DENNY LENHART KNOCKED GOLD IN 5TH ROUND

Warneke and Huffman Stage Great Battle; Forse Loses

Thirty-three pounds defeated Denny Lenhart, Seattle, game and clever heavyweight, last night in the ten round main event at the Legion Memorial hall. After sharp shooting Earl Ritchie, Klamath Falls, for five rounds, Lenhart was finally cornered and knocked cold with a terrific blow to the solar plexus.

The story of the fight can be told in figures. Lenhart weighed 171 pounds; Ritchie tipped the beam at 204 pounds, giving the Klamath mammoth a 33 pound weight advantage. The difference in weight was too great and the two men should never have been matched. Lenhart looked like a will o' the wisp alongside the burly and bulky Ritchie. It wasn't fair to Lenhart because it early became apparent that however clever he was, it was inevitable he would be cornered and knocked out before the bout was over. Nor was it fair for Ritchie, because there is small glory in stowing away an opponent 33 pounds lighter.

Lenhart Fights Well

Lenhart put up a great fight as long as it lasted. His only chance was sharp shooting, and he did that with exceptional skill. He kept circling Ritchie, keeping the huge boxer off balance and piling up a commanding lead in points. In a few rounds Ritchie was bleeding copiously and in the third was momentarily staggered by a barrage of lefts and rights.

But it was just a question of time. Ritchie stalked his opponent from one corner of the ring to the other. Finally in the sixth he sunk a right and left to the body that slowed up Lenhart enough for the Klamath heavyweight to sing that terrible lullaby to the body. Denny sank to the floor, writhing in agony. He was not revived for several minutes.

Such weight mismatches should not be allowed. Occasionally a fighter can go out of his class and win, but they are few and far between. Lenhart is a better fighter than Ritchie, but was beaten by weight; that punch that stowed him away last night may soften him for future fights in his own class.

Fine Card

The rest of the card could not be improved on. Frankie Warneke, the "Flying Dutchman," and Ray Huffman staged one of the greatest ring battles ever witnessed in a Klamath ring. The fast waltzers fought six rounds to a draw. The decision apparently pleased the fans. However, if shades were to be called, this writer would have given the nod to Huffman—but the margin was so slight it was only fair to call it a draw.

It was a battle of wits as well as fists. Both boys were ring-wise. Huffman scored heavily in the early part of the fight by backing Frankie into the corner and chugging in short body punches with both hands. But in the fourth the German jumping jack viciously fought himself out of one of these whirlwind attacks and shook Huffman to the heels with a two-fisted counter attack to the chin. Ray slowed down for the rest of the round. A re-match of this pair would be a great drawing card.

Murphy Wins

In another six-round bout, Jack Lewis would have won from Spud Murphy. Spud was so weary from hitting Lewis with everything but the ringpost, that he could hardly lift his hands in the sixth round of the special event. Lewis's face looked like a chopping block but he kept moving in for more and more until Murphy was almost discouraged. Murphy, of course, won the decision.

Earl Forse, clever southpaw lightweight, met a tartar in Eddie Eddelman. The veteran sailor took the first two rounds by a wide margin but Eddelman came back like a whirlwind in the third and in the last canto had the ex-navy and army champion on the verge of a knock-out. One pile-driving right made Forse's knees buckle. He started to sink to the floor but recovered and came back for more. It was a good fight and also would be a good re-match.

The touted left hook of Jack O'Brien of San Francisco failed to materialize and the curly headed little buzz-saw, Frankie Monroe, knocked him colder than a shark's eye in the second. O'Brien dropped twice before the "coup de grace".

It was a fine card throughout—even the main event, although the outcome was never in doubt, was a thrilling affair.

LAKEVIEW AND LOST RIVER TO CLASH SUNDAY

Baseball fans of Klamath county will witness what promises to be a fast game Sunday, when the Lakeview team plays Lost River in this city.

Lakeview so far has won two pre-league games from Bonanza by scores of 12 to 3 and 11 to 8. Recently the Lake county team defeated Alturas at Alturas in the league opener by the score of 12 to 9. Again last Sunday the Lakeview team defeated Alturas at Lakeview with a score of 11 to 2.

Ray Murray, ex-University of Oregon athlete, led Alturas down with three hits and struck out ten.

Dorris and Lakeview are tied at the top of the Eastern Oregon-California league with two wins each and no losses. Dorris has defeated Lost River by the scores of 11 to 8 and 3 to 1. Alturas and Lost River are in the cellar with two losses each.

Alturas plays Dorris at Dorris on Sunday.

