DOUBLE MAIN EVENT WILL BE HELD APRIL 5

Daley Will Meet Warncke; Breedlove vs. Billy Church

There will be no "has-beens" on the next fight card, which will be held at the Legion Memorial Hall Friday, April 5. Every boy who performs in the 24 rounds of fighting is on the up grade, anxious to add one more victory to his string.

It will be a double main event embroglio in which Mike Daley, the Pelican City fighter, and the only Klamath pugilist who has whipped the gaff and kept winning all the time, will fight Frankie Warncke, the big-eared, imball fighter from Portland who, among other things, has a decisive victory over Willard Norion, Eugene Warncke also knocked Jack Crisp, Chillicothe Indiana, out in the fourth round of a recent main event in Lakeview.

"Simply can't hold Mike down," said Tex Bickerstaff, promoter today. "He has done everything we have asked him to. He knocks over everybody he meets, so he's entitled to a main event showing."

Billy Church, who has a fine record on the Pacific coast and Jack Breedlove, clever and hard hitting Bend boy, clash in the other half of the double main event.

It will be probably Breedlove's hardest fight in his career. This baby faced boy from Bend won the plaudits of the crowd in his last appearance in Klamath Falls when he cut down a heavier opponent—the stagger type—cleverly and effectively in four rounds. He won by the technical kayo route.

Frankie Monroe, bantamweight, who spent the dope bucket in a recent Klamath card, by outpointing the fast Pat Magallanes, will show again in a fight with Joe Valencia, fast Algonia Mexican, who showed so well against Harold Wright the other night in Chillicothe.

The referee in that Chillicothe fight ruled that Valencia should have a draw, but the two judges gave the nod to Wright.

Johnny McCoy, Seattle, who was to have fought a semi-wind-up with Mike Daley the last fight card, will finally arrive in Klamath for a bout with Steamboat Jackson.

McCoy ran into hard luck in Portland when he pitted him against Frankie Forbes, Los Angeles scrapper. Forbes, now a main eventer, knocked McCoy cold in the first round.

McCoy is a willing boy but he ran up against something too good.

BOWLING

In the stakes shot held at the Klamath alleys Sunday afternoon, with 24 entries "Locky" Patton was returned winner, with a total of $20 for four games.

Bill Webb finished in second place, with 764, and "Old Pop" Strong, from Chicago, finished in third place, with 743.

Though the Automotive league goes into action, with the Chrysler Motors vs. Tempair Nash and Bahlger Ford Motor vs. Acme Garage.

Judge Not Only Owner-Manager of Ball Club

IF SOME OF THOSE BIRDS KEEP MISSING MY HIT AND RUN SIGN THEY'RE GOIN TO FIND THEMSELVES IN CONTEMPT OF COURT—AND HOW!

By AL DEMAREE

Former Pitcher New York Giants Judge Emil Fuchs, the genial president and manager of the Boston Braves, cannot understand why his declaration that he would manage his own ball club from the bench, created such a furor in baseball circles.

"The idea of me sitting on the bench and running my ball club on the field may appear strange at first," said the Judge the other day, "but when you analyze the situation there is no startling innovation that I am creating."

"Wilbert Robinson is president of the Brooklyn team, and also acts as manager. Sam Breadon, the St. Louis Cardinals' president, all ways seems to have a lot to say about his ball club on the field. Barney Dreyfus of Pittsburgh does not confine all his activities to the ball club's downtown offices. President Baker of Philadelphia and President Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox have always influenced their managers on the playing field."

And come to think of it, the Judge isn't far wrong. At least he isn't hiding behind a mahogany desk and managing his ball club on the field. He's got the courage of his convictions, and is going to sit on the bench.

VETERAN MACK DISSATISFIED WITH PLAYERS

PHILADELPHIA, April 1. (AP)—Returning from Florida where for the last five weeks he had watched the Philadelphia Athletics prepare for the season's American League race, manager Connie Mack today was far from optimistic over the baseball outlook.

He said he was disappointed, dismayed and somewhat disgusted with his club.

"The team hasn't shown me anything all spring," he added. "You can't expect to win all the time, but there is a way of losing and still looking rather good."

S. ZORILLA AND MORGAN CLASH THURSDAY EVE

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Tod Morgan, who holds the junior lightweight championship, and Santiago Zorilla, who will try to lift it, furnish this week's fight feature. They meet Thursday night at Los Angeles.

The fight originally was scheduled for Tuesday night but a boil on Morgan's leg forced a postponement until Thursday.

On Friday night in Boston, a pair of big fellows, Otto Von Porat, Chicago noseman, and Johnny Blako, Pudgy Cleveland, meet in the week's most important heavyweight fray.

