"FOLKS! You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet"

JUST NOW IT SEEMS AS THOUGH EVERY other picture is either a murder mystery or an underworld story—have you noticed it? We like them—you like them—they hold your interest every minute. But for a change we have for you two of the biggest hits ever shown; both so wonderful, yet so entirely different that they are truly an "embarrassment of riches."

"SHOW BOAT"—THE VERY NAME SPELLS glamorous romance and beauty; the romance and beauty of the mighty Mississippi in the years when it was a great water highway. It is this rich, romantic flavor of "Old Man River," this melancholy, haunting breath from its deep, mysterious waters which makes this a notable picture. Millions have read the book and millions have wished to see and hear the stage production, (which, by the way, cost $7.70 per seat.) We are able to have everything that the book and the stage offered—and more—on the talking, singing screen. All the joyous excitement—all the alluring emotion and romance—that came to the river people with the first strains of the calliope and the cry "Here Comes the Show Boat!"

AND WHAT WORDS WILL TELL YOU ABOUT "The Singing Fool"? It is just a simple story, as Al Jolson himself says; just a story about a singing fool who made good—of a faithless wife—of failure, heartbreak—it's just life itself. The beautiful thread of the love of a father for a little, idolized son runs through the picture—the love of the singing fool for his "Sonny Boy." I have seen it twice—it is the sort of a picture that you go back again and again to see. It is a story to laugh and cry over and to treasure forever after; but the story and the players are but the settings for amazing Al Jolson, who says to you that until you have seen "The Singing Fool"—"FOLKS! YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN' YET!"

"SHOW BOAT" AT THE PELICAN AND "THE Singing Fool" at the Pine Tree—what a wealth of entertainment! When we can show you pictures like these, it is a real joy to be in the theatre business and we feel that we are living up to our ideal of "selling happiness."

EAT WELL—AND EXERCISE WELL

Enjoy Your Food, Sweetened to Taste, and Take Exercise

"It is important to eat and exercise enough," a famous health authority recently told us in reply to a question about the benefits of exercise and diet.

"One of the most vital facts in this connection is that both food and exercise must be enjoyable if people are to get the most out of them. Exercise that is a duty, and the eating of foods simply because they are thought to be healthful, are only partial benefits.

"Enjoyment tends to improve the whole physiology of the body. That is why I advise taking the kind of exercise which people really like, and that is why I suggest having foods prepared in the most palatable way."

Speaking in more detail on the appetizing preparation of foods, this famous authority said, "Sugar is the ideal flavor for nearly all the foods people eat. It modifies fruit acids and makes fruits even more palatable. It heightens the enjoyment of vegetables, cereals, beverages and some meats. People who use sugar intelligently not only increase the enjoyment of their meals, but add to the value of their daily diet."

It is important to eat a variety of healthful foods every day. It is equally important to have them prepared in a way that appeals to your appetite. A sprinkling of sugar adds to the deliciousness of most foods. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.