The game here will be played at the fair grounds. A large delegation is expected from Lakeview.

EXACT STATUS OF BABE RUTH STILL MYSTERY

Famous Slugger Out of Game for Indefinite Period of Time

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—Lying in a sick-bed, George Herman Ruth, mighty man of swat, held the undivided attention of baseball's millions today.

A victim, according to official pronouncements, of "muscular heart trouble," the great home run slugger of the New York Yankees will be out of the game for an indefinite period.

The more optimistic of Ruth's intimates said he would be back in the Yankee's lineup within a week or ten days; the more pessimistic inclined to the belief that Ruth would not don his uniform again for a month and a half at least and possibly for the rest of the season.

No Definite Word

Certainly there appeared to be no basis for early reports that Ruth's baseball career was over. Efforts to learn the Babe's exact condition were hampered by the wall of mystery with which his illness has been shrouded.

Ruth himself was quoted as declaring he would be "as good as ever" in ten days. Yankee officials, informed by the club physician that muscular heart trouble was not necessarily a serious ailment, thought the Babe would be with them in a week or ten days.

Out For Week

Ruth has been out of the lineup almost a week. After he had hit his tenth home run of the season last Saturday, he left the game and later went to a hospital for an x-ray to determine just how serious was the cold with which he had been suffering for some time. Announcement was made that one lung was congested and that he would be out of the game for a week.

Ruth has been out of the game on frequent occasions during his sensational career but this is only his second long lay-off because of illness. In 1925 he was taken ill during the spring training season and was taken to New York, unconscious from an attack of influenza and indigestion.

PLAYER AWARD PLAN WILL BE CEASED, REPORT

CINCINNATI, June 8. (UP)—There will be no valuable player award in the National League after the close of the present season, league owners, meeting here today, decided.

The American League some time ago voted to abandon the awards.

President John A. Heydler left Cincinnati last night for St. Louis to present Jim Bottomley of the Cardinals $1,000 in cash as the most valuable player in the National League during 1928.

No action was taken on the proposal to change the league rules relative to the distance necessary for a home run.

Heydler issued a statement showing that 249 home runs had been hit in the National League this year as compared to 180 over an equal length of time last year. In the statement he showed that a majority of the 69 additional homers had been hit by the comparative youngsters, Klein, Hurst and O'Doul of the Phillies, Frederick of Brooklyn and Ott of New York.

BELANGER GETS MILLER IN 2ND

CALGARY, Alta., June 8. (AP)—Charley Belanger, light heavyweight champion of Canada, stopped Blackie Miller of Australia in the second round of their scheduled 15-round bout here last night. Miller was on the floor in bad shape when his seconds tossed in the towel.

Joe Boyd, Seattle, outpointed Billie Barton, Calgary, in six rounds.

Belanger leaves here today for San Francisco, where he is scheduled to meet Ace Hudkins on June 28.

MORRISON JOINS ROBINS

CINCINNATI, June 8. (UP)—Wilbert Robinson, president-manager of the Brooklyn Robins, here for the meeting of National League owners, today announced that Johnny Morrison, former Pirate pitcher, would join his team for a trial, and that Glenn Wright, disabled shortstop, would report to the team here, June 15.

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS

By LAUFER

Back in 1924, Urban Charles Faber pitched 20 games, of which he lost 11. The experts went out and bought him a lily.

But Charley Comiskey decided to let the boy leave just a few more baseballs, so in 1925, Red was in there again, this time winning 12 and losing 11.

The experts went out and bought him another lily, but Charley Comiskey decided to let him play one more season. The aged and creaking spitballer rewarded his boss by throwing 15 winning ball games out of 23.

Last year the experts bought Urban his third consecutive crepe and wreath when he was able to win only 4 out of 11 games. They sang a fitting doxology for "one of the grand old men" of the game, ordered their blue serge suits with crepe-raw hands and got ready for the funeral. But Comiskey decided to let the venerable bone pile toss the irrigated spheroid just one more year.

The other day a bunch of young slayers from Detroit invaded the pineapple district at the lower end of Lake Michigan, and Al Capone being out of town, decided to choose up and play sides with a bunch of boys Charley Comiskey had lined up from here and there.

Mr. Comiskey, by way of having his little joke on the visitors, announced the pitching selection as Urban Faber. And Faber, by way of carrying out old Commy's prank, gave the young Tigers from Detroit one great big hit in nine innings of baseball.

