The Modern Mill Supply House

A Service Station for Industries

Keep Plants Running by Supplying Their Daily Needs

The Connecting Link Between Manufacturers and Users.

Our supply house is a made-to-order institution. It was built from the day of its opening upon the needs of the industrial plants and other buyers of supplies and equipment in this section. We are particularly well organized, therefore, to supply your daily needs for practically everything in tools, supplies and equipment. If an item is not in stock, our close connection with manufacturers enables us to get it for you promptly. Let us relieve you of the annoying details of miscellaneous purchasing. We can and will save you time and money. Just as you put your car in the hands of a good service station for necessary attention, put the purchasing of your plant in the hands of experienced buyers of supplies and equipment. Our stock plus our service, will keep your plant running.
