CONSTRUCTING NEW BUILDINGS IN ALTAMONT

General Development in Suburban Section Is Apparent

buildings are going up continually on Altamont tract, one of the thriving subdivisions southwest of the city. The location is ideal for building homes.

From a scenic standpoint the section cannot be beaten. The broad level floor of the valley stretches into the far distance.

Shasta in View

Rugged rows of tree-clad hills give rest and limit to the view, while far to the south, placid old Mt. Shasta in partial eclipse by intervening eminences, rears its head into the azure heights.

From the Altamont neighborhood, smoke columns from a score of mills may be seen rising toward the sky, indicating industrial activity, payrolls and prosperity.

School in Building

Among the new buildings in course of construction now is the addition to the Altamont school. So rapidly is the population growing in that section of the city the four rooms to accomodate the grammar grades were found inadequate, hence the additional space.

When the fall term opens, additional departments will be available. These will consist of four more classrooms, one teachers' room and an auditorium.

To Finish by August

Charles D. Withers, contractor, has the charge of the work and is putting up a building that is unusually attractive. Gabled wings extend from the old building while the auditorium is covered with a rounding roof which blends into the general design in a pleasing manner.

Mr. Withers stated yesterday that the work is being completed ahead of schedule and the interior will be in the hands of plasterers next week. Everything will be finished and ready for the school furniture early in August the contractor said.

Many New Homes

Among the new houses in the Altamont section, completed or building, is one owned by C. C. Shoun, a mechanic who recently arrived here from Boise.

Capt. Walter Abbey of Battery D, owns another new residence nearby and now has carpenters putting up a garage as an additional convenience.

Earl Mayo is another newcomer to the Altamont tract. He has erected a small house on his acre lot and plans a fine new residence some time in the future.

Has Small Menagerie

W. Harsey, contractor and carpenter living on the Altamont tract, is building a group of houses in the city, the residences being constructed for Ike Larkey, logging contractor.

A private menagerie is maintained on the property of L. G. Dean as he has several boys who are raising chickens, ducks, rabbits and geese.

Among the more imposing residences on the tract is that of Jack Nelson. He is a lumber grader by trade but is now employed as dock foreman at one of the sawmills.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dowling have moved in from the Shaw-Bertram plant and built a new home on the Altamont tract and like their new location.

Cows Ravish Nursery

A band of cows broke in and sponged a high priced feed off Everett O. Nord, nurseryman on the Altamont tract a few nights ago. The lowly kine indulged in a banquet royal as they ate up shrubs, trees and garden truck to the extent of $110.

After spending several years building up Salem and the suburban districts of Portland, O. M. Van Tassell has arrived in Klamath Falls and will identify himself with the growth of this city.

To Build and Sell

Mr. Van Tassell builds and sells. He completes his own buildings from basement to ridge pole. His first effort here is a new garage home on Altamont acres and he will begin on a fine new residence as soon as he has housed himself in his new location.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gourley are other new residents in the Altamont section while D. E. Cox was found busy yesterday crating and shipping out to his ranch a fine specimen of Durham calf.

Battle Fleet in San Francisco Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (U P)—Twenty-seven ships of the United States navy's battle fleet sailed through the Golden Gate into San Francisco bay late yesterday.

The majestic procession as the warships steamed through the gate, which is a little more than a mile wide, was viewed by thousands of persons who crowded Land's End and the Marina.

At the head of the long file was the battleship West Virginia, flagship, and five other large battleships were directly behind.

STOWAWAY ON AIRPLANE SAD

PARIS, June 21. (AP)—Only one of the Yellow Bird fliers, Armeno Lotti, Jr., accompanied Arthur Schreiber, who stowed away on the plane on its trans-Atlantic flight, to the Leviathan boat train Thursday as he left Paris for the United States.

The stowaway seemed contrite and somewhat anxious. He shook hands with Lotti before the photographers and they kissed each other on both cheeks.

Schreiber said: "I am glad to go home but I am sorry I can't go with a little diffe..nt story."

"I did a fool stunt and I am heartily sorry for it," he said. "The only consolation is I have found such a good friend in Lotti, one of the men who suffered from my foolishness."

"AND I", SAID PATIENT, "WILL OPERATE NOW"

CHICAGO, June 21. (AP)—"What you need," said Dr. F. Siegfried Jackson, examining a transient patient at his office last night "is to have your tonsils taken out. I'll operate tomorrow."

"And I," said the patient, drawing a pistol, "will operate now."

Somewhere in Chicago today there was a man with $210 of Dr. Jackson's money and a pair of tonsils that needed taking out.

IMPERSONATOR LEAPS TO HIS SUDDEN DEATH

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 21. (AP) — Otto Debeney, known throughout Europe as an adventurer and impersonator, ended his career today by jumping from the third floor of a small lodging house. He was dead when picked up.

Debeney passed himself at various times as a son of the late King Leopold, a son of Maurice Maeterlinck and nephew of a cardinal.

One of his most notorious stunts was to decorate an American general with the Rhine forces after the war in the name of the king of the Belgians and American troops were paraded in his honor. The fraud was not discovered for a long time.

SOLON RUSHES TO AID OF SON

TOLEDO, O., June 21. (AP)—Senator Thomas Heflin of Alabama said here today that he is satisfied there is no truth in the charge that his son, James Thomas Heflin, Jr., was under the influence of a narcotic drug while operating an automobile in Washington last night.

"The boy may have had a drink," Senator Heflin said, "but I am sure he had nothing to do with narcotics. Of course, I'll stand by him. I will do everything I can to help him out."

MARRY FOR DIGESTION

BERLIN.—A Berlin physician has investigated stomach ailments and has found that unmarried people betwee the ages of 30 and 50 suffer more from dyspepsia than the married people of the same age. Unmarried folk, the physician finds, have the tendency to bolt their meals, causing indigestion. The married people take their time in eating.

DEATH VICTIM MAY HAVE BEEN QUITE CORRECT

CHICAGO, June 21. (AP)—Casimir Litnickas was slain by blows that crushed his skull. After police found his body they questioned his neighbor, Anthony Kazulio.

"I killed him," they quoted Kazulio as saying. "With a hammer; while he slept."

"Why?" asked Police Lieutenant.

"Because he said I was too old to live. It's a lie. I'm only 27."

"A jury might say he was right, at that," mused the lieutenant.

"You know what the penalty for murder is in this state?"

"What is it?" said Kazulio.

"Death," replied the policeman.

RETAIL PRICE OF GAS RISES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. (AP)—The retail price of gasoline today advanced to 21 cents here following announcement yesterday that five major Pacific coast oil companies had increased the tank wagon prices to wholesalers and large users to 16 cents a gallon.

ADVERTISING?

LONDON.—Along with advice issued by other producers to consume their products and enjoy a happy married life, greengrocers here are urging customers to: "Eat oranges and be happy at home;" "Eat our peaches if you want him to propose;" "Plums for breakfast mean a good day's work;" "A cauliflower a day means a magnetic personality."
