Drink Fruit Juices

A prominent physician of this city today suggested that one very useful way of insuring plenty of fruit acids is by the liberal use of fruit juices. Fruit drinks have a cooling effect on the system and should be used often. Fresh lemon or lime juice added to the sweeter foods brings out the flavor and gives added value. The juice from stewed rhubarb in combination with orange juice makes a delicious beverage. The carbonated fruit drinks used either alone or in combination with fresh fruits, are also wholesome and may be used freely. Eat lots of fruit and be healthy," he concluded.
