"DIRTY LITTLE HANDS"

His teacher says that I must scrub
His dirty little hands,
And so I always scrub and rub, Obeying her commands.

But somehow on the way to school He picks up dirt galore,
And when he's reached there, as a rule, He should be scrubbed once more.

When he sits down to dine at night I'm always filled with shame;
His scrubby hands are just a sight,
At luncheon, it's the same.

But, oh, I know there'll come a day When I'll look back in vain To little paddies soiled this way, And wish them here again.

Too soon the time will come when he Is careful how he looks, He won't be thinking then of me,
His daddy or his books.

But now, his heart is sure alone,
And mother understands,
And holds them closely in her own—
His dirty little hands!

When this wonderful rose month of June ends tomorrow night, there will be added some thousands of brides, as in all previous June, and with these, this point may be well worth bearing in mind when they enter the married state. Just as every true-hearted girl dreams of the right man, so every true-hearted man dreams of the right woman.

Two halves make a whole, and the quality of each half determines the whole. If a girl drifts along through the sunny days of courtship and the first days of marriage in a golden haze of self-satisfaction, dreaming only of what love, in the form of her lover and husband is going to lay at her feet demanding more of the man than she does herself.
Then—she must not wonder why the man with whom she mated does not round out the glorious whole of her dreams. The results will be fully as disappointing as if she demanded less of the man than she has done of herself.

Shower Honors Mrs. L. D. Gass Wednesday Eve

Mrs. L. D. Gass and Miss Hazel Noble were honored with a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening at the Johnston home on High street.

Mrs. W. I. Tingley, Miss Anna Mae Johnston and Miss Clara Jarvis were hostesses over the daintily appointed shower.
The rooms were attractive with low bowls of roses and garden flowers.

Mrs. Gass stood before a "wishing well" from which the numerous and beautiful gifts were taken.

During the social hours, the guests hemmed tea towels and made linen holders for the bride.
Dainty refreshments were served at 11 o'clock.

Invited guests were Mrs. J.
Percy Wells, Mrs. Chester Chandler, Mrs. M. G. Wheeler, Mrs.
L. K. Phelps, Mrs. William Ma-gall, Mrs. Ernest Helken, Mrs.
Calvin Peyton, Mrs. Paul Evans, Mrs. Jack Hackett, Mrs. E. C.
Stucky, Mrs. F. L. Wemett, Mrs.
J. J. Steiger, Mrs. C. H. Barnart, Mrs. Luther Washburn, Mrs. George Barnhart, Mrs.
Henry B. Perkins, Mrs. Phillip Schroeder, Mrs. Charles Griffith,

Picnic Luncheon Held on Thursday

Bethany circle of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a delightful picnic beneath the shade trees at Lake Shore Gardens on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Grant Logan Black, president of the Woman's auxiliary was the honored guest.

Close to 40 enjoyed the delightful afternoon. Games were enjoyed by the children.
The picnic luncheon was spread on the green grass.

Miss Johnston Will Wed This Sunday Evening

Of predominant interest in Klamath Falls social circles is the wedding of Miss Anna Mae Johnston, daughter of Mr. J. C.
Johnston, prominent resident of this city and Mr. Herbert Jefferson Scott, New York City, son of Mrs. C. M. Scott of Seattle, Wash., which will be solemnized on Sunday evening, June 30th at 7 o'clock at the Johnston residence, 79 High street.

Rev. D. V. Haight of the First Presbyterian church will read the service.

Mrs. L. D. Gass and Mr. John Johnston, brother of the bride-elect will be the attendants.

Mrs. George McIntyre accompanied by Mrs. Burge Mason at the piano will render two selections preceding the ceremony.

The vows will be spoken in the living room before an improvised altar beautifully decorated with ferns and mid-summer flowers.

Miss Johnston, one of the most prominent young women of this city will wear a gown of flesh georgette, a Jenny model. Her bridal shower will be of roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Gass, matron of honor will be gowned in a frock of beige georgette.

Little Helen Janet Hoessel of

Miss Ramsby to Become Bride of Mr. Gillenwaters

Gorgeous mid-summer blossoms intermingled with fronds of fern will lend their beauty to the wedding at St. Paul's Episcopal church tonight at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Myrtle Elizabeth Ramsby, only daughter of Mrs. C. J. Martin Ramsby becomes the bride of Mr. Theodore R. Gillenwaters, prominent young attorney of this city, son of Mrs. J. W. Gillenwaters of Goldendale, Washington.

Rev. J. Henry Thomas of St.
Paul's Episcopal church will read the service.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr.
Howard Graham will sing "For You Alone."

As the bridal party enters the church, Miss Elizabeth Graham at the organ will play Lohengrin's wedding march.