PITCHER DIES IN AUTO CRASH

MERCED, CAL., April 1. (AP)—Pitcher Clyde L. Farmer, Naevon 21, of the San Francisco Mission baseball team, was killed Sunday in an automobile accident. Naevon was enroute from Turlock to Fowler with T. J. Patton of Turlock. While driving at high speed at a point four miles south of here, according to authorities who investigated, Naevon attempted to pass another machine without sounding his horn.

The other car at the same moment swerved to the left to pass a preceding car without sounding its horn, Patton told officers. Naevon's car was crowded from the highway and plunged into the ditch where it overturned. He died shortly after reaching the hospital. His companion was uninjured.

"Our flight has a dual purpose," Pilot Mamer said, prior to his departure from the Ford factory. "We want to stimulate aviation interest in the northern states to an even greater pitch than it is now.

"We believe this can be done best by showing the public the largest and best transport airplane manufactured in the United States today. We hope every person within 100 miles of each place we land will come and inspect the plane."

RESIGNATION OF MITCHELL IS DEMANDED

WASHINGTON, N. D. (U P)—Debate over the action of Charles Mitchell, president of the National City bank, and director of New York federal bank, in coming to the rescue of the crashing Wall street market a few days ago, continued in Washington today.

New demand for the resignation of Mitchell was made tonight by Senator Morris, republican, Nebraska, who said Mitchell's sympathies were "with the gamblers in Wall street."

Mitchell's action in lending $25,000,000 to stock market operators while the federal reserve board was seeking to check speculation, brought demands here that he be ousted as a director of the New York institution.

Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, and one of the authors of the federal reserve act, urged Mitchell's resignation from the federal reserve bank. Others, including Borah and King, are studying the situation, with a view to action during the special session of congress.

KNOWS HIS BIBLE. JAMESVILLE, Wis., April 1.—In spare moments used while clerking in a grocery store here, Mark J. Goodger, of Delavan, has read the Bible through three times, counting each verse and chapter. Each time he counted, his total came out the same—1,159 chapters, 31,373 verses and 7,766,992 words.

Adventurers Depart For Visit With Trader Horn

By Sam Love United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 1. (UP)—Old Trader Horn, stroking his whiskers and sipping his brandy down in Johannesburg, South Africa, became responsible tonight for the queerest party of adventurers that ever set out from the port of New York for the dark continent.

With their lips compressed into "do or die" lines and their eyes fixed unwaveringly in the general direction of Sandy Hook, a motion picture unit of 19 Hollywood citizens sailed in the Ho de France to immortalize the old boy's tall yarns in celluloid, and on the original grounds.

Cables apprised Alfred Aloysius Smith—as Trader is known to his bank account—of the take-off of the expedition. But since he was probably rolling up his pants leg to show curiosity-seekers in Johannesburg that place where the mangled lion chewed him, his reply failed to arrive before the start.

Old Trader and his winning ways will be portrayed in the Congo picture by Harry Carey, who was one of the three picture players included in the expedition. The other two are Duane Reynolds and Edwin Booth. The remainder of the party included Director W. S. Van Dyke, who made "White Shadows of the South Seas," an assistant director, a script girl, 12 technicians and a press agent. What anything having to do with Trader Horn needs with a press agent is one of those Hollywood mysteries.

Nevertheless the press agent and the rest of the California entourage expect to mosey down the Red Sea and reach Mombasa, the chief seaport town of British East Africa, about April 27. After which they will journey overland to Entebbe, on the shores of Lake Victoria, and strike off into the bush.

The story they will film in these surroundings was prepared for the screen from the original "Trader Horn" by Dale Van Kory, formerly of the New York staff of the United Press. Entebbe is right on the equator, which splits the main street of the town like a traffic line. Exhibiting considerable acumen, scenarist Van Every handed his script to director Van Dyke and regretfully remained in Hollywood.

Besides sound recording equipment to pick such roars of the jungle as immediately preceded the chasing of Trader Horn's left leg, director Van Dyke is carrying a short-wave radio set and incidental equipment including: One ton truck, one package of safety pins, smoking tobacco, "Sailors' Friend" sewing kit, Little Gem shoe repairing outfit, snake bit, antidote, baseball bats, rubber quills, ink, haneuffs, fly swatter, insect sprays, chicken wire, fly wire, mosquito netting, crutches, two typewriters for the press agent, a refrigeration plant and several elephant guns.

College Girl Calls for Aid

MONTREAL, April 1. (AP)—A wrong telephone connection and a sobbing girlish appeal "come and get me, mother," today constituted the vague and only clue unearthed after a week of frantic search for 18-year-old Barbara Pitcher, McGill university student and daughter of a prominent Westmount family.

