the outfield has been supplied by the addition of two promising recruits and an established star. Dick Porter and Earl Averil have shown indications of living up to their minor league reputations and Bill Falk, the former Chicago White Sox, can swap base hits with most of the Major League batsmen.

No radical changes have been made in the battery forces but Jim Zinn who has pitched good ball for several years in A. A. baseball will have a chance to see if he can do half as well higher up.

Luke Sewell, junior of the famous Sewell Brothers, and Glenn Myatt will do the catching with Grover Hartley, a veteran who is listed as a coach, acting as emergency relief unless General Manager Billy Evans finds a likely prospect unattached.

Zinn and Ken Holloway, late of Detroit, seem to be the best of the new pitchers on the staff but Wesley Ferrell, who was farmed to Terre Haute, is back evidently to stay with an even better fast ball than he had last spring. Verne Underhill, another farm hand, probably will make the grade this time.

BABE ANDERSON KAYOES DUFFY IN 3RD ROUND

OAKLAND, Calif., March 21. (UP)—Babe Anderson, San Jose middleweight, knocked out Jimmy Duffy of Oakland in the 3rd round of a scheduled 10 round main event here last night. Duffy had just knocked Anderson down for a nine count when the San Jose boy rose and slipped over the final punch to Duffy's jaw.

Huron, S. D.—Billy Peirrolle, Fargo, N. D., knocked out Jose Gonzalez, Cuba, (2). Eddie Danjeleon, Huron, outpointed Kid Lester, Omaha, (4).

NEW YORK, March 21. (UP)—Ray Miller, the blonde Chicago lightweight who meets Jimmy McLarin from the far coast, in a return 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night, possesses perhaps the most deadly left hook in present day pugilism.

It was with this devastating punch that Miller cut an artery under McLarin's left eye in their first exchange out in Detroit last November. Weakened from the loss of blood, McLarin was not allowed to answer the bell for the eighth round and the first knockout of his career was credited against the baby-faced Irish boy.

Ignoring an offer of $22,500 to meet Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, at the dedication of Chicago's new $7,000,000 stadium, Miller agreed to give McLarin an opportunity to wipe out the only K. O. against his record.

Regardless of the outcome of this second match with McLarin, Miller is quite likely to face Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, in a title bout at Detroit or New York this summer.

ACCORDING to Senator Arthur Capper's Weekly this has been a long, lean winter in New York and especially for stage folks out of a job. He claims that one actor answered an advertisement for a "Little Eva." "Any experience in this part?" asked the casting agent. "Twenty years", answered the applicant.

MYERS BEATS TARRO MIKAYE

PORTLAND, Ore., March 21. (AP)—Bob Myers, Portland, light heavyweight wrestler, took two out of three falls from Tarro Miyake, Jiu Jitsu Japanese exponent, here last night, in one of the cleanest matches seen here in some time. Myers took the first fall, coming out of a Japanese wristlock to clamp on a short arm scissors in 45 minutes 29 seconds. Miyake gained the second fall in 12 minutes, 3 seconds with a Japanese body slam, tossing his opponent to the mat until he lay prone. The final fall came quickly. Myers, after seemingly being out from some fast Jiu Jitsu work, came suddenly to life and went after Miyake with a series of Karate-like flying reverse headlocks and after four trips through the air, Miyake succumbed. The time was 4 minutes 21 seconds.

SLEEPING POWDER FATAL

PORTLAND, Ore., March 21. (AP)—The victim, it is believed, of an inordinately large portion of sleeping powder, Mrs. Edna Erman, 32, beauty shop proprietor, died at a homebased last night in the Riverdale moorage. An autopsy was ordered.

GOVERNOR SAYS HE IS HONEST

much of the fire of the governor's political enemies. They charged she dominated the governor's office and dictated much of the state's official business.

The governor, declaring that attacks on her were inspired by "disappointed political joblessmen" refused to discharge her. After he was suspended and shortly before his trial opened Johnston accepted Mrs. Hammonds' resignation.

On the witness stand, he told the court he previously had declined to discharge his secretary because rumors, circulated by political enemies, had inferred his relations with her were improper. This charge included in the purported articles of impeachment voted by the attempted session in 1927, was not renewed, and, for this reason, Johnston said he felt justified in accepting the woman's resignation.

Johnston was unimpressed as the deciding vote was cast against him. He sat, gazing at the ceiling, apparently not hearing the ing, hands clasped in front of judgment of the court.

SCHOOL PLAY IS PRESENTED

First presentation of the Riverside school operetta "Peter Rabbit" was made at the Fremont auditorium on Wednesday afternoon when school children crowded the auditorium.

The second public showing for adults and children was this afternoon. Again Friday night the operetta will be presented at the auditorium.

Those who attended the matinee yesterday declare the work of the chorus and principals splendid. It is predicted that the house will be sold out for both evening performances.

WEALTHY MAN SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

OAKLAND, Cal., March 21. (AP)—David A. Barnett, wealthy San Leandro manufacturer, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, was sentenced to Folsom penitentiary today for kidnaping five-year-old Eliote Windfelt. He was given an indeterminate sentence that may extend to twenty years in the discretion of the state prison board.

Tom Loughran Works Out in Private Room

CHICAGO, March 22. (AP)—Tommy Loughran, debonair light heavyweight champion who risks his crown against Mickey Walker a week from tonight, had Chicago's boxing gentry guessing today.

After giving several public training exhibitions in a loop gymnasium, Loughran suddenly retired to private training yesterday without notice, precluding considerable speculation. No definite reason was given for the switch.

Several boxing critics believe he is having a difficult time in trimming his poundage from 182 to the necessary 175 pounds; others expressed the belief he was attempting to develop a secret punch, while many believed he was chary of Jack Kearns, Walker's astute manager, who has been around the city several days in advance of his fighter.

Walker is not expected to arrive before Monday. He is training in the east.

Consolidation Bill Will Not Go to Courts

SALEM, Ore., March 21. (AP)—As far as state officials are concerned there will be no court action to test the Bell-Schulmerich consolidation bill affecting state institutions of higher learning. It was said yesterday after a conference between Governor Patterson and Frank J. Miller of Albany, member of the board of regents of normal schools. The governor said that if such a suit were started it would come from some person who is not connected with the state government.
