SCHMELING AND UZCUDUN READY FOR BIG FIGHT

Leading Heavyweights Will Clash at Stadium This Evening

NEW YORK, June 25.—(AP)—Pete Uzcudun and Max Schmeling, rivals in the season's most important heavyweight fight, have come to the end of their long training grind and are waiting patiently for the bell that will send them forth on the first round of their 15-round battle at the Yankee stadium Thursday night.

With the fight still three days away, sponsors of the annual Milk Fund Charity Boxing show have announced that receipts already have passed the $300,000 mark. Somewhat optimistic forecasts of a "gate" of $600,000 have been made.

Reach Top Form
Both the "German Dempsey" and his Spanish woodchopping rival have reached top form and will take it easy for the next few days at their training camps in Lakewood, N. J., and Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

Despite Schmeling's fine record in this country, the betting gentry persist in placing him on the short end of the betting odds of 6 to 5. They figure that however hard the Teuton can hit he does not figure to stop the rushes of a Paulino who has sampled the hitting capabilities of the best heavyweights in the business without so much as a single wince.

Proponents of the Spaniard figure he will be outpointed for the first few rounds but that he soon will begin to slow the German down and come on to win either the decision or by a knockout, possibly within eight or nine rounds. Certainly distance is an advantage to Paulino rather than Schmeling for the wood-chopper apparently has unlimited stamina. Schmeling has yet to prove whether he can take a steady beating around the body and stand up under it.

Left Hook
There have been rumors that Schmeling has added an effective left hook to his repertoire of punches but that remains to be seen. He has been a one-hand fighter in all of his bouts in this country.

"If I get the boys I want it sure will be a 'pip,'" Joe said and from the enthusiasm which he showed at thinking of the prospective card it should be good.

"I'll wire you if I get them signed tomorrow," Joe stated as he hurried out the door to catch the train.

Four Hits Puts Bat Away With The Moth Balls

By AL DEMARER (Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Baseball and golf are different in many respects. For instance Leo Diegel has a house full of golf sticks which have played him false, while Walter Holke, former big league first baseman, has a house full of bats with which he had great days at the plate.

After Diegel has made three or four bad shots with a club, he discards it. He has enough "putt green" putters to start a store.

Holke, on the other hand, always regarded a good bat as too good to be used again. If he'd get four hits in a game, he'd take that bat home and put it away somewhere. "It's too good to use," he would say.

After a game in which he got three or four hits, you'd always see him leaving the park with his bat over his shoulder.

"There goes Walter with his bat," the other players would say. "He'll put it away in the moth balls."

Columbia's Game Crew Wins National Collegiate Race; Gallant Huskies Are Second

By Alan J. Gould (A. P. Sports Writer)
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25. (AP)—Columbia is the gem of the intercollegiate ocean after the roughest and most disastrous naval battle in the history of the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Down through the turbulent miles last evening the Sons of Little Old New York rowed to magnificent triumph for the second time in three years, capturing the varsity championship of America. In their dazzling wake were strawn the shattered hopes of four of Columbia's eight rivals, chief among them the proud Golden Bears of California, champions of the world until this fateful race.

Old Man River went on a rampage for the crowning classic of the 1929 rowing season, kicking up a disturbance that wrecked the fortunes of all but five of the record fleet of nine eight-oared shells entered in the race for varsity championship honors.

What was forecast as the greatest of all college regattas was turned into a knockdown and drag out battle with the old man, who spared neither champions, nor favorites nor trailers as he swamped one boat after another.

Above all the turmoil, the tragedy and startling events of a dusky evening, Columbia stood out supreme, overcoming all obstacles to beat a gallant Washington crew by three lengths.

The water-logged huskies from the Pacific Northwest, as game as a boatload as ever rowed, yielded to the mastery of New York's "careless oarsmen, but in turn they were eight lengths ahead of another surprise boat, Pennsylvania.

Devereux hooked the mammoth trout on a Wilson wobbler. It took him over 15 minutes to land him. Once the big fish broke water but the rest of the time fought deep and hard.

Paul Dalton and Jack Bowring, who accompanied Devereux, failed to catch a fish.

DODGERS BEAT GIANTS AGAIN

Brooklyn Has Habit of Upsetting McGraw's Plans

By Herbert W. Barker (A. P. Sports Writer)

If they could play the Giants every day, Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Brooklyn Dodgers would be leading the National League instead of languishing in fifth place, only a hop, step and a jump out of the cellar.

However tough the Giants may be for the rest of the league, they're only "cousins" to the Dodgers who beat their Manhattan rivals yesterday, 5 to 2, for the second straight day, the fourth time in their four last meetings and the 5th time out of 13 games this season.

Just when it seems that John McGraw's hirelings are about to go somewhere, the Dodgers come along and decide the Giants have gone far enough.

Cubs Beat Pirates.
If the only other National League engagement, the Chicago Cubs salvaged one game out of the Pittsburgh series, beating the Pirates 4 to 3. Chiefly because of the eight hits Ervin Brame allowed including three homers by Cuyler, Wilson and Hornsby. Brame himself hit a homer to the fifth with one on to give the Pirates a lead that was only temporary. The victory left the Cubs 4 1/2 games and a half back of Pittsburgh, a game ahead of St. Louis and two games ahead of the Giants.

Rain halted the other scheduled league game between Boston and Philadelphia with the Braves leading 2 to 1 in the third inning.

In the American league, the Philadelphia Athletics increased their lead over the idle New York Yankees to nine full games by noting out the Boston Red Sox. For results use Herald Class Ads

Strain Upon Truth

The strain upon truth in advertising becomes too great when the public is told that other cigarettes enjoy the toasting process. It takes three years to produce Lucky Strike's flavor. This unrivaled cigarette is a blend of finest tobaccos from each of three consecutive growths—the cream of the crop. Then comes the secret toasting process which in the opinion of 20,679* physicians makes Lucky Strike less irritating than other cigarettes. This exclusive heat treatment also purifies the tobacco and adds a touch of nut-sweet flavor—appetizing, delicious, different—the earmark of one of the world's most popular products.