Miss Ramsby will wear a beautiful gown of ivory satin back crepe with bodice waist and flounce skirt of irregular hem-line. Her wedding veil of white tulle is bordered with a deep flounce of tulle and with a close fitting tulle caught about the forehead with a wreath of orange blossoms. She will carry

Mr. and Mrs. Wirth Returned Home

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Nadine Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allen to Mr. William B. Wirth a fortnight ago, came as a surprise to their many friends.

The young couple were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wirth with Rev. H. R.
McDonald officiating.

Miss Ruth Anderson and Mr.
Raymond Allen were the attendants.

Upon their return home Friday from a honeymoon trip in Washington they were greeted by friends who gathered at the home of Mrs. Wirth's parents at 621 South Fifth.

Members of the Balseger Motor company, where Mr. Wirth is employed, presented them with a handsome chest of silver.

Mrs. Allen, mother of Mrs.
Wirth served the guests dainty refreshments.

THE WOMAN'S DAY

Strong men of the University of Oklahoma have risen up to give co-eds a little light on that old question of whether a man loves a girl for a girl who permits him to kiss her. The answer seems to boil down to whether the co-ed is a highlight of the first time they have dated together, or a bit later, at least the second or third. The undergrads don't seem to recognize any argument at all as to whether he should or should not be kissed eventually.

WHO WANTS IT?

The lady seems agreed, in general, that if the gent had respect for the lady to start with, the kiss made no difference, but that if he hadn't, he'd never have any after that. Most of them seemed to wonder, too, just what "respect" was, and why any girl particularly wanted it.

That seems the real answer.
Yesterday's girl was brought up on the theory that she couldn't live without this male "respect." Today's girl doesn't stop to wonder whether she has it or hasn't.

CASHING IN

Lila Gray Chaplin is traveling around on a vaudeville circuit all because the Chaplin part of her name is printed in two as big type at the first. And here's Marie Rosetta, daughter of the famous Monk, acting in a play based on her father's life. It's more usual to hear of a wife cashing in on her father's fame in this manner than to hear of a daughter doing it. But why blame either? Husbands and sons have been known to do the same. Count Helen, by the way, husband of Millicent Rogers, announces that he is to write a new story of his marriage to the heiress.

COLLEGE GIRL WAITRESSES Chicago has a restaurant in which every employe, from bread slicer to cashier, is a college girl.
The proprietor says that "pleasantness" is the cardinal demand of every employe and that, without that, even a sheepskin cum laude can't save her from being fired?

CLOTHES OF THE FAMED

The most recent picture of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison show the great inventor with an old-fashioned "reefer" about his neck, outflung to the wintry gales, while Mrs. Edison wears an ankle-length skirt and a hat other employes have with the heir.

SHOULD THEY?

As a member of this vast public I have no desire to minimize the importance of "pleasantness." Still, after listening in on some sessions which waitresses and an ankle-length skirt and a hat
other employes have with the heir.

Earl Whitlock's History of Oregon

In 1793 a British subject, Mackenzie, crossed from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific, and explored the headwaters of the Frazier river. The British made much of this in upping their rights to the Oregon territory.

However, an English settlement that was intended to anticipate the Astoria settlement was a little late, not reaching Astoria until July, 1811.

Members of the Balseger Motor company, where Mr. Wirth is employed, presented them with a handsome chest of silver.

Mrs. Allen, mother of Mrs.
Wirth served the guests dainty
refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Wirth will be at home to their friends at 621 South Fifth after July 15th.

IF I OWNED THIS NEWSPAPER—

IF I COULD USE ITS EVERY INCH I WOULD STILL FIND myself cramped for space to tell you all about the wonderful all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing picture, "INNOCENTS OF PARIS," starring one of the world's greatest entertainers, MAURICE CHEVALIER.

IF THIS BOY COULDN'T TALK AT ALL HE WOULD STILL be a great entertainer. And when the talking screen brings you his charming, magnetic voice, pulsing with personality, in one of the cleanest, funniest, greatest human interest stories ever screened, you will know why he "stops the show." From the first moment he steps on the stage you'll be for him—his lovable smile wins your heart. If you don't agree with me, stop at the box office on the way out and the cashier will gladly return your admission. That's a safe bet for us.

GOOD PICTURES HAVE ONE WEEK'S SHOWING AT ALL Market Street houses in San Francisco. BUT, this picture played the California two weeks, was then moved to the St. Francis Theatre and is now packing in crowds every night in its EIGHTH SMASHING WEEK—how much longer San Francisco will demand it no one knows!

AND, INCIDENTALLY, WE KEEP KLAMATH FALLS IN line with San Francisco when we bring you Maurice Chevalier at the same time that he is playing in the Big Town! You have three days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, to see this picture—we know you'll love it! It takes a real picture to give me the thrill this one did.

Russian Melody

From the land of frozen tur-dies, called monarchs and anarchists, comes Miss E. N. N. N.
Russian soprano in the "Around the Summer" program over the Columbia network every Sunday night. The Russian singer feels right at home in the program that features her.

That seems to proclaim her plus and a knock of hair underneath.
It
