

G. N. ANNOUNCE RADIO PROGRAM

Exploration of Missouri Valley Will Be Theme Monday Night

The exploration of the Missouri River Valley by Pierre de La Verendrye in 1738, who was searching for the over-riding short route to India is the theme of the "Empire Builder" program for Monday night.

Verendrye was the first white man to tread the soil of the present state of North Dakota, and Monday night's program will show how the great agricultural development of this state during the last two centuries had its beginning in a diversified crop practice of the Indians.

Another feature of the Great Northern's program will be the Indian songs by Juliette Gaudier De La Verendrye, a direct descendant of the French explorer. She has a mezzo-soprano voice, studied under Vincenzo Lombardi, a teacher of Caruso and sings to the accompaniment of Indian tom-toms.

Monday night's program, which is sponsored by the Great Northern railway, will be broadcast from the following stations between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, Pacific coast time: KFL, Los Angeles; KGW, Portland; KPO, San Francisco; KGO, Oakland; KOMO, Seattle; KIQ, Spokane.

HENRY JOYAX TALKS OF KLAMATH COUNTY

The following article from the Oregonian will be read with interest:

For more than three years Henry Valentine Joyaux has been at Klamath Falls, and he is still marveling at the growth of that place. It is as though Aladdin is rubbing his lamp, and at every rub there is a new dwelling, or building, or railroad, or something like that. There just doesn't appear to be any end to the way things are growing. The population is increasing so rapidly that the housing problem is a matter for concern. An apartment house, costing $100,000, with all the modern innovations, is one of the improvements, and the First National bank is planning the erection of a building of its own next year. The Weyerhaeuser outfit is developing a regular town of its own outside the Falls, and this means more workmen and their families. In short, Mr. Joyaux is convinced that Klamath Falls has the world by the tail and is destined to be a great and populous city with all that goes with it. Mr. Joyaux, registered at the Imperial here, is here as a witness in a Klamath murder case.

N. C. & O. ROAD WORK PLANNED

ALTURAB, Cal., March 23, (A.P.)—S. H. McCartney, general manager of the Nevada, California & Oregon railway, announced today that about $1,000,000 will be spent on that line between here and Wendell this summer.

About one-third of the amount will be spent for shops here at the junction of the line from Klamath Falls. The remainder will be spent on sidings and trackage.

Railroad observers of Klamath Falls state that the N. C. & O. improvement program is to raise the standard of that line to the standard of the Modoc Northern railroad which will connect with it.

PETITION FOR LAW LIBRARY

Thirty-six Klamath lawyers today signed a petition requesting the county court to establish and maintain a law library for the convenience of the Klamath bar and Klamath courts.

The court took the matter under advisement.

The petition cited the decided need for such a library and pointed out that it would expedite and facilitate trial of cases.

MUSIC WILL BE GREAT FEATURE AT CONVENTION

That Klamath Falls citizens will be given a real musical carnival during the Oregon State Elk's Convention which is to be held here July 17 to 20 is assured, according to Johnny Houston, chairman of the music committee.

Believing that music is the life of any convention, the general committee has set aside $1500 for that purpose.

At the present time Mr. Houston is negotiating with more than a dozen bands and drum corps, and it is certain that a large percentage of them will be in attendance for two or more days during the convention to compete for the cash prizes which will be offered.

In addition to the organizations competing in the contests, there will be one and possibly two official bands which will be on duty at all times during the convention.

To determine the prize winners, the number of appearances which the contestants make, will be taken into consideration, and it will be necessary for all of them to appear in the grand parade on the last day of the convention.

In addition to the bands and drum corps, the committee plans to have soloists and a quartette which will be used for special numbers during the convention.

The Treasure Chest is open

In it was a

GENERAL ELECTRIC ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR Model G40

IN place of diamonds, gold, and finely wrought silver that might have tumbled out when the great Treasure Chest was opened, there stands revealed a thing of greater value still—the new small-family, All-Steel General Electric Refrigerator, Model G-40.

Into this new model have been put the efforts of the scientists and engineers of General Electric Company; the same group of men who perfected the sealed-in mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator. This new achievement of the research laboratories marks the greatest improvement during the past 30 years, in the design and construction of household cabinets.

It's all steel, with electrically welded joints. Bronze hardware is bolted onto the steel. Black faced door edges . . . self-closing latch . . . gliders to protect linoleum . . . these and many other features are built into this new General Electric product.

This new small-family model makes electric refrigeration possible in every home. Its price is remarkably low. Only a small down payment is required. The balance can be paid conveniently over a period of time. Just a few dollars a month will do it.
