PHILADELPHIA TAKES SERIES FROM YANKEES

Lead Over New York Stretched to Eight and One Half Games

By WM. J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

That hysteria in and about the Yankee stadium now is recent rather than current, and the boys are busy checking up the last result, artistic and financial, the Athletics nipped the champions by a 7 to 4 count before some 55,000 in the fifth and rubber game yesterday, but the really important transaction took place in the counting house. Exactly 154,096 New York fans paid their way in at the gate in three days, making the series a complete victory for Erward Grant Darrow, regardless of what happened to Huggins.

The attendance set a new record for a single series, beating the mark of 177,152 made by the same teams at the same park last September in three afternoons.

The only fly in Mr. Darrow's coffee was the necessity of tendering Mr. McGillicuddy a check for $46,024 before the armored vans escaped to a downtown bank with the loot.

Not Decisive

Although the victory of the Athletics by three games to two was, of itself, hardly decisive, the lead of the Mackmen was stretched to 8 1/2 games, and the impression spread among the metropolitan fans that here, indeed, were the coming champions. The current Athletics have in the face of Yankee fire a confidence lacking by their immediate predecessors, and ability to stand up before the Huggins is all that was missing in the Mackmen last year.

The final game was a triumph for Howard Ehmke, the veteran right-hander, although George Earnshaw had to be called in the eighth to put down a Yankee uprising which threatened to assume serious proportions.

The series ended without the appearance of Eddie Rommel, the knuckle ball expert, who never seemed to fool the Yankees.

Southpaw Loses

The defeated pitcher yesterday was another left-hander, and the third Yankee southpaw victim of the series—Eddie Wells. The Birmingham boy's customary wildness showed, but the Messrs. Simmons and Fox made up for this little oversight with successive home runs in the fourth. Mr. Mule Haas so caught the spirit that he hammered Wells' rescuer, Tom Zachary, for a four-batter within the lot in the eighth.

It was Simmons' eighteenth, Fox's thirteenth and Haas' ninth. Simmons might have had an earlier home run in the second when he limped palpably on a triple because of his bad ankles. Now that the Yankee series is over, Simmons may remain out of the game to rest his nether limbs, but the real misfortune for the Ruppert-Huggins combination seems to be that Simmons did not arrive at this decision earlier. Here is what he did to the champions in three days:

Games, 5; at bat, 21; runs, 10; hits, 13; total bases, 30; two-base hits, 3; three-base hits, 1; home runs, 4; runs batted in, 9; average, .619.

Low Gets 20th

Lon Grebig inserted his 20th home run into the proceedings yesterday, placing himself in a tie with Mel Ott of the Giants for the major league leadership. The defeat, coupled with the 6 to 3 victory of the Browns over the White Sox dropped the champions into a tie with St. Louis for third place, but this hardly will last. The Yanks may not be as good as the Athletics, but they remain some better than the rest of the flock.

MacNAUGHTON LOSES TO DOLP

INGLEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Seattle, June 24 (UP)—Frank Dolp, a young man who learned his golf on the Municipal links in Portland, Saturday won Pacific northwest amateur championship after five years of effort in a crushing 11 and 10 victory over Malcolm MacNaughton, also of Portland.

Dolp, western amateur champion, won the match with a steady procession of par holes, while his opponent wandered into trouble on almost every fairway.

In the women's division, Mrs. Vera Ramsey upset the charts by defeating Mrs. S. C. Sweeney, defending champion of Vancouver, B. C., four and two. Her victory was a real upset.

WARNER TRIES BASIN FISHING

Among the recent out of state visitors to spend several days at Diamond Lake was "Pop" Warner, the famous football coach of Stanford university, who made some fine catches, according to word which reached this city yesterday.

The fishing at the lake is reported to be excellent, and the resort is prepared to care for tourists and all other comers. Ahy Klamath residents planning to make a stay at the lake this summer are asked to make their reservations as soon as possible.

The roads between here and Diamond lake are said to be in good condition, and it is expected a large number will motor into the resort today. There is no snow at the resort or on the roads.

Though Johnny Farrell is the open champion he will not draw the biggest gallery in the National Open that starts Thursday.

Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen and Horton Smith will undoubtedly have the majority of the golf bugs following at their heels.

Jones and Hagen will of course have large galleries but it would not surprise me in the least to see young Smith take the play away from them, the first day at least.

The young Joplin, Mo., pro has by his own efforts and the publicity he has received, built up a reputation almost overnight and he is only twenty-one years old.

He is liable to hear Leo Diegel repeat that famous remark concerning Walter Hagen and his gallery with his name instead of the "Hag's."

"Where's your gallery, Leo?"

Antoine is said to have grabbed McCauley by the throat, declaring: "Mac, you can't take me to jail; I'll kill you before you arrest me."

"Let me loose or I'll shoot!" McCauley is reported to have answered, when the Indian bore down on him. McCauley managed to get hold of his pistol with his left hand, steering his car with his right, and then fired twice.

OFFICERS TOLD OF DEATH PACT

SANTA ANA, Calif., June 24 (UP)—A romance that culminated in a "suicide pact," was revealed here today by John L. McClure, Long Beach realtor, in his confession to the slaying of Mrs. Myrtle Wood.

After his confession he requested that he be taken into court immediately to plead guilty to the murder of the woman, whose body was found a week ago behind a bill board at Laguna Beach, near here.

McClure told the police that both he and Mrs. Wood had accompanied him to Laguna Beach last Thursday, and while there they decided to carry out a "suicide pact" that they discussed three weeks ago.

At her request he said he shot her, and then because he did not want his body to be found, fled south to the Mexican border, where he unsuccessfully attempted to commit suicide. He shot himself three times in the head, but none of the wounds were serious.