Police said that about nine o'clock the night of March 27, when Miss Pitcher disappeared the telephone rang in the house of H. W. K. Hale, Westmount. Mrs. Hale answered and heard a sobbing voice, evidently that of a young girl, saying "Come and get me, mother." Mrs. Hale's daughter was at the time a patient in the Montreal General hospital and thinking it was she Mrs. Hale asked excitedly, "Where are you?"

"I don't know where I am but come and get me, oh come and get me," came hysterically over the phone and the connection was lost.

Mr. Hale was told by the hospital that it could not possibly have been his daughter who telephoned. The next morning, when it became known that Barbara Pitcher was missing he communicated with her family. The information was withheld by the police until yesterday.

The Pitcher telephone number is Westmount 2181 and that of the Hale residence Westmount 4128. Police believe that the slight similarity of numbers might have resulted in a wrong connection.

SEEK ARREST OF LAW MAKER

The reports about Representative Morgan included statements that Mrs. Hall, also a passenger on the Cristobal, had demanded free entry and when this was refused had been assured by Mr. Morgan that when he got back to Washington he would "attend to the matter."

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Representative Morgan, of Ohio, who regards as a closed incident the alleged finding of four bottles of liquor in his baggage when he returned recently from Panama, emphasized his position today, by putting this notice on his office door: "To press reporters: Nothing more to say."

Morgan has denied that liquor was found in his luggage and customs inspectors at New York have declared with equal emphasis that four bottles were found and were returned to the Oltman.

chapter, was in charge of the survey in the damaged area. Andrew Miller, about 45 years old, was brought to a hospital at Poplar Bluff in a critical condition. Others injured included Hiram D. Pharr and his wife, a Mrs. Smiddy and son and a Mrs. Mouton.

Peter Hulo, a farmer, was expected to die of injuries suffered when his home near Mineral Point was demolished. Six or seven other persons in that vicinity were reported injured.

The roof of the Missouri Pacific railroad station at Mineral Point was blown off and ten or more houses reported wrecked. Scarcely a building escaped damage in the business district of Doniphan, 35 miles southwest of Poplar Bluff. The only person reported injured was Mrs. Frank Bennett, wife of a restaurant proprietor. The entire town was thrown into darkness.

The top of the Ripley county court house at Doniphan was blown off and the walls cracked beyond repair. The Methodist, Baptist and Holiness churches were damaged.

KLAMATH BASIN LIVESTOCK ON WAY TO MARKET

Eight carloads of what are said to be "the fattest beef cattle to be shipped to market from Klamath Basin this year" were loaded yesterday at Midland and were billed to John Allen and Sons, San Francisco.

Dave and Dan Liskey, prominent cattlemen in the Swan lake district, were the owners of the cattle, which brought extra good prices. Approximately 200 head were in the shipment and the owners will receive about $160 for each animal. Average weight of the animals was 1295 pounds. The Klamath cattlemen will receive approximately $23,000 for the shipment.

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life, Truth, and Love are the realities of divine Science. They dawn in faith and glow full-orbed in spiritual understanding. As a cloud hides the sun it cannot extinguish, so false belief silences for a while the voice of immutable harmony, but false belief cannot destroy Science armed with faith, hope and fruition" (p. 298).

PREPARATIONS OF IRRIGATION SEASON START

Work is under way cleaning main ditches of various Klamath irrigation projects in preparation to the beginning of the irrigation season. H. D. Newell, superintendent of reclamation said today.

The head gates of the main irrigation canal will be opened either the latter part of April or the forepart of May, depending on moisture conditions during this morning.

at banks opened their semi-annual session with the announcement that there had been no arrangement for a joint meeting with the federal reserve board itself. There was no comment from any of them on reports of division of opinion over methods of curtailing the speculative trend of the market.

Some members of the board, however, say that much of the cause of the trouble in which the board finds itself in dealing with the money market has arisen because the board has asserted the right to dictate discount rates.

It was indicated that the board would not act upon the suggestion of Senator Glass of Virginia, that Charles E. Mitchell of New York be asked to resign as a director of the New York Reserve bank for his action in supplying $25,000,000 to the market when the call loan rate shot up to 20 per cent last week.

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Stock prices broke $1 to nearly $10 a share at the opening of the New York stock exchange today on the resumption of business after the three day holiday. Several blocks of 5,000 to 15,000 shares changed hands. Selling was influenced by a variety of factors, including Senator King's proposal for a congressional investigation of stock speculation, renewed agitation for an increase in federal reserve rediscount rates and speculative disappointment over the brokers' loan statement last week which showed a drop of only $144,000,000 as against an increase of $156,000,000 the week before.