Red came to the Sox in 1914 from Des Moines. He has won 216 games (during his nine lives since 1888) while losing 155, up to the season of 1928, which looks as though it's going to be a good one. Last year the big boy from Cascade, Iowa, won 13 and lost 9. He is one of the few remaining pitchers in baseball allowed to spit upon the apple.

RECORDS FALL IN TRACK MEET

Century Mark of 9.5 Seconds Tied By Two Men

STAGG FIELD, Chicago, June 8. (UP)—One world's record was broken, another tied, and one meet mark was shattered today in the preliminary events of the eighth annual national collegiate track and field meet.

The new world mark was established by Pete Rasmus of Ohio State, who threw the discus 159 feet 1 1/2 inches to better the old record of 158 feet 1 1/2 inches, held by Lud Howe of Southern California.

One of the greatest fields of sprinters ever gathered "burned up" the track in the 100-yard dash.

Two men, George Simpson, Ohio, and Eddie Tolan, Michigan, tied the world record of 9.5 seconds and two others, Cy Leonard, Texas Christian, and Claude Bracey, Rice Institute, ran the distance in 9.6 seconds. Four heats were required to cut down the fields and all favorites qualified.

Tolan, a slow starter, was third at the 50-yard mark and a good 100 feet in front at the finish.

Washington, team favorite to win the meet, tied with Ohio for first place in number of men qualified—each placing six. The others ranked as follows:

Illinois 5, Chicago 5, Southern California 5, Michigan 4, Stanford 4.

The new meet mark was created by Carl Rothert, Southern California, who put the shot 59 feet 3 inches, 2 1/2 inches better than the old mark held by John G. Flanagan, Teacher college.

However, Kuck still holds the world mark of 52 feet 3/4 inches. The present recognized world mark for the century is 9.6 seconds, but Tolan ran the distance in 9.5 in Evanston, Ill., two weeks ago and it is believed this mark will be allowed.

That the wind was not of great help to winners today was indicated by comparatively slow times in the 220-yard dash and both hurdle races.

Ed Mueller, Oregon, threw the discus 159 feet 10 inches but was unfortunate enough to foul and his mark was not allowed.

WANTS PROBE

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Investigation by the senate naval affairs committee of the reasons why Admiral T. P. Mauger was relieved from active duty in 1927 and why he has not been reassigned to active duty was asked today in a resolution by Senator King, Dem., Utah.

"RED RAIDER" KNOCKED COLD IN 5TH ROUND

EUGENE, June 8. (AP)—Bob Judd of Portland knocked out "Red Raider" of Yakima in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night. Raider put up a poor fight.

Kid Pendergrass, Roseburg, and Orlando Farmer, Eugene, went four rounds to a draw. Tony Odell won over Max Massong, Yakima, in the six-round semifinal. Red Handsaker took a decision from Babe McVay of Triangle Lake in the four-round curtain raiser.

THE RULE IS!

By GEORGE SARGANT Golf Professional

The Situation

The player above is taking his stance. In addressing the ball he accidentally moves it. What, if any, penalty is attached thereto?

The Rule is

If a ball in play moves after you have grounded your club in addressing it, you shall be penalized one stroke whether your club has actually touched the ball or not. This penalty is also imposed if the ball, while in play in a hazard, moves after you have taken your stance. If you or your caddy accidentally move a ball in play, even while searching for it, the penalty is one stroke. No penalty for accidentally moving ball on driving tee.

STOP FOR POLE—I DEAD

TORRANCE, Calif., June 8. (UP)—Harry C. Gardsby, of Shelby, Ohio, died in the local hospital from injuries received when the automobile in which he was riding with Jack Crosby, of Los Angeles crashed into a telephone pole. Crosby was expected to recover, physicians reported.

Trading has been directed at a few democrats who, it was thought, might weaken in their support of the debenture plan, which Hoover opposes. Democratic Floor Leader Robinson, who returned today from Arkansas, immediately began to wield his influence to hold party debenture advocates in line. All but four democrats voted for the debenture when it was approved by the senate.

Robinson sent out a call for a party conference Monday at which he will seek to rally democrats behind the debenture plan and also will outline his own position regarding a congressional recess. Robinson said today he would oppose fixing a date for vote on the tariff, a condition of summer recess, until republicans agree to give full consideration to amendments that democrats plan to offer.

When the farm bill arrived in the senate today it immediately became the pending business. It will be taken up tomorrow.

Tientsin's import trade in 1928 was valued at $95,000,000. In 1927 this Chinese city imported material at a value of only $91,000,000.

Thirty-one cities in the world have more than 100,000 telephones.
